NEW CHAMPION.

JEROME TO THE FORE.

New York District Attorney Willing to Try the Case Against "World."

Suggests That Government Give Way to State If Plan Carries.

Letter Expresses Conviction That the Charges Are Very Serious.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The possibility that the Federal authorities may have to stand aside to permit the State and county of New York to proceed against the publishers of the New York World for alleged libel, in connection with the Panama purchase, was made apparent today in a letter written by Dist.-Atty. Jerome to United States District Attorney Henry L. Stimson.

Provided Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of the President, is willing to appear as a complaining witness, Mr. Jerome is ready, the letter states, to bring action at once in the State courts.

It would be useless for him to do so, he explains, if his inquiry is not given precedence over that begun by the Federal grand jury.

"I have given the matter published in the New York World of October 3, 1908, careful consideration," the letter says, "and I am of the opinion that it is plainly a libel upon Charles P. Taft and Douglas Robinson, assuming of course that it is untrue as to the syndicate mentioned therein, and their alleged connection therewith. Under the [illegible] publication is a libel of general importance than is found in most libels. It, in substance, charges that by corrupt and dishonorable, if not criminal means, the treasury of the United States was depleted to the extent of $36,500,000 through the connivance, to give it no harsher description, of some of the chief officers of the State, and that this great sum was divided among government favorites in the world of politics and finance."

Mr. Jerome expresses his conviction that so serious a charge should not pass unchallenged, and that adequate justification should be shown or those making it be properly punished.

"From this point of view," the letter continues, "the Federal authorities, it seems to me, have a distinct interest and a positive duty to perform and from what you tell me it would seem the jurisdiction of the Federal courts is inadequate. There is another point of view, however. While the whole people of the United States have been injured by the publication of much false and libelous matter, the people of this State have received a distinct injury in that one of its citizens, Douglas Robinson, has had false matter published about him in the community in which he lives, and is respected, the direct purpose and tendency of which is to brand him as a dishonorable citizen and dishonest man, and one who was willing to trade upon the honor of his brother-in-law, the President of the United States.

SHOULD BE PUNISHED.

"This offense, I am loath to pass unpunished, or at least without an effort properly to punish it. Therefore, should Mr. Robinson express to me his wish to have an action for criminal libel instituted, I shall institute such action, provided I may do so without an unwise interference with a matter over which the Federal courts have jurisdiction, and in which action has already been taken by the Federal authorities."

He believes the State prosecution should take preference over the United States.

Mr. Jerome's letter is believed by many to augur the suspension, momentarily at least, of the Federal inquiries and the early inception of an inquisition by the State, with Mr. Robinson as its moving spirit.

The Legislature to Investigate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By filing specific charges of bribery, corruption and fraud in the September election campaign on the part of United States Senator Stephenson, State Senator John J. Blaine of Boscobel, leader of the anti-Stephenson men, today induced a majority of the State Senators to vote for a legislative investigation, prevented the Marinette millionaire from securing a majority of votes in the upper house, and placed his re-election in joint Assembly at noon tomorrow in considerable doubt.

The Stephenson forces here are feeling hopeful, but not happy. They fear that the anti-Stephenson men may during the night win some of their men over to the opposition. Stephenson had a majority of five votes only on the ballots taken separately in the two houses today. If he loses more than five votes before the time for the joint ballot tomorrow, he cannot secure the election at that time, and the contest will beyond question develop into a sensational political fight.

LA FOLLETTE'S PROTEGE.

Two years ago Stephenson was elected to fill out the unexpired post of John C. Spooner's term, principally through the efforts of La Follette and his friends. Last summer Stephenson won the Republican nomination to succeed himself for the regular term, after a fierce four-cornered contest, in which enormous sums of money were spent, it was charged by all aspirants.

Every Senator was in his seat when Senator Blaine made his specific charge of the corrupt use of money in the primaries by Senator Stephenson. These charges, sixteen in number, in brief, allege that Stephenson gave his campaign manager, E. A. Edmonds, now chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, in excess of $100,000 and approximating $250,000 for some act done by Edmonds in the primary election; that Edmonds distributed the money to pay other electors; that this money was paid to compass the election of Stephenson; that U. C. Keller of Sauk county received $200 of this money, one Hambright of Racine a large sum, Roy Morse of Fond du Lac $1000; that large sums were paid to electors of Grant county to bribe them; that an attempt was made to bribe Editor Edward Pollock of the Lancaster Teller by offering him $500; that $500 was offered to Lester Tilton of Neillsville if he would become a candidate for the Assembly and support Stephenson, and that Attorneys E. M. Hyzer and Max Sells of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company traveled about the State using their official influence on behalf of Stephenson, and especially to defeat the nomination of E. F. Nelson of Antigo for the Assembly.

IMMUNITY PROPOSED.

Senator Blaine presented a resolution, as a substitute for the Husting investigation resolution, containing, in addition to the provisions of the latter, a provision for immunity from prosecution for bribery for all persons who may testify in the investigation.

A long and exciting discussion followed, Blaine making a spirited plea for investigation. He declared that the Stephenson case was similar to the Clark case in Montana where a Senatorial seat was alleged to have been purchased with money.

The Senate ordered the investigation by a vote of 24 to 9.

Fifteen members of the Assembly today refused to vote for the United States Senatorship. Fourteen of these were Republicans. On the first ballot, the vote stood: Stephenson (Rep.) 66; Neal Brown (Dem.) 16, Jacob Rummel (Soc.-Dem.) 3, S. A. Cook (Rep.) 2, Cooper (Rep.) 1, Esch (Rep.) 1, J. O. Stout, 1; not voting, 15; total, 99.

In the Senate late this afternoon, a ballot for United States Senator stood: Stephenson, 120; Brown, 4; Rummell, 1; present but not voting, 16.

If Stephenson can hold today's strength tomorrow in both houses, a total of 72 votes, he will be elected in joint assembly, as but 67 votes are required to elect.

MARVELOUS SEA TALE.

HEROES OF WRECK HAILED BY CROWDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eugene Lynch of Boston, a passenger who was hurt when the Florida crashed into the Republic, died today. Some hours before he passed away he told the story of the tragedy in which his wife was killed. He said that he and his wife retired early. They had started for a two months' tour of Italy and intended to visit the earthquake district of Sicily before returning home.

It was with great difficulty that Mr. Lynch was removed from the Republic to the Florida, and when it became necessary again to transfer the passengers from the Florida to the Baltic he expressed a wish to be allowed to stay on the Florida, saying: "If I am to die, let me die here."

The others injured in the collision, including Mrs. M. F. Murphy of Grand Forks, N. D., who was most seriously hurt, are reported as recovering in the hospitals here to which they were conveyed.

The landing at the White Star pier of Capt. Sealby and Operator Binns was the occasion for a demonstration today. A big crowd awaiting them, cheered the men heartily, while a score of enthusiastic admirers tossed the men to their shoulders and thus carried them to the steamship offices on the floor above. Here the captain and Binns held a reception, receiving the congratulations of scores of callers, and Capt. Sealby modestly told the story of how he stood by his ship until she sank beneath him.

Capt. Sealby and Operator Binns, accompanied by Capt. Ranson of the Baltic, later went to the White Star offices on lower Broadway, where another great crowd met them.

HERO'S PITTANCE.

It was learned today that wireless telegraph operators receive ridiculously small wages. Men like "Jack" Binns get about $12 a week. They live on the ships as officers and get their board.

The wireless people asked $1000 a year per steamer for the service, to insure them against loss during the dull season, but some of the steamship companies have refused to pay that sum.

Capt. Rospini of the Florida first declined to make any statement as to the cause of the collision, but after a conference with representatives of C. B. Richards & Co., his agents, and Archibald Thatcher, an admiralty lawyer, Richards & Co., gave a statement regarding the collision.

The feature of the statement was the direct charge that the Republic was running at a high rate of speed through the fog. It also refuted reports that the quartermaster of the Florida was to blame, and that the captain struck the man.

ILL REWARD FOR CREW.

The gallant crew of the Republic received a hard blow today when they were notified that their pay stopped at the moment the ship sank. The men had expected at least a small reward for their long hours of hard work in transferring the passengers to safety. The notice posted by the White Star Line reads as follows:

"You men will receive your pay slips on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Your wages will date up to the time the Republic sank on Sunday night. Any of you who need money will be given a small advance by the company. This will be deducted from your pay when you reach Liverpool. The White Star officials are prepared to furnish you with such articles of clothing as you need. The company expects to have accommodations for

BY WALTER WELLMAN.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There are some specimens in Congress and two of them broke loose today in an exhibition of wild and woolly statesmanship. Jeff Davis of Arkansas screeched in the Senate about the money power and other terrible things and Rainey of Illinois, talking about the Panama purchase, howled in the House about William Nelson Cromwell, conspirators, frauds and buccaneers. Neither was taken seriously by anybody but himself. What they said is of little importance except as a curiosity. Both are examples of a style of statesmanship which may still thrive in the backwoods but which, happily, is now almost obsolete at the national capital. It is the statesmanship which consists of fierce denunciation of somebody or something without much in the way of fact or proof to back it up—harangues based largely upon the imagination accompanied by rhetorical violence, physical contortions and more or less sincere championship of the rights and interests of the "dear people." Both of these overheated orators and pawers of the air played the role of tragedians, who succeeded in rousing no other emotion than amusement and no demonstration of approval beyond open laughter or sly smiles.

Senator Jeff Davis was the funny orator. He is a large man with a huge round body which he attires in a long statesman's frock coat. His voice is thin and harsh and when he lifts it high in his well simulated moments of passion and indignation it reminds one of the screeches of Tillman before the pitchfork orator was tamed and subdued by the big stick. Standing in a open space at the rear of the center aisle of the Senate chamber, Mr. Davis paraded pompously to and fro, shaking his fist first at one side of the hall and then at the other, where sat the Republicans and Democrats, wondering and grinning. His topic was gambling in grain, cotton or other products of the soil on the exchanges in New York, Chicago and other centers.

How much influence upon the opinion of his colleagues or the country could a Senator exert who, in all serious, predicts that we are upon the verge of a bloody revolution in America? That is what this wild man from Arkansas did in the Senate today.

"Ah, Mr. President," he shouted, his voice trembling with indignation, "the money power of this government is treading upon dangerous ground. They do not know, or else they don't care, that the people are already ground down with taxation and the weight of government until their backs are most broken beneath its load.

"I would not be an alarmist, sir, but I predict here and now that unless conditions change, that unless the Congress of the United States turns a listening ear to the lamentations of an outraged public, within ten years there may be another Shenandoah Valley, there may be another Gettysburg; the red broom of war may sweep this government as it has never been swept before, and when that day shall break in all its fury, woe to the crowd working the field of legislation that

CONSPIRATORS' TRICK UPON CONSOLIDATION.

Savage and Leavitt Act Without Quorum of Municipal Corporations Committee—Flagrant Irregularity in Report to the Senate.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two more blows against the consolidation of Los Angeles and San Pedro were struck today by Senator Savage when he and Senator Leavitt got together in the Committee on Municipal Corporations and acted favorably on the Savage bills requiring a two-thirds vote for the disincorporation of any city or part thereof, and providing a State Harbor Commission for San Pedro.

The action in committee was a farce. It was exactly similar to that of two years ago.

So far as the bill first mentioned is concerned, it was reported back favorably by less than a quorum of the committee, and the action was flagrantly irregular. There are seven members of the committee, of which Savage is chairman. He chose that one place because of his desire to defeat any and all consolidation plans.

Senators Savage, Leavitt and Lewis were present. It takes four to make a quorum.

"What is it you want, Savage?" asked Leavitt.

The San Pedro Senator produced Senate Bill No. 448, which provides that a two-thirds instead of the present majority vote be required before any city or part thereof may disincorporate or change its boundaries.

SEES CHANCE FOR TROUBLE.

This is aimed directly at that portion of San Pedro north of Fifth street which recently petitioned for an election so that it might exclude itself from the smaller city and consolidate with Los Angeles without waiting for an enabling act from the Legislature. The date of the election has been set far in the future and Savage sees a chance here to make more trouble. If this bill becomes a law there may be no election.

When Savage told Leavitt he wanted the bill passed, Leavitt moved to report it back to the Senate with the recommendation that it do pass, and it was so ordered, Senator Lewis paying no attention to the proceedings.

So two members of the committee of seven fixed it up between themselves to block the consolidation project so far as the bill is concerned.

"What else?" asked Leavitt.

Savage produced the second of his two bills for the creation of a State Harbor Commission for San Pedro.

"I suppose," said Leavitt, "that you want to put this harbor in the hands of the State and keep Los Angeles city from getting it."

"That's the idea," replied Savage.

NEED OF ACTION.

And so Bill and Frank reported this bill back to the Senate, recommending passage. When the report is read to the Senate, members of that body will believe that the seven members of the committee, or a majority of them, went through these bills carefully, found them to be good bills, and recorded their opinion with a favorable report.

The true blue consolidation bill, introduced by Senator McCartney, was permitted to slumber in the committee. With it is Savage's bill which provides for a two-thirds vote in each city before consolidation can be effected. Savage declares he will not permit the McCartney bill to get out of committee without amendment, in fact, the old man is perfectly content to let the matter rest just where it is, which means that there will be no enabling act unless some friends of consolidation get very busy, either through other Senators or by personal visits and a demand that the question be given a fair hearing.

Senator Savage today denied the report that he no longer is a resident of San Pedro. He said he had lived for some time on the East Side in Los Angeles, following an illness, but that his legal residence is San Pedro.

SUFFRAGISTS FEAR WOMEN.

WANT MEN'S VOTE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Sanford, Democratic member from Ukiah, wants the women of the State to say by ballot whether or not they want equal suffrage. He introduced a bill today calling upon the Governor to issue a proclamation thirty days prior to the next general election inviting the women to participate in that election to the extent of recording their vote for or against the ballot for their sex. The bill does not meet the approval of the women lobbyists now here, who want only the men voters to decide the question for them.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Wilbur of Los Angeles appeared this afternoon before the Senate Judiciary Committee to explain the details of the Juvenile Court bill on which he and other judges have been at work for several months. On his departure for the South this evening he had the satisfaction of knowing that the bill will be reported for passage almost as drawn, and that its prospects for getting through both houses are bright.

The bill as prepared was amended in only a few slight particulars. It was decided at the last minute that Juve-

LAND FRAUDS.

THREE INDICTED IN OKLAHOMA IS REPORT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUSKOGEE (Okla.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The assembling of the twenty-one members of the United States grand jury of the eastern district of Oklahoma to investigate charges of conspiracy to defraud the government of the United States and the Creek Indians in the matter of the sale of hundreds of Muskogee town lots, caused the most profound sensation thus far experienced in the annals of the "baby" State. Three indictments, containing from twenty to fifty separate charges, were found today, according to report.

The fact that the first Governor of the State is one of the men accused, coupled with the additional facts that Muskogee is his home town, and that he has many fast political and business friends here, who firmly believe that the President of the United States is leagued with W. R. Hearst in an effort to discredit him, has given the Governor an opportunity to pose as a martyr, which he has not been slow to avail himself of.

The grand jury is holding its sessions in the closest seclusion in the hospital ward of the Federal jail, which, in the early days of the Indian Territory, cared for many noted prisoners. Prior to the sitting of the jury it was convened in the Federal Courthouse. Contrary to expectations there was but little, if anything, in the court's charge to warrant the assumption that a momentous hearing was about to take place, and that the opening guns were about to be fired in a battle in which the President of the United States and the Governor of Oklahoma are rival combatants.

The court was called to order at 10 o'clock, at which hour the courtroom was packed to suffocation. The space behind the railing was occupied by attorneys, secret-service officers and prominent citizens, while in the courtroom proper there were hundreds of witnesses, jurors and others, who were attracted to the show. Within three hours from the time the jury retired the report reached the outside world that the jury had unanimously agreed to an indictment in the first case investigated. Government officials took no pains to deny the accuracy of the report, but declined to officially make public the names of the men indicted pending the report of the jury.

At 6 o'clock tonight, when the jury was taken to the Turner Hotel, owned by a company of which Gov. Haskell is president, there were semi-official reports that indictments had been found against three persons, and that there were from twenty to fifty separate indictments against each.

EMPEROR MENELIK DEAD.

PARIS, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is announced from an official source that the Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia is dead and that the Empress Taitou has been for some days directing public affairs. It is feared that the death of the sovereign may produce serious trouble, chiefly at Addis Abeba, the capital of Abyssinia, and that Europeans there may be in danger.

Cold Weather Adds to Discomfort of Unprotected Quake Survivors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MESSINA, Jan. 26.—The advent of cold weather, accompanied by snow, has added to the discomfort and suffering of the earthquake survivors, but still the work of relief is being conducted with energy. Edmund Billings, representative of the Massachusetts Relief Committee, with the assistance of Gen. Mazza, the Italian commander of the earthquake zone, is actively engaged in distributing supplies. Owing to a congestion of other routes of communication, provisions are being sent in here by way of Palermo.

Mr. Billings has placed $40,000 at the disposal of the Duchess of Aosta for relief purposes.

FRENCH REVEL AT BEHEADING.

Populace Laughs When Head Drops Into Basket.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CARRENTRAS (France) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is so long since the guillotine ceased to operate in France that the sudden renewal of its activity has apparently caused it to be regarded as a novelty.

A fortnight ago four heads fell under the knife at Bethune, and the scenes at the execution, the orgies, and the crowd around the scaffold, were revolting enough to create an outcry against executions in public hereafter.

A man named Danvers today paid with his life for the cold-blooded murder of a farmer and his wife who had befriended him. For days past the town has been rapidly filling up. Trains and vehicles of every sort brought crowds from the outlying districts. The people appear to have anticipated a carnival, and to have given themselves up, with all the thoroughness of their southern temperament to revelry and exuberant merry making.

Men and women, masked and in fancy dress, paraded the streets, halting in front of the jail where the condemned man was lying, ignorant of his impending death, to sing comic songs and uproarious choruses.

Deibler, the executioner, was the object of frenzied ovations whenever he left the privacy of his hotel.

The cafés, restaurants and hotels were all packed. Yesterday night well have been a public holiday. During Sunday and Monday night no one seemed to go to bed, but remained in the streets awaiting the execution.

At one moment the crowd of masqueraders mockingly sang "De Profundis" right under Danvers's cell.

The execution took place at 7 o'clock. Danvers, who up to the last moment believed he would be reprieved, showed a fair amount of courage.

TRIES TO GET FREE.

When Deibler and his assistants came to take Danvers from his cell he admitted the ministration of a priest. When led out of the cell he made an instinctive atempt to free himself from the grip of Deibler's men, but was quickly thrust down by three pairs of arms.

The guillotine was erected on a public square alongside the prison. The locality was cordoned with soldiers, who effectually blocked all entrances, but the impatient crowd which had assembled during the night demanded that it be given a chance to witness the execution. Some people climbed upon ladders from which they kept the others informed of the details of the proceedings while the windows of the houses overlooking the square were jammed with people.

The condemned man was first made aware of his fate by the yells of the crowd that surrounded the prison. He came out of the prison yard with livid face and staring eyes and it was necessary to make use of force to get him to the guillotine, and his head in position for the fall of the blade.

A second after Deibler pressed the button and the knife fell. The assassin's head dropped into the basket while the crowd cheered and laughed.

Other murderers are awaiting President Falliéres's decision.

"Monsieur de Paris,"

COOPER JURY NOT YET FULL.

THOUSAND TALESMEN ALREADY EXHAUSTED.

One Man Summoned Advises Officer to Tell Judge to "Go to the Devil," Is Brought Into Court and Placed in Custody—Col. Cooper Sits Between Young Daughters.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Jan. 26.—The second venire of 500 talesmen was exhausted today without the completion of the jury to try Col. Duncan Cooper, Robin Cooper and John D. Sharp, charged with the slaying of ex-Senator F. E. Carmack.

Judge Hart drew another venire of 500 talesmen.

Col. Cooper sat between his two young daughters, Mrs. Lucius Burch and Mrs. Beverley Wilson. Robin Cooper changed his seat to be close to his sister, Mrs. Burch. The latter is an important witness for the State, but she makes ceaseless efforts to cheer and console her father and brother.

G. W. Kieber, one of the talesmen, when summoned said:

"Tell the judge to go to the devil. I am too busy to serve as a juror."

The officer who served him reported the matter today. Kieber was brought in.

"Sit down over there," said the court. "I won't send you to the devil right away, but I'll send you some place else after a while."

FIVE DIE IN MINE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Five men are dead as the result of the gas explosion and fire in the Merchants' mine of the United Coal Company of Boswell.

The body of Superintendent Logan was recovered today. He had succumbed to "black damp." Andrew Stochi's body was also found.

Until early today signals were heard from the imprisoned men. At daylight, however, the signals ceased.

About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a small explosion occurred in the mine and as a result of this and other conditions that needed attention it was decided to make a thorough investigation of the underground workings and entries. This was in charge of Superintendent Logan and twenty-one men volunteered for the dangerous work. They entered the mine shortly after the explosion and while they were in the mine a second and a third explosion occurred. These explosions had the effect of tearing down great quantities of coal, slate and rock in the interior, completely preventing the men from reaching the outside.

State Mine Inspector Lowther of Somerset was soon on the scene and from the miners who had not been allowed to go to work until the investigating party returned, rescuing shifts were quickly formed.

FATAL HOTEL FIRE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Jan. 26.—Four men were burned or suffocated to death, and another perhaps fatally burned, here today, in a fire which practically destroyed the Southern Hotel. An explosion caused the fire.

The dead: Milam Hamilton, Cleburne, Tex.; Charles Bryant, Macomb, Ill.; Joseph Vaughan, St. Louis. Injured: Dr. Petty, Hugo, Okla., probably fatally; B. Manning, Dallas; W. S. Stegall and wife, and Miss Lou Alexander.

After the explosion, efforts to awaken the sleeping men failed. The police fired their revolvers as a last resort, and it is believed this awoke them, but too late to save their lives.

SATAR KHAN PRETENDER.

Revolutionary Leader in Tabriz Sets up Independent Government.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Satar Khan, the revolutionary leader in Tabriz, has followed the example of Samsan Khan at Ispahan and formally set up an independent government at Tabriz, according to messages received here today. At the head of several thousand soldiers, Satar is now in pursuit of the defeated force of Ain-Ed-Dowleth, the loyalist leader, who made an unsuccessful attempt to dislodge the revolutionists from Tabriz.

RAILROAD RECORD.

HEED WESTERN COMPLAINTS.

TRAFFIC MEN WILL HOLD HEARING IN CHICAGO THURSDAY.

Agitation by Pacific Coast Shippers Gains Recognition of Claims That Freight Rates Are Too High—Tendency to Modify the Schedules. Motives Explained.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Western shippers will be given an opportunity to present their complaints against increased freight rates to traffic representatives of the transcontinental lines, at the regular meeting of the Transcontinental Freight Bureau Committee, to be held in Chicago Thursday.

Owing to the agitation which has arisen in the Central West and on the Pacific Coast against the increases, it is expected that nearly every shipping organization interested in or affected by the advanced schedule will have a representative at the meeting.

Although the increased transcontinental rates became effective January 1, officials of some of the lines have evinced a tendency to modify such tariffs as are shown by the shippers to be inequitable or unjust.

This is illustrated by the action of the traffic bureau of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fé railways in serving notice on the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange to the effect that they will recommend a reduction to the transcontinental bureau in the rate on certain articles, complaint against which has been made by the shippers.

It is said that the underlying motive, which caused the railroad officials to consent to meet the shippers and hear their grievances is to encourage the spirit of conference as a practical and equitable basis for the settlement of differences.

HARRIMAN SUIT DELAYED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—The Federal government's efforts to dissolve the famous $500,000,000 Harriman merger was again postponed today owing to the absence in New York of C. A. Severance, the chief attorney of the government. Attorney Severance's wife was a passenger on the wrecked liner Republic, and he remained in New York to greet her yesterday.

For this reason the case was continued yesterday until today, but a few minutes before the hearing should have begun today it was discovered that Attorney Severance was still absent. The hearing will start tomorrow.

WASHINGTON.

FLINT HELPS LOS ANGELES.

Senate Passes Bill to Open Assay Office.

Means Much to Mining Men of Southwest.

Will Bring Large Amount of Gold to City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senate today passed Flint's bill creating an assay office in Los Angeles. The bill was introduced by Flint at the last session and he has put in a great deal of hard work on it. A large amount of data was submitted by him to the Finance Committee to show the necessity existing for creating the new office in Los Angeles, and the Finance Committee today reported the bill favorably. Flint immediately urged that it be passed also, and his appeal was successful. The bill will now go to the House, where it will be referred to the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, of which Knowland of California is a member.

Flint has taken measures to smooth the way for his bill in the House, and Knowland will give his personal attention to it.

The bill provides for one assayer in charge at $2500, one assayer at $1800, one chief clerk at $1500. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to rent a suitable building, and $20,000 is appropriated to pay salaries, wages of workmen, rent and contingent expenses.

The necessity for the office is apparent. The Chamber of Commerce and Chamber of Mines have taken great interest in it and have furnished information regarding the demand. It has been shown that of the gold mined in California, $6,000,000 annually will be tributary to it, besides which probably half of the $20,000,000 in gold and silver produced by Alaska will come to Los Angeles. Arizona produces $4,500,000 in gold and silver, and Mexico will also send large amounts of the precious metals to the new office. Many mining companies, which now buy most of their supplies in Los Angeles, will be glad to send their bullion there to be stamped with its value, so that they can draw against it and use the money in their business.

Senator Flint has many letters showing the interest which has been felt in Los Angeles in the success of this bill.

BILL FOR RESURVEY.

REPORTED FAVORABLY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Claiming that the enactment of the bill "is both wise and necessary," the House Committee on Public Lands, has reported favorably a bill introduced by Mr. Mondell of Wyoming, authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to have surveys or retracements of public lands made wherever he may deem it essential, after investigation. It was formerly the custom to accept the sworn statement of surveyors without first examining the survey, and the work was often carelessly done. Because of the inability to define boundaries the government finds it difficult to dispose of some of its public lands without a resurvey.

Under the present law, one must resort to a private bill before Congress to have a certain piece of land retraced, and it is the purpose of the bill to put the matter of resurvey at the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior. It is provided that no resurvey may be executed which would impair the bona fide rights of any claimant affected by such survey.

BIG TREE BILL MAY PASS.

Congressman Smith Gets Speaker Cannon's Promise to Let Measure Come up.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At last there seems to be good prospect that the Calaveras Big Tree Bill will get through Congress. Congressman Smith has had several interviews with Speaker Cannon and has secured the promise of the autocrat of the House that he will recognize Smith next Monday, suspension day, to call up the bill under suspension of the rules.

The Speaker is reported to have been disgruntled because Mrs. Lovell White of San Francisco, who came here in the interest of the women's clubs of that city to lobby for the bill, has been attacking Cannon through various publications for not allowing the bill to come up. This may be mere rumor, but Smith has managed to remove any objections the Speaker may have had, and after making some minor changes he has said that he would let it come up.

Another thing the Speaker has thought an argument against the bill was the fact that the land on which the big trees stand is owned by Robert Whiteside, a Michigan lumber man. Whiteside has asked a big price for the trees, threatening to cut them down and make them into lumber. Now that Whiteside professes to be willing to accept a reasonable value in stumpage on government land for the grove, the Speaker is inclined to think it will be all right to make the exchange as contemplated by the bill.

FLINT'S PHOSPHATE BILL.

TO UTILIZE DEPOSITS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Flint introduced a bill today providing for the utilization and disposition of phosphate deposits on lands heretofore or hereafter withdrawn because of such valuable deposits. The bill provides for clearing title to such lands and leasing them under regulations to be adopted, but it is specified that phosphates so mined shall not be shipped out of the United States under penalty of a fine not exceeding $1000.

CUMMINS'S MAIDEN SPEECH.

ON POSTAL SAVINGS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—A maiden speech by Senator Cummins of Iowa against the passage of the postal savings bank bill as reported to the Senate by the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads was a feature in the Senate today. Mr. Cummins spoke in favor of the deposit of postal savings in State and Territorial banks.

TALKS OF MENTAL CURES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Dr. Sheldon Leavitt is now in active charge of Rev. Johnston Myer's mind-healing class. In his initial lecture the doctor cited cases of organic diseases he has cured in his practice through the use of psycho-therapeutics. Dr. Leavitt maintains there is no more limit to the practice of psycho-therapeutics than there is to the practice of medicine. He declared that he had cured cases of locomotor ataxia, intestinal tuberuclosis and typhoid fever by the method of healing he advocated. "We have not made the claim that we can cure a great many cases of cancer, Bright's disease, valvular heart disease or consumption," said Dr. Leavitt. "Neither can the medical practitioners do so. We don't say there is nothing in medicine, and but little in surgery. We believe in medicine and surgery and would add mind healing."

CLAIMS UNKNOWN ESTATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Miss Agnes B. Taylor has laid claim to a $2,000,000 estate in England, the exact location of which is not known at present to the claimant. Miss Taylor says she is a grand-daughter of Mrs. Winch-Hare, who was a grand-daughter of the head of the Winch family that settled in Virginia in 1800, and was descended from Earl Winch of England.

RAINEY RABID IN WILD DENUNCIATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Charging that William Nelson Cromwell, Roger L. Farnham, Charles P. Taft and others are parties to the "most infamous railroad proposition ever submitted to any government," and that they "are being permitted not only to rob the Republic of Panama, but indirectly the Treasury of the United States," Representative Rainey of Illinois today directed the searchlight of publicity upon the affairs in the canal zone in a startling speech in support of his resolution, providing for an investigation by Congress of the Panama Canal.

"In their efforts in this direction," he continued, "they have had so far the complete cooperation and active assistance of the present administration and of the next President of the United States."

Mr. Rainey traced the history of the proposed canal 400 years back and warned that "we have already started in the direction of the rocks upon which the French companies were wrecked."

Referring to the government's suit against the New York World and grand jury investigations now under way in this city and New York, Mr. Rainey said:

"If we are to carry this project through to a successful conclusion, we must avoid graft. It is not the part of wise statesmanship to dispose of resolutions asking for an investigation of any phase of the canal question with the sweeping and absolutely unsupported official declaration that there is nothing to investigate.

Mr. Rainey was particularly bitter in his denunciation of Mr. Cromwell, general counsel for the New French Panama Canal Company, and counsel and director of the Panama Railroad, which is owned by the United States government. He charged that "through the manipulations of Mr. Cromwell, the French Canal Company was permitted to /steal from the United States government three or four million dollars," and that after he "had become an officer in fact of the United States, he became a party in an attempt to collect from the United States a fraudulent claim on behalf of the canal company for $2,208,000."

He also was unsparing in his comment upon José Domingo de Obaldi's presidency of Panama, who, he said, represented, as no other Spanish statesman, all that is corrupt in Spanish-American politics."

"Without Obaldia," he stated, "Cromwell's career would have been impossible. Without Cromwell, Obaldia would have been impossible."

Against President-elect Taft, now en route to the canal zone, Mr. Rainey directed the accusation that on the occasion of his last trip to Panama in May, "he did nothing on the isthmus except to openly push the candidacy of Obaldia for the Presidency."

In President Amador's farewell message to the General Assembly, said Mr. Rainey, "he directly charged Mr. Taft with forcing the reelection of Obaldia.

"The plan of Mr. Cromwell and his associates," he said, "was absolutely to appropriate to their own use the revenue of the republic, and to steal the forests and the public lands. The necessity for Mr. Taft's interference and for the election of Obaldia becomes now as plain as day."

Mr. Rainey referred to the fact that there was pending and about to be adopted in the General Assembly of Panama, "the most infamous railroad proposition ever submitted to any government, by which Randolph D. Ward of New York was to be largely the beneficiary.

"It will be interesting to know who the gentlemen are who are attempting in this way to impoverish the republic of Panama," said he mentioned William Nelson Cromwell, Roger L. Farnham, W. S. Harvey and Charles P. Taft.

"These patriotic gentlemen," said Mr. Rainey, in conclusion, "are being permitted not only to rob the republic of Panama, but indirectly to rob the treasury of the United States, and in their efforts in this direction they have had so far the complete cooperation and the active assistance of the present administration and of the next President of the United States."

THE TWO CONNOLLYS.

C. P. Connolly, the writer, now at Ocean Park, is naturally anxious to have it clearly understood that he is not the James B. Connolly, the writer accused of showing the white feather in the Florida-Republic collision. Both are occasional correspondents of Collier's, a yellow, muck-raking, libelous and utterly unreliable publication issued in New York City; but C. P. Connolly was here when the alleged exhibition of cowardice occurred. There was no confusion of the two in The Times' dispatch; but some of C. P. Connolly's friends seem to have "mixed those children up."

INDUSTRIAL SUICIDE.

GLOBE FEARS UNION RIOTS.

Miners Out of Work May Do Violence to Property.

Socialist Orators Largely Responsible.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Advices received this evening from Globe are of most alarming character. A large number of the miners thrown out of work by the closing of the Old Dominion and other large mines of the district are proving riotous, and there is fear of damage to mining property and violence against the managers. The trouble is all being stirred up among the lower element by blatant socialist orators, but strong opposition to violence is expressed by hundreds of the older American and Cornish miners. The companies shut down operations and paid off their men because of the activity of walking delegates.

NO REAL GRIEVANCE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GLOBE, Jan. 25.—All the other mining companies operating in the Globe district are preparing to join the Old Dominion in the latter's effective protest against the insolence of attempted rule through the walking delegate and will close their mines at once. Just when when the mines will reopen seems to be a matter that will be left to the action of the Miners' Union, but no resumption is scheduled until Walking Delegate Albert Wills has been removed from his position here.

According to one of the main operatives, "there is no alliance between the mining companies, but all are determined that they will not have anything further to do with Wills. He has made himself particularly offensive and he is not wanted around any of the mines. In none of the companies is there any enmity toward the union. No questions are asked of men when hired whether they belong to the union or not. There is also no question of wages, no disposition to change local conditions between the miners and the companies and no desire to break up the union. This I can tell you without reservation. But of one thing there is no doubt, that Wills must keep away from the mines. That is what the whole question hinges upon. Each of the companies is prepared to resume operations independently, each treating with its own men, but there will be no treating with any committee from the union. I am willing and anxious to confer with the employés of my company in a body, and entire that all the companies will take the same attitude. If there has been any misunderstanding it can soon be cleared up."

Officials of Globe Miners' Union refuse to discuss the matter. It is understood that the union has voted to retain Wills and that the shut-down of the companies was in consequence of that assurance. Wills, who has been but little short of monumental, has been ejected violently a half dozen times from Old Dominion property, but always to return with defiance for the rules of the corporation.

It now appears that the Miami, Inspiration, Commercial, Superior and Old Globe Consolidated and all the large employers of labor are in hearty sympathy with the Old Dominion in the matter and also will shut down. After today every large mine will be closed and the miners, more than 2000 of them, will all be in town to talk it over. The Old Dominion has commenced to pay off, giving the men a air of finality that imparts itself gone to all discussions. The usual credit extended miners in all the stores has been withdrawn and in every drinking resort which noticed is posted that drinks no longer can be "walked up." A number of miners are preparing to leave already.

The trouble means that more than a thousand miners are thrown out of employment and that a pay roll of about $6000 a day has been withdrawn from the support of the camp. Because of this, it is understood that the small number of the company, with several hundred more employés, will be closed down in a few days, as soon as the ore in the bins has been exhausted.

Naturally, there is something of a panic among the business men of the place, which has been growing at a phenomenal rate and which has been coming out for the place of leader in the copper producers of Arizona. The Old Dominion Company, which in 1908 produced about 38,000,000 pounds of copper, including the output of a large number of smaller mines, whose ores have been worked on a custom basis. Many of these other mines will have to be closed down if their market for ore is withdrawn by the closing of the Old Dominion smelter.

White Chief of Alaska Indians Returns to Civilization After Long Absence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dan Callahan is out from Alaska for the first time in twenty-seven years. Callahan is known as the chief of the Burch Creek Indians, but he is not an Indian.

When he stepped off the Yucatan his form fairly bulged, for when he last saw this section of the country Seattle was hardly worthy to be called a city, and he had never seen an electric car, much less an automobile. He could be induced to enter one of the latter vehicles, so a couple of old time friends put up a job on him. He came out of a café one of them sidled away and explained the situation to a police sergeant.

The arrest of Callahan immediately followed and he was taken to police headquarters in the automobile patrol, only to be immediately released.

Miners Out of Work May Do Violence to Property.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Advices received this evening from Globe are of most alarming character. A large number of the miners thrown out of work by the closing of the Old Dominion and other large mines of the district are proving riotous, and there is fear of damage to mining property and violence against the managers. The trouble is all being stirred up among the lower element by blatant socialist orators, but strong opposition to violence is expressed by hundreds of the older American and Cornish miners. The companies shut down operations and all of their men because of the activity of walking delegates.

GLOBE, Jan. 25.—All the other mining companies operating in the Globe district are preparing to join the Old Dominion in the latter's effective protest against the insolence of attempted rule through the walking delegate and will close their mines at once. Just when the mines will reopen seems to be a matter that will be left to the action of the Miners' Union, but no resumption is scheduled until Walking Delegate Albert Wills has been removed from his position as boss.

According to one of the main operators, "there is no alliance between mining companies, but all are determined that they will not have anything further to do with Wills. He has made himself particularly offensive and he is not wanted around any of the mines. In none of the companies is there any enmity toward the men. No questions are asked of a man when hired whether they belong to the union or not. There is also no question of wages, no disposition to change local conditions between the miners and the companies and no desire to break up the union. This I can tell you without reservation. But of one thing there is no doubt, that Wills must keep away from the mines. It is what the whole question comes upon. Each of the companies is prepared to resume operations instantly, each treating with its own men, but there will be no treating with any committee from the union. We are willing and anxious to confer with the employés of my company and I am sure that all the companies have the same attitude. If there has been any misunderstanding it can soon be cleared up."

Officials of Globe Miners' Union refuse to discuss the matter. It is understood that the union has voted to back Wills and that the shut-down of the companies was in consequence of which Wills, who has assurance little short of monumental, has carried violently a half dozen men from Old Dominion property, and says to return with defiance for the rights of the corporation.

It now appears that the Miami, Inspiration, Commercial, Superior and Miami, Globe Consolidated and all the large employers of labor are in full sympathy with the Old Dominion in the matter and also will shut down. After today every large mine in Globe is closed and the miners, more than 2000 of them, will all be in town before night is over. The Old Dominion has announced to pay off, giving the move an air of finality that imparts a new tone to all discussions. The credit extended miners in all cases has been withdrawn and in many drinking saloon notices have been posted that drinks no longer can be "charged up." A number of mines are preparing to leave already. This trouble means that more than 2000 miners are thrown out of work and that a pay roll of $100,000 a day has been withdrawn from the support of the camp. Besides this, it is understood that the Arizona Copper Company, which is a subsidiary of the company, with a hundred more employés, will shut down in a few days, as soon as the ores in the bins has been exhausted.

Generally, there is something of a panic among the business men of the town, which has been growing at a rapid rate and which has been carried out for the place of leader in the copper producers of Arizona. The Old Dominion works are those of the Old Dominion Company, which in 1908 produced about 18,000,000 pounds of copper, including the output of a number of smaller mines, whose ores have been worked on a custom basis. Many of these other mines are likely to be closed down if their product for ore is withdrawn by the owners of the Old Dominion smelter.

MODERN RIP VAN WINKLE.

Chief of Alaska Indians Returns to Civilization After Long Absence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dan Callahan is out from Nome for the first time in twenty-seven years. Callahan is known as chief of the Burch Creek Indians, but is not an Indian.

When he stepped off the Yucatan his form barely bulged, for when he last saw this section of the country Seattle was hardly worthy to be called a city. He had never seen an electric car, had never seen an automobile. He could be induced to enter one of the latter vehicles, so a couple of old friends put up a job on him. They came out of a café one of them walked away and explained the matter to a police sergeant.

The arrest of Callahan immediately followed, and he was taken to police headquarters in the automobile patrol, to be immediately released.

TORPEDO BOATS IN PORT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 26.—The torpedo boats Whipple and Hull have arrived at Mare Island Navy Yard under orders to remain fifteen days for repairs, and then return to San Diego. The other torpedo boats now in the harbor are expected to follow later on. Tenders, carrying coal and stores for the torpedo boats, will leave today, returning to the yard in time to take on stores for the Pacific fleet which is ordered at Magdalena Bay on the 15th.

The Navy Department has authorized the turning over of the gunboat Vicksburg to the Treasury Department to be used as a revenue cutter. The Vicksburg is now at the Mare Island Navy Yard and was being prepared for a trip to the Atlantic Coast, but she now will be retained in the Pacific.

BRIDE FINDS GROOM DEAD.

Enters Sick Room With Minister but the Dark Angel Is First.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As his intended bride, accompanied by a clergyman and witnesses, entered his room last night ready for the marriage ceremony, Charles J. Miller breathed his last.

Miller and Miss Flossie O. McDonald were to have been married yesterday. He was stricken with typhoid fever and taken to the Wentworth Hospital. Hope for his recovery was given up, but this did not alter his intention to be married on the date planned.

Miss McDonald procured a license and engaged a clergyman to accompany her to the hospital. When she entered the room she was just in time to see her lover die, and he expired before the intended ceremony could be performed.

EIGHT CALHOUN JURORS.

Day Breaks Records of Case in Selection of Three Men from the Third Panel.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Eight jurors had been temporarily passed to try Patrick Calhoun upon an indictment charging bribery, when today's session of the trial came to an end.

Three citizens were accepted today from among the sixteen who faced the interrogating attorneys at the opening of the day, and the progress made established a record as far as the case is concerned.

With the acceptance of the third juror today, the third panel of talesmen was exhausted and Judge Lawlor late in the afternoon undertook the preliminary examination of the sixty-five men comprising the fourth panel.

David Holzberg, a Market-street jeweler, was the first man accepted. He disclaimed any opinion that would disqualify him and withstood a searching interrogation by Heney. When the talesman disclaimed any interest in the acceptance of bribes by the former Supervisors Heney asked:

"Then you do not consider it part of your duty to ascertain whether or not the officials of your city are stealing money?"

"Any opinion I might have would not stop them," was the reply. "I don't read much because of my eyes, and I don't vote often because I cannot always vote intelligently."

By this time it was apparent that the juror was not acceptable to the prosecution and more than the usual interest was manifested when Heney asked Holsberg if he had not expressed an opinion to a former partner that the defendants and all others indicted were held up by the Supervisors. The juror denied having made any such admission, and when asked if he had not expressed a prejudice against the prosecution and in favor of several men under indictment, stated that he was unable to remember any such utterances. After the prosecution had been resisted in seeking every basis for a challenge, the juror was temporarily accepted.

John H. Powers, an architect, was passed temporarily this afternoon as the seventh juror in the case.

A third juror was temporarily passed in the person of Arthur F. Holman, Pacific Coast manager of the Travelers' Insurance Company.

OFFICERS VINDICATED.

NOT COWARDLY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 26.—Capt. Erwin Farrer of Seattle received notice yesterday that he and Capt. Patrick Hamilton had been exonerated of charges of cowardice and neglect in connection with the wreck of the cannery bark, Star of Bengal, and the loss of 111 lives on Coronation Island, Alaska, September 20 last. The decision was rendered by United States Inspectors Whitney and Newhall, at Juneau. Capt. Farrer was master of the tug which, was towing the Bengal, but was compelled to cut the hawser and seek safety. Capt. N. Wagner of the Star of Bengal, perferred the charges against the tugboats, but the inspectors exonerated Farrer and Hamilton, vindicating their actions.

AFFINITY ELOPEMENT.

Wife Wanted to Turn Back, but Husband Wouldn't Have Her Do So.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Vera Bartlett, wife of a locomotive engineer on the Southern Pacific at Roseburg, eloped with Bert Neeley, a stage driver, Sunday. The woman took the stage at Marshfield, Neeley driving the conveyance through from Roseburg.

At Ten Mile, a stage station out of Roseburg, the woman wrote her husband that she wanted to come back, but he announced that he would have nothing to do with her. The woman then continued on her journey with her jehu affinity.

Neeley still holds his job on the stage route and everybody appears to be satisfied. Bartlett shows no signs of taking vengeance on the man who stole his wife, but considers himself well off to have lost her.

HAMMOND COMPANY'S BUY.

FRONTAGE AT ASTORIA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Hammond Lumber Company of Astoria, San Francisco and San Diego has purchased the water frontage property at Astoria of the American Lumber Company, lying just west of the present plant of the Hammond company and comprising about twenty-five acres. It is one of the choicest pieces of water front in Astoria and reaches out to the river channel. The purchase was made to enable the Hammond people to develop their plant to double the present dimensions. The price of the purchase has not been made public, but it is understood to have been over $150,000.

UNIONS MAKE WEAK CASE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] M. J. Kelly, an expert cement finisher with a full and varied knowledge of concrete construction, and S. W. Getchell, formerly superintendent of construction on the Capitol building at Sacramento, testified in the building trades council's investigation at Agnew today for the labor organization.

Both pronounced certain patches upon the walls and beams of the structure, known as receiving No. 1, unworkmanlike, but were unable to state, on so cursory an examination as they had made, whether or not the structure was made unsafe by the patches. They said the workmanship was bad, but refused to say it was unsafe, and admitted that the patches observed were made in the best manner possible under the circumstances.

George W. Appell, attorney for the open shop contractor, F. O. Engstrun, whose work is in question, several times objected strenuously to the methods of examination maintained by State Engineer Nathaniel Ellery.

Engineer Ellery refused, at the close of the session, to allow Architect Schultze and Attorney Appell to remove the plans from the building, but allowed them to use the papers in the superintendent's office.

GOV. GILLETT IN WARNING.

Delivers Special Message on Anti-Japanese Move.

He Receives Telegram from the President.

Proposed Bills Are Causing Serious Agitation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—With a warning against any anti-Japanese legislation, and the recommendation that the labor commissioner be given money to take a census of the Japanese in the State, Gov. James N. Gillett sent a special message to the Legislature today.

The Governor received this afternoon another telegram from President Roosevelt, stating that a letter is on the way. The Governor said he did not know the nature of the communication, but it probably deals with the Japanese question and will throw more light upon negotiations between Japan and the United States.

After stating that the bills introduced by Assemblyman A. N. Drew of Fresno, Senator J. B. Sanford of Ukiah and Assemblyman Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento are causing serious agitation both here and in Japan, and have been the subject of an address to the national authorities by the Japanese government, the Governor reviews the negotiations between the two powers to stop immigration.

The members of both branches sat silent while the message was being read, and there was no demonstration at its conclusion.

The communication in full is as follows:

TEXT OF GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE ON JAPS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California:

There is certain legislation now pending before you which I believe to be of grave concern, not only to our State, but to the nation as well, and which should be most thoughtfully considered before being acted upon.

Ordinarily, I believe that there should be no executive interference with the will of the Legislature, nor any attempts made to influence it in the enactment of laws, because yours is a coördinate branch of the government, and the people of this State, by their constitution, have delegated to you the power and authority of enacting those laws which are to govern them, and have vested in the executive only the power of veto, and the right to recommend such matters as he may deem expedient.

The enactment of any law is a grave responsibility, and when you are considering measures which not only affect our own people, but which may affect the policies of the nation, and involve it in trouble with a friendly power, then you are called upon to proceed with great caution, to weigh carefully every step taken and to do nothing but what your conscience and best judgment dictates, looking not only to the welfare of the State, but to the interests of the general government as well. And it is because I believe that you are now confronted with such a situation that I address this message to you, hoping that I may be able to help you to properly solve those matters to which I shall herein refer, expecting you to take such action as will appeal to your own judgment as to what is the right and proper thing to do under all the circumstances, both as it affects the State and nation.

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION.

Certain bills have been introduced some of which have been favorably reported by your committees, indirectly intended to affect the Japanese people—at least, such is the impression abroad. These bills have attracted the notice of the whole nation, and have caused Japan to call the attention of our government to them. They have produced an agitation, not only in our own country, but throughout Japan and the Japan Minister of Foreign Affairs has stated to the authorities in Washington that if the bills should be passed, the government of Japan would consider it very embarrassing.

Before referring specifically to these bills I wish to review what has been done between our government and Japan toward stopping immigration to this country.

Bills were introduced in the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Congresses to have the Chinese exclusion laws apply to the Japanese. This resulted in bringing before the State Department in Washington the question of the immigration of Japanese subjects to the United States.

The Japanese government expressed a desire of settling the question by an agreement to be entered into between the two nations wherein Japan was to undertake that no Japanese laborer, skilled or unskilled, should leave Japan for the United States or for the islands of Hawaii. In arriving at this agreement, much correspondence passed between the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Japan and Secretary Root, and finally a compact was concluded whereby Japan agreed to prevent certain classes of its citizens, therein named, from immigrating to this country. This agreement between the United States and Japan was mutual, and undoubtedly satisfactory to both nations, and Japan at once commenced to enforce it and abide by its provisions, and is now carrying out its terms.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

The correspondence leading up to this agreement was shown to me by Secretary Root one year ago this winter, when I was in Washington, and since that time his office has forwarded to me reports showing that the Japanese government was complying with its part of the contract. The Japanese Foreign Office reports that during December, 1908, 126 Japanese left Japan for the mainland of the United States, of whom sixty-two were returning emigrants or relatives, and that 174 Japanese left Japan for Hawaii, of whom 151 were returning emigrants or relatives. It is further stated in such report that 812 Japanese returned to Japan from the mainland of the United States during December, 1908, of whom 715 were in the steerage and that 190 Japanese returned to Japan from Hawaii, of whom 180 were in the steerage. In the month of December the Japanese leaving the United States for Japan exceeded those leaving Japan for the United States by 666.

WILL REFUSE PASSPORTS.

No laborer of Japan can leave his country without a passport and, under the agreement with Japan, it will not issue a passport to any laborer to come to Hawaii or the mainland of the United States. Japan claims that it has the matter well in hand, that no Japanese laborers are coming to this country and that many are leaving. On the other hand, it is contended that the Japanese population in this State is gradually increasing but I know of no figures showing this to be true.

Today the relations existing between the United States and Japan are very friendly. Both are great powers among the nations of the world. Both stand in a position geographically, to dominate and control the commerce of the Pacific. Acting together, they can dictate the policies which other nations must pursue in the Far East and can preserve the peace there. As friendly allies, many benefits will inure to both nations and a great commerce can be carried on between them to the advantage of our people; but as enemies, the commerce of both can be driven from the ocean.

REASONS FOR FRIENDSHIP.

Every reason, therefore, exists why there should continue between Japan and our government the most friendly relations, and it is the expressed wish of each nation that this shall be so. Appreciating this friendship and their community of interests, both nations have attempted amicably to settle by an agreement the question of immigration and Japan is now endeavoring to carry out its part.

If the agreement does not go far enough; that is, if classes other than those enumerated, therein, should have been included, then our government should make that fact known to Japan, and ask to have them included and present its reasons therefor. If such reasons are good and sufficient, then in all fairness, and with a desire to do what is right, Japan will, no doubt, consent to the request made.

This question of immigration is one that affects the entire nation as well as our State, and is one which the Federal government can alone settle. It may be settled in two ways: First, by an agreement between the two nations, which has been done, or by legislation passed by Congress as was done in the case of the Chinese.

REMEDY TO BE PURSUED.

If we find out that, notwithstanding Japan's efforts, her coolie labor continues to pour into our State, or though calling themselves agriculturalists, are landing upon our shores and settling in our cities, or leasing and purchasing our valuable agricultural lands, and changing white settlements to Japanese, to the detriment of this State and its citizens, then it is our plain duty to call the attention of our government to the facts, and petition it to take such prompt action as may be proper, and, by an agreement with Japan, or by legislation, if necessary, to remedy conditions. If our complaints are just they will be taken up by Congress and the President and acted upon.

While the settlement of the questions of immigration are pending, we should do no act to embarrass those in authority at Washington, thereby making their task more difficult. We should be very careful about passing any legislation, not absolutely necessary for our immediate protection, intended solely to affect the Japanese people being lawfully among us, because in so doing we make a task which we expect our government to perform harder to accomplish, and such legislation at the best can only tend to widen the breach between Japan and our country and cause a feeling of misgivings and distrust to exist.

We must also remember that no law that this State can enact will stop Japanese immigration. Congress alone is vested with authority to pass such legislation. And we must also recognize the fact that the Japanese among us are the subjects of a friendly nation, and are entitled to the same treatment under our laws and to the same privileges and immunities as are guaranteed to the subjects of the most favored nations. Japan's treaty with our government guarantees to them this right, and, as citizens of these United States, we must accord it to them. There cannot be one law for the subjects of Japan and another one for the citizens of England.

TAKES UP THE BILLS.

This brings me to a consideration of some of the bills now pending before you and which have already caused much discussion and alarm in both countries. If you believe the general policy of this State and its future development demands that all aliens—that is, citizens of other countries—should be discouraged in making investments here, and that no alien should be permitted to become the owner in fee simple of any lands within this State, agricultural, grazing or mineral, or of any city property for the purposes of trade, commerce or manufacture—then enact a law forbidding the same, but see to it that it affects the subjects of all nations alike and that under its provisions the citizens of Japan shall have equal privileges with those of England and other favored nations; otherwise you might create a situation which may prove to be embarrassing to the Federal government.

Mr. Drew's bill might be so amended, but in its present form, it clearly, as no doubt was intended, discriminates against the citizens of China and Japan. Whether any bill should pass at this time which will discourage foreign capital from seeking investment in our State is a most serious question and one not lightly to be considered. But that is a question I leave for you to solve.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Another bill which you have under consideration, and which has been classed as anti-Japanese legislation, is a bill providing that no alien shall be a director in any corporation created under the laws of this State. This bill applies to all aliens, and it should, if it is to be enacted into law. How many citizens of foreign countries will care to come to California and form corporations for mining, transportation, commerce, manufacturing, banking, or any other business, if they cannot be directors so as to be able to handle their own money and direct the business in which they engage? What injury is the State now suffering by reason of Japanese directors; or what injury can it suffer by those who may hereafter become directors in a corporation, which will justify a law that no citizen of any foreign country can become a director of corporation reated under the laws of this State, though he may own the controlling interest in it? What public necessity, any way, exists for such a law? It is a very pertinent question and one which should be most satisfactorily answered by its proponents.

Another measure which is clearly intended to reach the Japanese, is one which gives to municipalities the right to set apart certain limits in which "undesirable persons" are to reside. It is not my purpose or desire, however, to discuss the merits of these several bills, or whether or not they should be enacted into laws. It is for you to decide these questions for yourselves and use your best judgment in the matter.

MUST ACCEPT GOOD FAITH.

All I desire to do is to call your attention to the fact that the passage of these bills through the Legislature, even though they may never finally become laws, will cause our Federal government some embarrassment in relation to the agreement it now has with Japan, and its own good faith may be questioned. What we want is to have the question of immigration between these two nations settled amicably, but settled right. Both are earnestly striving to attain that end. Japan has agreed with our government to do so in a certain way. At the present time she is busily engaged in carrying out her promise. This nation must accept her good faith until the contrary appears. If Japan fails in what she has undertaken, she cannot complain if our government undertakes in its own way the task. By pursuing this course, the friendly relations existing between the two nations will not be broken and the great commerce now passing between them, will continue to grow and the greatest benefits therefrom will be realized by the Pacific slope.

The President of the United States and the Secretary of State have issued a warning against passing any bills of the nature proposed. Representing the nation and knowing the situation as they do, their warning should be heeded. This matter is one in which our interests are not alone involved, but one in which the whole country is interested.

MAKES DIFFICULTIES.

The passage of all or any of the proposed bills will not prevent a single Japanese from landing here or cause one to leave the country. They will in no sense check immigration, or change the Japanese way of doing business or his mode of living. They can only tend to embarrass this nation in its dealings with Japan, and render future negotiations more difficult.

What ever we shall attain in the way of restricting Japanese immigration, must come to us through the treaties entered into by the Federal government or through laws enacted by Congress.

Our efforts should be made through the proper channels, and we should prepare a statement of facts to support any petition we may present.

I would therefore recommend that a sufficient appropriation to be made to enable the Labor Commissioner to take a census showing the number of Japanese now in the State, the number classed as laborers, and those classed as agriculturists, the number of acres of land owned by Japanese, and the number of acres leased, and to get such other and further information as may be useful in making a proper report to the President of the United States and to Congress.

With such a census we can ascertain hereafter whether or not the Japanese population of this State is increasing or decreasing, and whether or not they are extending their real property holdings.

I most respectfully submit this whole matter to your most careful and thoughtful consideration, hoping and believing that no mistakes will be made in the proper solution thereof, and that nothing may be done in the way of passing legislation which will tend to hereafter embarrass the representatives of our country in dealing with the nation of Japan concerning immigration matters.

CHILLY RECEPTION.

NATUROPATHS' BILL DELAYED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Naturopaths who seek to place their practice on a legal basis through the appointment of a State board and by requiring certain qualifications of all practitioners, were given rather a chilly reception today by the Senate Committee on Public Health and Quarantine.

There are no doctors of medicine on the committee this session and it finally was decided that a doctor should be called in before the naturopaths could receive any full consideration of their case. It seems that various medical societies of the State are opposed to the naturopaths and the associations have requested that no action be taken until they can be represented by Dr. Mills Jones of San Francisco, who is supposed to know why naturopathy should not be.

At today's meeting some of the Senators treated the naturopathy bill facetiously, though they listened for a time to Dr. F. M. Parker of Los Angeles, who appeared in behalf of the measure. Dr. Harry Reynard and Dr. A. O. Lindstrum of San Francisco, naturopaths, also spoke briefly. The hearing will be resumed next week.

All the naturopaths ask is that a State board of their own school be appointed to pass on applicants for certificates to practice and that those entitled to practice be immune from prosecution and persecution.

PROTECTION FOR RUSSIAN.

Secretary Root Refuses to Grant Extradition.

Held to Be Refugee Through Political Reasons.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Christian Rudowicz, whose extradition on charges of murder, arson and other crimes was demanded by the Russian government, and involving counter charges that the offenses were in furtherance of a political movement, will not be extradited. This decision was announced by Secretary of State Root today.

In effect, the extradition was refused because the offense charged comes under the general prohibition against extradition in the treaty with Russia, which declares that if it be made to appear that extradition is sought with the view to try or punish for an offense of a political prisoner, surrender shall not take place. The testimony taken in the case by United States Commissioner Foote at Chicago, it was held, unhoids the views taken by the department, though the commissioner upheld the Russian government's demand.

Mr. Root declined to comment on the decision at this time, pending formal notification to the Russian authorities of the department's decision.

The case aroused widespread interest, particularly in Chicago among the anti-Russian element, where a fund was raised in defense of the man.

The action by the Secretary, it is said, does not establish any precedent, as the question was regarded at the department as simply whether or not the case was one calling for extradition for an offense against the law, or whether it was one of political character.

Rudowicz was an acknowledged member of the socialist democratic labor party, a Russian revolutionary organization, with branches in all parts of the world, whose avowed purpose is the improvement of political conditions in the empire. He is charged with having murdered or participated in the murder of a man, his wife, and a married daughter in one of the Baltic provinces in 1906. The next year he came to the United States and went to work in a large manufacturing establishment.

At the hearing in Chicago, testimony was offered both by Rudowicz and his witnesses that the order for killing these persons was issued on the ground that they were spies, not that they traveled around the country in this capacity, but they gave the names of persons taking part in revolutionary movements directed against the government. There was some discrepancy in the evidence as to whether the order to murder had been given by a county or State "group" which directed the operations of the various branches of the revolutionary party.

The arrest of Rudowicz by a United States District Marshal, following a complaint filed on October 30, and his subsequent examination before United States Commissioner Foote, was attended by demonstrations of protest from various social settlements and political organizations, middle western universities and colleges, foreign organizations and other interested bodies.

The contention of all these interests was that the arrest of the refugee violated the right of asylum, which the United States offers to the politically oppressed of all nations. Commissioner Foote decided on December 26 that Rudowicz's offense was criminal, not political, and that he should be held for extradition and the opinion was forwarded Secretary of State Root for final action.

The young Lettish peasant, about whose head the storm of clashing interests has waged, came to America in November, 1907, and for several months has been living in West Pullman. He immediately joined the carpenters' union, thus securing the assistance of union labor in his fight. The Russian government accuses him, respectively, of the crimes of murder, arson, burglary, robbery and larceny.

It is alleged that he entered by night the dwelling house of Theodore Kinze in the Courland province of Russia on January 3, 1906, killed the man's wife, the latter's parents, Christian Leschinsky and Trina Leschinsky; stole thirty rubles and other property, and then set fire to the house.

Rudowicz then fled to America and claimed political asylum on the ground that he was a member of the Benen group of the social democratic labor party, and had participated in the raid of the Kinze house as a revolutionist. He denied actual participation in the murder, arson and robbery which attended the attack.

Mrs. Kinze was believed to be a spy by the social democrats and was thought to have informed on members of the Zhargon branch, several of whom were executed by the military following the "bloody Sunday" massacre of January 22, 1905. Rudowicz testified that, preceding the Kinze raid, he had joined the social democrats simply because so many people had been killed by the government and that he was a sympathizer with the general strike of July, 1905, brought about to overthrow the Czar.

Rudowicz's lawyer claimed that the nature of his crimes did not enter into the matter at all as long as it was clearly proved that he was acting as a member of the political movement in a country where there is a well-defined revolution in progress.

MEXICAN ROADS MERGING.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There seems no longer to be any doubt that S. M. Felton is to leave the presidency of the Mexican Central road as soon as the Mexican merger, which the government is bringing about, is completed. It is also generally understood that E. N. Brown, now president of the National Railways of Mexico, which is the name of the organization which is doing the absorbing, will be at the head of all the roads in the merger. Notice has been given by President Brown of the absorption by his company of the National Railroad Company of Mexico, but just when the merger of all lines will be concluded is not known.

THE LEGISLATURE.

nile Court should be substituted for Parental Court. Slight changes were made in the number of assistant probation officers in San Francisco and in some of the salary provisions. A way was found whereby the very small counties, unable to pay a probation officer, might benefit under the law through the appointment of officers to serve with little or no salary, and in other ways the bill was whipped into shape to meet the few objections that were raised.

The success of the Juvenile Court in Los Angeles and of the work on similar lines in San Francisco has prepared the Legislature for the bill which aims to keep children out of prison and reformatories and which contains many improvements on the law now in effect in the South.

URGE LOCAL OPTION LAW.

TO BE STATE-WIDE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] D. M. Gandier of Los Angeles and other representatives of the State Anti-Saloon League appeared before the Senate and Assembly Joint Committee on Election Laws to urge the passage of a State local option bill introduced by Assemblyman Wyllie of Tulare.

A law somewhat similar to the practice now followed in Los Angeles county is desired for the entire State. The Wyllie bill provides that on petition of 25 per cent. of the qualified electors of a city, city and county, or county outside incorporated cities, the legislative body of any of these political subdivisions shall call an election at which the people will vote for or against the saloon. If the petition be filed not more than six months nor less than forty days prior to a general election, the question shall be submitted at the election; otherwise at a special election. It is provided that no special election shall be held less than two years after the question once has been submitted.

In Los Angeles county the "wet" and "dry" question is voted upon by townships at the will of the Supervisors and in the cities it is not mandatory on the Councils or Boards of Trustees to call elections. The Wyllie bill would make the calling of such elections mandatory.

While the supporters of the local option plan prefer to have the bill passed as introduced, it is said they are willing to amend it to apply to townships rather than to all portions of a county outside incorporated cities.

Their main desire is to have it made mandatory upon the legislative bodies of cities and counties to call local option elections on petition of 25 per cent. of the voters.

Considerable opposition to the plan developed at today's meeting and action on the bill was postponed for one week.

BILL HITS STREET CAR MEN.

WOULD LIMIT WORKING HOURS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Street-car conductors and motormen of Southern California are likely to look with disfavor on a bill that was reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Labor and Capital, limiting to eight hours the period they will be enabled to work in any one day. As the men are paid by the hour, many of them wish to work ten or twelve hours and increase their earnings.

The bill is fostered by the State Federation of Labor and is said to be desired by the street railway employés of San Francisco. It provides that the eight hours any conductor or motorman shall be allowed to work be within an extreme limit of ten hours.

A similar bill passed both houses two years ago, but did not receive the Governor's signature.

AQUEDUCT SALOONS AIDED.

TRANSUE'S BILL HITS SNAG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the Assembly today a snag was struck by Transue's bill barring saloons from the vicinity of camps on the Los Angeles aqueduct or other public work. Northern members insist on an amendment which will protect wineries and distilleries, not now excepted from the provisions of the bill, and there are others who fear harm will come to liquor dealers already established in business, whose places in the future may be within four miles of a camp of men engaged on good roads, water supply or other public work.

As the bill expressly provides that no saloons established six months in advance of the camp shall be affected, the second objection is hard to explain. Fears are expressed by members of the Los Angeles delegation, however, that the half-dozen objectors may accomplish the [illegible] of measure.

The bill granting [illegible] other privileges in connection with the aqueduct work passed the Senate without difficulty.

FRUIT MEN'S BILL [illegible]

EVERY SENATOR [illegible]

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With every Senator favorable, Senator [illegible] the interest of cooperative associations was passed by the House today. Cogswell's bill has passed the Assembly, amendments to the [illegible] will send it back to the Assembly for concurrence.

The bill is desired by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange and other cooperative associations for such a law which will facilitate the organization and operation.

The chief fear of those who are opposed to the measure was that it was in the interest of a combine to control prices. This fear does not seem to bill had easy going.

ANTI-GRAFT BILL PASSES.

CUTS OUT NEPOTISM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator [illegible] requiring county Supervisors to advertise for bids on all contracts [illegible] for the expenditure of $200 or more for material, supplies or labor, was passed by the upper House today. The favored brother-in-law or other relative or friend can get the job only under the provision of the bill, and perchance he makes the lowest and best possible bid. In case of great emergency it is provided that the Supervisors by unanimous vote, may authorize the award of contracts without advertising for bids.

TO APPOINT MARSHALS.

CHANGE FOR SMALL CITIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That city police judges in cities of the sixth class should be appointed rather than elected is the sense of a bill that was favorably reported today by the Senate Committee on Municipal Corporations. Police judges in the four years ago these boards of trustees were appointed by the boards of trustees of their respective cities, but a change was made and they have since been elected. It is thought that they have been getting too much involved in politics and that so the change back to the old method is now proposed.

Hopkins Reaches High Mark on Thirteenth.

Drops Back from His Ninety Votes Later.

Both Sides Claim Condition Is Encouraging.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Seventeen ballots in the battle to elect a United States senator find the members of the forty-sixth General Assembly still fast in a deadlock, with little prospect of its breaking. Five ballots were taken today. Albert J. Hopkins ran up to ninety votes on the thirteenth ballot, the first taken today. This was lacking thirteen of the needed constitutional majority of 103. On the last ballot he had eighty-five votes.

When the joint session was dissolved at 1:25 o'clock p.m., the anti-Hopkins forces were shouting that they had the Senator on the run. The Hopkins men as persistently refuse to scent defeat at this stage of the game. They contend that the showing of ninety, the high-water mark, is a distinct gain.

Efforts that are termed heroic are being put forth by the Hopkins aides to bring about political combinations that may save the Aurora man from final defeat. The joint balloting will be resumed at noon tomorrow.

The fourteenth ballot started off with desertions from Hopkins. Christopher Beck, who has been standing by Hopkins, voted for Shurtleff. Richard P. Hagan, who left Foss last week, returned to his first choice on the thirteenth ballot.

Town, on the fourteenth ballot, also swung back to Foss after giving Hopkins a vote on the thirteenth ballot.

The fourteenth roll call among House members showed a loss of three votes for Hopkins.

Free P. Morris of Watseka was given two Democratic votes on this roll call in the House. Morris was chairman of the last Democratic State Convention.

INDIANA GOING DRY.

FOUR COUNTIES WON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Complete returns from four counties, holding local option elections today, show that four have been added to three that entered the dry column some weeks ago.

In every county the victory was more decided than the advocates of option had expected and proved that liquor forces comes with crushing force because overwhelming results were not anticipated.

In Decatur county the majority is [illegible] to 1500, with only 1 per cent. to hear from. Putnam, 2784, with but two precincts out of the thirty-four west. Tipton, 1537, with all twenty-four precincts dry, and in Hamilton the majority with reach 2000, with possibly one or two precincts voting wet.

Elections in all the counties were quiet and orderly. The anti-saloon forces were busy all day. Churches and towns took leading parts in getting voters to the polls. In some cities church bells were rung at regular intervals. In others, teachers marched at the heads of their classes to the polls wearing badges. In country districts and in cities and towns schools were given a holiday and the children went out with the teachers electioneering.

KIERNAN ARRESTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Patrick J. Kiernan, vice-president of the Fidelity Funding Company, whose affairs are in the hands of receivers, was arrested at his home here late today on the ground that he was a fugitive from justice, and that he was wanted in Pittsburgh, where charges of grand larceny had been lodged against him.

Kiernan had been locked up in a police cell only a few hours when word came from the Chief of Police of Pittsburgh stating that Kiernan had been [illegible] there and requesting that he be released. This was done, but Kiernan was served with an order to appear in the Supreme Court on January 29 to be examined regarding the affairs of the Fidelity Funding Company.

JAPANESE DROWNED.

PORTLAND, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two Japanese members of the crew of the oriental liner Alesia were drowned here last Saturday night in attempting to escape from the steamer. Three members of the crew had overboard on a hawser in the attempt to avoid the immigration officers and land. A moment later one of them began to call lustily for help and he was rescued.

No outcery was heard from the other two and it has since been found they were carried away by the swift current in the river and drowned. As soon as their companion was rescued, search was made for the other two but they could not be found and it is certain they did not land. The captured Japanese is held in the county jail until the departure of the Alesia.

Dan P. Morris of Watseka was given two Democratic votes on this roll call in the House. Morris was chairman of the last Democratic State convention.

INDIANA GOING DRY.

FOUR COUNTIES WON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Complete returns from four counties, holding local option elections today, show that there have been added to three that voted the dry column some weeks ago.

In every county the victory was won as decided that the advocates of the saloon had expected and rout of the liquor forces comes with crushing force because overwhelming results were not anticipated.

In Decatur county the majority is given as 1100, with only 1 per cent. missing. In Putnam, 1784, with but two precincts out of the thirty-four wet; Hendricks, 1625, with all twenty-four precincts dry, and in Hamilton the majority, with reach 2000, with possibly one or two precincts voting wet.

Quiet reigned in all the counties were voting was orderly. The anti-saloon forces were busy all day. Women in cities and towns took leading parts in getting voters to the polls. In many cities church bells were rung at regular intervals. In others, teachers marched at the heads of their pupils to the polls wearing badges. In country districts and in cities where pollbooths were given a holiday and the children went out with their fathers electioneering.

KIERNAN ARRESTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Patrick J. Kiernan, vice-president of the Fidelity Trust Company, whose affairs are in the hands of receivers, was arrested at his home here late today on the charge that he was a fugitive from justice, and that he was wanted in Chicago, where charges of grand larceny had been lodged against him.

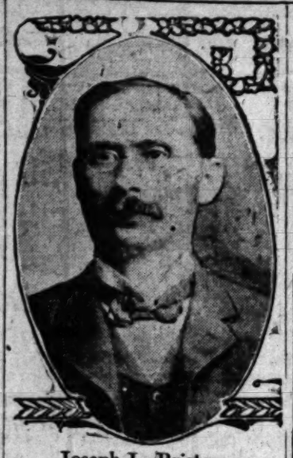
Kiernan had been locked up in a cell only a few hours when word came from the Chief of Police of Chicago stating that Kiernan had indictments there and requesting that he be released. This was done, but Kiernan was served with an order to appear in the Supreme Court on January 29 to be examined regarding the affairs of the Fidelity Funding Company.

JAPANESE DROWNED.

PORTLAND, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two Japanese members of the crew of the oriental liner Alesia were drowned here last Saturday night in attempting to escape from the ship.

Three members of the crew overboard on a hawser in the attempt to avoid the immigration officials and land. A moment later one of them began to call lustily for help and he was rescued.

No entry was heard from the other man and it has since been found they were carried away by the swift current in the river and drowned. As soon as their companion was rescued, search was made for the other two but they could not be found and it is feared they did not land. The captain of the Japanese is held in the county jail until the departure of the Alesia.



Joseph L. Bristow,

Salina, Kan., editor and formerly Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, who was yesterday elected United States Senator.

BRISTOW IS SENATOR.

Kansas Elects Republican Who Was Formerly Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOPEKA, Jan. 26.—The House and Senate here today, in a special session, voted for a United States Senator to succeed Chester I. Long for the six-year term beginning March 4 next. Joseph L. Bristow, the Salina editor and formerly fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, was given a decisive majority over Hugh Farrelly (Democrat) of Chanute, the only other candidate. Tomorrow the two houses in joint session will formally ratify today's selection.

The vote for Bristow in the House was 82, and 34 in the Senate.

The Democrats cast their votes for H. P. Farrelly, giving him 40 in the House, and 6 in the Senate.

NEWLANDS RE-ELECTED.

CHOSEN BY PEOPLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CARSON (Nev.) Jan. 26.—United States Senator Francis G. Newlands (Dem.,) who had been chosen by popular vote to succeed himself, was today elected by both houses of the Legislature voting separately. In the Senate he received 17 votes, two members not casting their ballots.

The Assembly gave him its full vote of 48. The Republicans stood by their agreement to abide by the popular vote, and placed no candidate in nomination.

CHAMPAIGN LOSES TO STANFORD.

Dean Clark of Illinois Institution Resigns to Come to Western University.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

URBANA (Ill.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] University of Illinois students are "sore" today, all because their mentor and friend, Prof. Thomas Arkle Clark, dean of undergraduates, is going to Leland Stanford University, lured by an increase in salary.

That Dean Clark's salary has been held at $3500 a year, while his companion deans are signing the pay roll at $5000 figures, is a fact that occasions great talk.

Following upon the probable resignation of Prof. L. P. Breckenridge of the Mechanical Engineering Department, to go to Yale, and the resignation last year of Dr. George T. Kemp, professor of physiology, alumni and students naturally began to talk. There are no grounds, however, for a story that Dean Clark resigned after a row with President James.

Prof. Clark is not at the head of a department, but has the social and moral side of the students in his care. The fact that he was elevated to a deanship is said to have nettled others, who have succeeded in keeping his salary about $1500 lower than the other deans. Because the university, for some reason, would not raise salaries, the institution in the past has lost such strong men as Prof. J. B. Scott, now authority on international law for the State Department; Prof. Drew of Columbia University and Prof. Pence of Purdue.

DIAMONDS CONFISCATED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 26.—A consignment of diamonds has been confiscated by customs authorities at Los Angeles from B. Schwobb, as the result of an investigation at this port.

The cases for the gems were sent through the mails from Mexico and intercepted here. It was believed the gems have been smuggled in and an investigation resulted in their discovery in Los Angeles.

OREGON EXPRESS WRECKED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Jan. 26.—Union Pacific train No. 5, known as the Oregon Express, west bound, struck a broken rail near Dana, this afternoon, and was wrecked.

Only one person was killed, Miss Emma C. Lingenpul of Danbury, Iowa, en route to Caldwell, Idaho. Nine were seriously injured. Nine cars left the rails.

CRAZY CELESTIAL.

CHINAMAN SHOOTS FARMER, KILLS SELF.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Look Fong Gin, a Chinaman, shot Louis Richards, a Milpitas rancher, today and then, to avoid being captured and lynched by angry neighbors, barricaded himself in a barn which he had set fire. When he saw that the place was about to be stormed he ended his life with a pistol.

Richards has been brought to the Agnews Hospital in this city. His left cheek is blown away with a shotgun and it is almost certain that he will die.

Gin is believed to have been crazed by over-indulgence in opium, and this afternoon set fire to his shack, which is located on the Ballou ranch, about two miles to the eastward from Milpitas. While the shack was burning it is said some of the embers were carried into a large barn located about 150 feet distant, and set fire to that, also.

Richards noticed the smoke of the burning buildings, and, together with John Wells, hastened to the place and commenced fighting the fire in the barn with buckets of water. The Chinaman had hidden in the loft and opened fire on the two men. The first shot struck Richards, but Wells stayed by his friend and carried him out of range of the celestial's shotgun.

Constable Costigan of Milpitas and Sheriff Langford of this city were notified by telephone, but in the meantime the barn had been surrounded by angry farmers, determined to lynch the Chinaman. Sheriff Langford dispatched several deputies to the scene, armed with repeating rifles. Before they could get to their destination the Chinaman had ended his life.

CRYING BABE'S NECK BROKEN.

Tired Father Kills Child to Secure Quiet.

Imagined That Infant Was Wreaking Spite.

Kansas City Father Goes to the Penitentiary.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Dave Stewart was tired when he came home at night after his work. He had heard the clanging of tools and machinery all day and quiet was what he wanted, but there was no quiet at his home.

A little girl 10 months old was a part of the Stewart family. It cried, as babies will. It cried also quite frequently after the manner of babies when the father came home tired. So Stewart told his wife that she petted the baby too much during the day to keet it quiet and thus made it cry in the evening.

But the baby kept crying night after night and Stewart got angry. He came to think in the absurd way some parents have when babies cry and they are so, so tired, that the child was wreaking its spite on him. So he set out to "break its temper." John Dave Stewart is strong.

A child of 10 months was a fluffy bit of nothing in his hands. The fingers accustomed to hard work gripped too tightly for baby's comfort and with those same strong hands Stewart choked the baby. He shook it hard one night and then slammed it down on the bed and told his wife to care for it. Baby's temper was broken. So was its neck. The Coroner and the doctors said Stewart killed his child and the wife pointed the accusing finger. So Stewart after that evening when the baby died went to the County Jail. First degree murder was the charge against him.

Today in Criminal Court Stewart withdrew his plea of not guilty to manslaughter in the fourth degree. His sentence to the penitentiary was two years. With the next consignment of prisoners who are taken to the penitentiary at Jefferson City will go John Dave Stewart, who killed his own child.

SHOT IN HIS STORE.

POCKETS EMPTIED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, Jan. 26.—William L. Thurston, who conducted a grocery store at No. 602 Bird avenue, was shot to death some time last night in his store by an unknown man, who, after securing the money in Thurston's pockets, fled in the darkness of the storm.

Thurston slept in the store. About 8 o'clock this morning, children in the vicinity observing that the store was not open, looked through a window and saw the body of Thurston lying inside, not far from the door. They gave the alarm and the officers were notified.

He had been shot at close range with a shotgun, the contents of which had literally torn his heart to pieces. His pockets were turned inside out and the floor was covered with blood.

MOTHER GOES MAD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN MATEO, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Frederck Scroggins, living in Fourteenth avenue, here, suddenly became insane today and after attempting to kill her 7-year-old daughter by cutting the little one's throat, committed suicide by slashing her own throat with the same weapon.

Her husband, who is a carpenter, was just leaving the house to go to work when the screams of his child attracted his attention. He reentered the house, picked up the wounded child and rushed with it to the home of his brother-in-law.

Returning to his home, he entered the kitchen where he found a trunk saturated with coal oil and partly ablaze. While he was attempting to extinguish the flames, his demented wife rushed into the bathroom and cut her throat. He carried her into the kitchen, and after stopping the flow of blood with a towel, summoned assistance, but before help arrived the woman was dead.

It is believed that the child will recover.

TRAIN ROBBER CONVICTED.

Desperado Who Stole $40,000 Will Probably Spend Rest of Life in Prison.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being out a little more than two hours the jury in the case of George Frankhauser, charged with the robbery of a Great Northern passenger train in Flathead county a year ago, and stealing $40,000 from the registered mail, this evening brought in a verdict of guilty.

Federal Judge Hunt announced that he would impose sentence Thursday. Being convicted on the charge of placing in jeopardy the lives of postal clerks, it means that the noted robber, who has been involved in several similar escapades, as well as daring jail deliveries, will spend the rest of his natural life at the Fort Leavenworth military prison.

ANOTHER HOLDUP.

WOMAN FEELS GUN'S POINT.

PRESSED AGAINST HER BODY BY HIGHWAYMAN.

When Within Few Feet of Her South Figueroa-street Home, Man Jumps Out from Behind Signboard, Presents Weapon and Seizes Her Purse—No Arrest.

Mrs. N. W. Cline of No. 133 South Figueroa street was robbed of her purse at 6 o'clock last night, by a highwayman when she was within a few feet of her residence. The purse contained $1 and a small parcel.

The man leaped out from behind a signboard, pressed a revolver against her body and commanded her to throw up her hands. As her arms were full of bundles, she objected. Without wasting time in argument, the robber grabbed her purse and ran north along Figueroa street.

Mrs. Cline telephoned to the police a good description of her assailant but no trace of him has been found. He was about 5 feet 8 inches in height, he wore a derby hat, soft white shirt, and dark clothes and was smooth shaven.

BLOODY TRAIL.

WIFE SHOOTER HARD PRESSED.

COUNTY AND CITY OFFICERS ARE PURSUING HIM.

Capture Hoped Through Wound in Foot Inflicted by Better Half After, as Is Alleged, He Had Discharged Two Bullets Into Her Person. Edendale Drama.

Sheriff's officers and city detectives are searching for Lester Adams of Edendale, who, on Sunday night, shot his wife twice because she refused to live with him. The woman returned the fire, wounding her husband in the foot.

The troubles of the Adams family grew out of the belief on the part of the woman that her husband had married her for her money. They were wedded less than two months ago.

The attack upon the woman was apparently premediated, and that she is alive is due to the fact that Adams is a very poor shot.

Both were earnest Seventh Day Adventists, stood high with members of the faith, and were supposed to be wealthy. They were married on December 7.

Mrs. Adams says she had been a bride only a few hours when her husband demanded that she give him a certain sum of money. She became suspicious of the honesty of his intentions, and drove him from the house at No. 2262 D street, Edendale.

He returned several times, but was refused admittance. He begged to be again given a place in her heart, but she turned a deaf ear to his pleadings and even resumed her maiden name, Anna P. Rowland.

Sunday night there was a knock on the door. The woman opened it, but when she saw Adams she turned away.

"Can't we make up and live together? Can't I come here and live with you and forget the troubles of the past?" he pleaded.

"No," replied Mrs. Adams, firmly.

"If we can't live together, we can die together," replied the maddened husband. He drew his revolver and fired. The bullet entered his wife's left arm, causing a flesh wound. She staggered but quickly recovered her poise, ran to her room and secured her own revolver. As she returned, Adams is alleged to have fired a second time, the bullet striking the woman in the left shoulder. She fell to the floor, but not before wounding her husband in the foot.

He ran, leaving a trail of blood. Neighbors, aroused by the shooting, hurried to the house and assisted Mrs. Adams to bed. She is now under the care of a physician, and is said to be in a critical condition.

It is thought Adams can be traced through the wound in his foot, as it must have been necessary for him to receive medical attention.

Mrs. Adams was formerly a trained nurse and served in several hospitals in this city.

Masked Men Rob.

T. Yakama, proprietor of a house-cleaning establishment at No. 2580 West Pico street, was held up by two masked men at Pico street and Vermont avenue about 7 o'clock, last night, and robbed of $3 and a watch. He notified the police, but was unable to give any description of the footpads. He said they stepped in front of him while he was going home, and commanded him to throw up his hands. One held a revolver in his face while the other searched his pockets.

WOMAN SMOTHERS ROOM-MATE.

PORTLAND, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Smothered by her room-mate in the State Insane Asylum at Salem, because she shouted and made too much noise in her sleep, Mrs. Susan Freece, was found dead in ward 10 of that institution this morning. A bed sheet was stuffed in her mouth and a pillow was over her face. Her room-mate, Mrs. Addie Nelson, when told that Mrs. Freece was dead, expressed her surprise. She admitted, however, having tried to stifle the sounds made during the night by her sleeping-companion. The dead woman was recently brought to the asylum from Lane county. She was very violent and noisy and it is surmised that she exhausted herself by her screams so that she was unable to defend herself against the attack of her room-mate.

AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores, from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

MRS. LAURA B. WHEELER.

Mrs. Laura B. Wheeler, Winsted, Conn., who is in her 94th year, says that she owes the health and vigor she enjoys to the judicious use of the world's greatest tonic-stimulant, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. She recommends it for Nervousness.

In June, 1908, Mrs. Wheeler wrote: "We are very glad to write you saying that we have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with marked improvement. Think it is a good remedy for nervousness.

"I am in my 94th year and am enjoying excellent health, thanks to your tonic stimulant and great medicine for the old."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is the greatest strength builder and tonic stimulant known to medicine. It attacks the seat of the disease, drives out the germs and rebuilds the weakened tissues, in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is an absolute cure and preventive of consumption, pneumonia, grip, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low fevers and all wasting, weakened, diseased conditions, if taken in time.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. At Auto Show---Attendance Breaks Records.

SELLING CARS.

MONEY JINGLES AT AUTO SHOW.

Visitors Purchase Nineteen-nine Auto Models.

Rain-Soaked Crowd Returns Home Gleefully.

New delights fascinate the ever-increasing crowd which is enjoying the automobile show. All previous attendance records were shattered, yesterday, the third day, and many are talking of trying to keep the show open for two weeks. This will not be possible as another exhibit is scheduled to be held this coming week, and the autos must give place.

Visitors from the Madison Square show are beginning to arrive. John F. McLain(western representative of the Franklin Motor Car Company, arrived yesterday. He says the Los Angeles show is a handsomer exhibit than was the Grand Central Palace show in New York, and ranks among the finest auto shows ever given in America. The Garden show, he says, while larger than ours, was not more beautiful. McLain is making his headquarters with Ralph Hamlin, in the Franklin booth, where the air-cooled cars are attracting much attention.

One of the record sales of the show was closed yesterday, when W. E. Spinks of Duarte, bought the big Lozier, one of the largest and highest-priced cars on the floor. The sale was closed for $6300, the car to be fully equipped and delivered after the show. This is the highest priced car sold.

MORE BUYERS.

Another sale in the high-class cars was closed last night by H. O. Harrison when Ralph Granger, president of the Merchants' National Bank of San Diego, purchased a big six-cylinder Peerless roadster, one of handsomest cars at the show. The big Peerless had been one of the show beauties which has attracted attention during the week, and Granger has been one of the most interested visitors. He could not keep away from the roadster, and yesterday he closed a deal whereby the car is to be delivered to him next week.

Still another high-priced car was sold by William Bush. R. P. Bishop of the Bishop Cracker Company, purchased a "little six" Pierce-Arrow, fully equipped, for $5500. In the same booth, the sales force, elated with the big deal, pulled off another last night when W. T. Owens took a "baby six" Pierce-Arrow, for which he paid $4200. This handsome little car is one of the attractive 1909 models which has drawn crowds to the Pierce-Arrow exhibit.

Two Oldsmobiles were sold yesterday in the H. O. Harrison booth, F. L. Du Broy, the factory agent, dividing honors with Harrison in making the sales. A. M. Lockridge bought an Olds roadster fully equipped, for which he paid $3060, and C. P. Hancock of Riverside fixed an Olds touring car better than any other in the show and paid $3200 for it, also fully equipped. There is joy in the Peerless-Oldsmobile-Apperson compartment.

Leon T. Shettler is keeping up the pace he set the first day of the show and closed his third sale yesterday. Two of these he closed yesterday for deliveries next week. They are Dr. H. F. Bishop of Alhambra, a two-cylinder Reo touring car, and the same model to Charles W. Atwood of No. 3911 North Grand avenue.

ANTHONY RETURNS.

Earle C. Anthony, manager of the Western Motor Car Company, returned yesterday from New York. He will pass the remainder of the week in the booth on the main aisle, and yesterday he was so busy answering queries that he had not time to meet his friends. Earle is here ready for work, and a big sales campaign, which promises to outshine any previous efforts of the concern, is to be begun. Anthony has been taking pointers from the eastern men and is ready for business.

Ever since his wedding day, weeks ago, Earle has been traveling among the eastern factories, studying the game and visiting the shows. While in the East he contracted for a Baker electric which Mrs. Anthony, who was formerly Miss Irene Kelly of this city, will drive. D. B. Rose, of the local Elmore agency, will deliver the car to Anthony after the show. The Baker was sold for $2000. The car is one of the handsomest of the handsome electric exhibit on the floor. Rose closed a sale for a four-cylinder Elmore last night. W. D. Lamb purchased an Elmore off the floor, and the car will be delivered the first day after the show.

Roy Forsyth was kept busy yesterday answering queries about his low-priced exhibit. The Auburn is attracting considerable attention. The four-cylinder touring car is one of the show beauties, and its polished engine is being admired by lovers of a motor car, who want a machine that will suit their pocketbooks.

W. P. Bosbyshell has an interesting exhibit. He is showing the Dorris car for the first time in Los Angeles. This machine, many believe, is destined to take an important place locally. The car is making good, and Bosbyshell is attracting his share of attention for his car.

William Ruess, in the Pope-Hartford booth, entertained scores of visitors yesterday. His high-powered auto is one of the best of the road cars exhibited at the show. The Pope has many lovers and these are helping "Grand Avenue Bill" to boost his cars. Bill will visit the factory after the show.

BY COMPRESSED AIR.

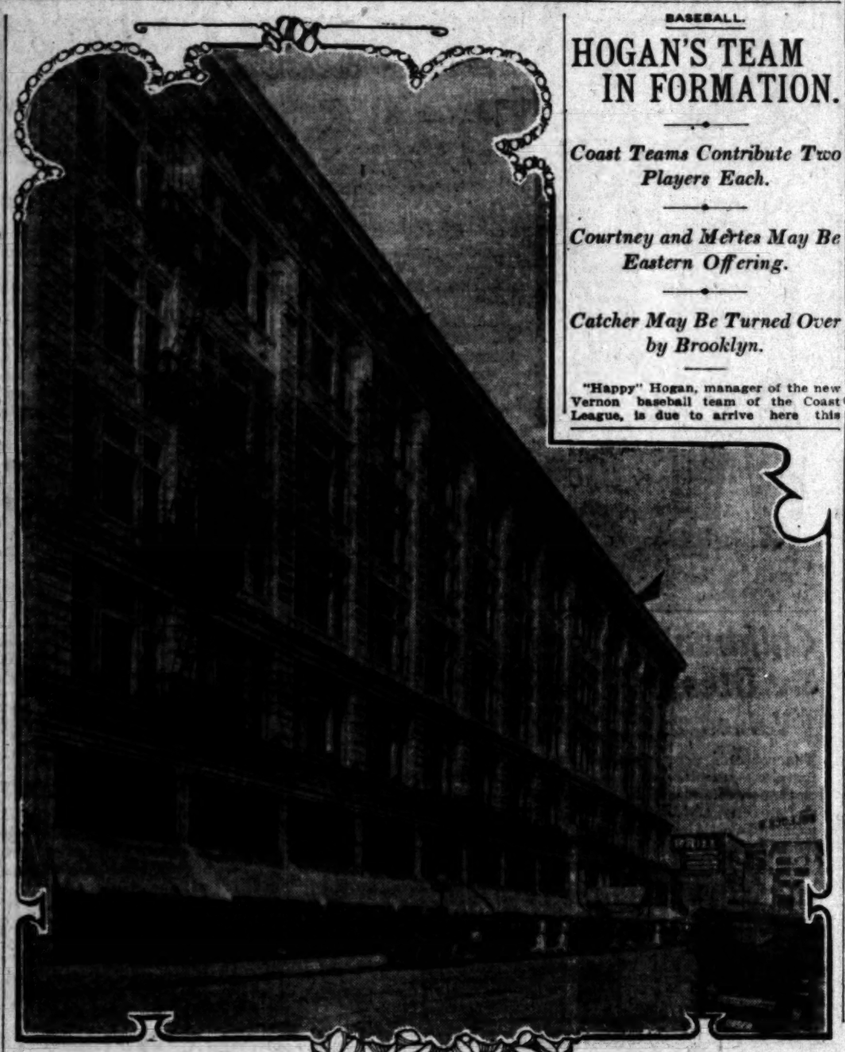
One of the interesting sights yesterday was the exhibit at the White booth, where an engine on a model M White was kept humming by compressed air. The car is operated easily, and one of the stunts of the salesmen in charge is to allow those who are interested in the car to take the driver's seat and operate the machine. The rear wheels have been elevated, and the engine rolls on with scarcely any vibration. The control system of the car is one of the features of the Model M which must appeal to purchasers.

Rene Brassy, the Thomas-Flyer agent, closed a deal for a "Little Six" Thomas-Flyer, yesterday. Though the sale talk was begun before the show it was closed on the floor when John Brockman, who has offices in the Security building, looked over the trim little machine. The car is a forty-horse-power Thomas. Another Thomas-Flyer was sold last night to A. S. Wiley, No. 2423 West Ninth street. He took a "Little Six" for $3175.

The Mitchell people are gathering here for the show. W. T. Lewis, president of the factory, arrived yesterday and will be here the remainder of the week. William Mitchell Lewis, vice-president; J. W. Gilson, sales manager, and J. W. Bate, general designer and superintendent, are here. The Mitchell men will be here for at least ten days after the show. P. H. Greer of the Greer-Robbins agency, which handles the Mitchell, will entertain this week for the factory representatives.

There is not a dealer on the floor who has not a bunch of prospects which he has gathered during the show. There is probably not a man in the exhibit who will not close at least one sale before the week is over. There is general rejoicing and satisfaction over the progress of the show, and the dealers and their friends are satisfied to let affairs roll along as smoothly as they have been going, with an increased attendance each day and more prospective buyers and purchasers.

The rain last night only added to the jollity of the big homeward-bound throng of autoists who enjoyed the exhibit. Hundreds of cars lined the entrance, after the show was over, and more than a thousand persons went home in covered autos. The Taxicab drivers reaped a harvest and the busy little buzzers were kept running until midnight.



Overflow Auto Exhibition at Hamburger's,

GLASS SMASHED, FOUNTAIN STOPS.

Some miscreant smashed his foot through the glass in the electric fountain at the automobile show last night, and for the time spoiled the prettiest feature of the handsome exhibit. The bowl of the fountain contained 100 large gold fish, most of which were rescued before all the water had leaked out. No one knows who is responsible for the malicious act, but the person will be prosecuted if his name can be learned.

At about 8:30 o'clock Jack Adams, one of the show attendants, discovered the broken glass, and the water was hurriedly shut off. The dying fish in the bowl were scooped into buckets. The fountain will be repaired at once and the glass should be in place this morning at the opening hour. The fish that remain alive will be turned back into the bowl, the colored lights are to glow again and today the fountain should be as beautiful as ever.

BASEBALL.

HOGAN'S TEAM IN FORMATION.

Coast Teams Contribute Two Players Each.

Courtney and Mertes May Be Eastern Offering.

Catcher May Be Turned Over by Brooklyn.

"Happy" Hogan, manager of the new Vernon baseball team of the Coast League, is due to arrive here this morning from San Francisco and the northern part of the State, and it is expected that he will bring a bunch of signed contracts back with him. It is a little early in the season to announce a ball team under the conditions of the new club, but Hogan really began business with a team almost complete, and should not have to work very hard to make a good showing.

It has not been generally known to the fans, but when the Vernon team became a reality, it was agreed by the Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Oakland teams that they would release two players each to the new club, and Hogan has these eight men to begin with. Henry Berry of the Los Angeles team released Hogan and Brashear, and it is a reasonably sure thing that Curtis will be one of the players taken from the San Francisco team, and Melchoir may be the other. Catcher Lewis and Third Baseman Bill Devereaux will doubtless be the Oakland contribution, while Pitcher Pernoll will be one of the men from Portland.

In addition to these it is understood that Hogan has just about secured Right Fielder Smith of the outlaw San José team, as the negotiations between them are understood to have resulted satisfactorily. Lines are also out for Ernie Courtney, a well-known Coast ball player, who has played here many times. He has been with Philadelphia several seasons, and it can be taken as straight that he will play with the Vernons this year if he can secure his release from Philadelphia, where he is doing utility roles. If he comes here he will be used as a third baseman, in all probability.

A rumor was current yesterday that Hogan had secured the signature of Sam Mertes for second base. Sam is too well known to need any introduction, for he has been a big league man who played with the New York Nationals and the Chicago Nationals, among other teams, and was with the Minneapolis club last year.

Information reached this city yesterday that the new club has a deal on with the Brooklyn National League team for a Bitcher Farmer, and he may be landed. Concerning catchers, it might be stated that if Farmer is signed, Lewis of Oakland may not be wanted, for Manager Hogan will have to take his turn behind the bat, for the club cannot afford to carry any but a playing manager.

There are to be two games here on Sundays and holidays, and the first game of all such double-headers and every Tuesday afternoon game, with the possible exception of Tuesday, March 30, which is the opening day of the season, will be played in Vernon. It is more than likely that the opening game will be played at the Chutes grounds, as it is a more suitable place to start the ball on account of it being in the city. All morning games will begin at 10 o'clock.

Looking for Trouble.

The Los Angeles newsboys have organized a ball team and are looking for a game for next Sunday with any out-of-town team.

PIEXOTTO WASHED BACK.

P.A.A. President Unable to Reach Los Angeles to Confer With Southern Athletes.

Sidney S. Piexotto, chairman of the P.A.A. of San Francisco, who was expected to reach this city today to confer with the local commission of the P.A.A., has telegraphed to George W. Braden, chairman of the local commission, that he would not be able to reach here before next week on account of the washouts on the railroads.

Meetings are to be held at the Y.M.C.A., Tuesday and Wednesday nights, at which important business regarding amateur athletics will be discussed.

The local commission will hold a meetings tonight at the Y.M.C.A. The matters of greatest importance now receiving its attention are the selection of the Southern California basketball teams to compete in the State championships at San Francisco next month, and the consideration of plans to form an independent commission here that will be independent of the P.A.A. and directly under the A.A.U.

George W. Braden will make an effort to interest the local colleges and athletic clubs to the extent of having them become members of the A.A.U., and he believes that the required number of members can be secured without much difficulty, and then a commission can be organized here that will be independent of and equal in authority to the P.A.A. of San Francisco.

JUST A TRIFLE.

JEFF SIGNS FOR MORRIS.

On Twenty Weeks for Fifty Thousand Dollars.

May Get Twenty Weeks More for Similar Sum.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stealing a march on his competitors, who were delayed by washouts, William Morris, the eastern vaudeville man, came quietly into San Francisco a couple of days ago and today signed Jeffries for a twenty weeks' engagement on the Morris circuit.

While the salary paid Jeffries is not stated by Morris, it is understood he is to receive $50,000 for the engagement and that Morris has the privilege of renewing the contract for twenty weeks additional.

Morris announces he will open Jeffries in New York City on March 8. He will spend two weeks in New York and then will go over the circuit, including Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

This engagement will not interfere in any way with the plans of Harris and Pinchus to stage Jeffries for two weeks over California. After closing at the Wigwam next Saturday night, Jeffries will do a one-night stand at Vallejo, Sunday evening, and after a week in which to close his business affairs at Los Angeles, will go over the California circuit. He will then return to Los Angeles to get himself in still better shape for his long tour, and report in New York about March 1.

Morris has a new plan for Jeffries. He does not believe in making an actor of the retired champion, but wants to get as far away as possible from the fight idea, and prefers to make Jeffries prominent as a modern Sandow, or something of that sort. While there will be some boxing in the act, Morris believes that feature should be made as inconspicuous as possible. He wants to costume Jeffries after the fashion of an English acrobat, and prefers to show by way of illustration just how strong a man can become when he develops his muscles to the best advantage.

WELSH SLUGGING.

MEMSIC IS CONFIDENT.

Freddie Welsh tried to show off before a crowd of theatrical people who attended his work-out at Venice yesterday, where he is getting ready to meet George Memsic at McCarey's Pavilion next Tuesday evening, but he only got half way through his bout with Young Sikora when the eastern lad cried that he had enough, and Welsh was obliged to take on another youngster to fill the bill.

Welsh is plodding along easily, getting into the best shape possible for his go with Memsic, for he has been awakened to the fact that the Bohemian is fast returning to the form in which he met Charlie Neary. Welsh is nearing the weight and he will be younger than ever when he enters the ring Tuesday evening.

Memsic did his usual stunts yesterday at East Side, his performance being witnessed by a large crowd of fans. He boxed eight rounds and weighed 134½ at the end of his exercise. Memsic declared that all that he has said regarding his chances was no exaggeration, but that he expected to surprise the patrons of the boxing game in Southern California.

Harry Gilmore is to stay in town with Packy McFarland to await the result of this fight, and should Memsic win, the two could come to terms at once, and the great battle between Packy and Memsic would be put on at McCarey's within a couple of weeks from Tuesday.

Charlie Dalton has recovered from his cold, which he contracted ten days ago, and he is anxious to go on with Frank Picato at an early date as planned for last evening. It is probable that McCarey will stage the contest on the evening of February 9, possibly adding Jack Burns and Jim Casseron for a ten-round bout, making a double card for the evening.

Almost Wreck Building.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Al Kubiak and Tony Ross did not meet tonight owing to Manager Scanlon of the New Central Athletic Club failing to make good his promise to pay the guarantee in advance and about 700 angry sports who had paid their money almost wrecked old City Hall at midnight when the lights were being turned out on them. Friends of Kubiak and Ross are hunting for Scanlon and his cashier.

English Begins Work.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 26.—Clarence English, who is signed to meet Jim Gregg before the Gate City Athletic Club on the night of February 16, commenced training for the event here today. Gregg is now at Santa Barbara getting in trim for the fight and recuperating from the fearful pounding given him by Howard Baker Tuesday night of last week.

Brannigan Beats Harvey.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the Highland Theater here tonight Patsy Brannigan of Pittsburgh had all the better of Charles Harvey of Chicago, and had it not been for close attention on the part of the referee, would have put him out. It was evident that the Chicago lad held the Pittsburgh boy too cheaply until after the first round, when his mind changed and it was then a question of saving himself.

Wolgast's Fight Off.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Acting Mayor Touhey issued orders today not to permit any boxing contests in Little Rock in the future, and the Sullivan-Wolgast fight, scheduled for February 2, has been declared off. Today's order is the result of legislative action.

Coster and O'Leary.

ALBANY, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Coster of Brooklyn and Young O'Leary of New York fought ten rounds before the Knickerbocker Athletic Club here tonight. O'Leary outpointed Coster and won the fight, which was for points, as no decisions are officially rendered. Both boys showed good form and fought gamely.

Unsatisfactory Fight.

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The twelve-round bout between Young Donohue of this city and Willie Fitzgerald at the Armory Athletic Association tonight, ended in a draw. It was a slow, uninteresting affair, both men repeatedly falling into clinches after a lead. Altogether it was an unsatisfactory bout.

DOWN AND OUT AT SUBURBAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Horsemen who have their strings at Suburban Park, now closed down on orders of Gov. Sanders, are getting hungry. Many are flat broke. They came to Suburban as a last resort, having had the promise of Judge Joseph A. Murphy that everything was all ribht. Subsequent events have proved that Murphy spoke too soon.

The prosecution of the bookmakers at Suburban and the test of the Locke law now promises to drag through a week or ten days and meanwhile the owners at Suburban have no income.

Eugene Lutz is one of the hard luckers. He pawned his jewelry to get his horses here, arriving on the very day the track was closed. He has never raced.

Those able to get away are preparing to go to San Antonio, Tex., or the City of Mexico.

RACING.

USES THE WHIP TO FINISH LAST.

MONTGOMERY RUNS WRETCHED RACE AT ARCADIA.

Old-Time Stake Horse Has Gone Back or Is Being Saved for Coup. Only Last Year Was Considered Best Horse in Training—Yesterday Was Entered in Selling Race.

If the old stake horse Montgomery runs in the coming Burns Handicap like he did yesterday at the Arcadia race track he will be totally out of it, for he dumped the gamblers in an awful manner and ran a bad last in a four-horse race. The poor suckers did not see anything but Montgomery and thought the other nags in the race were running for the short end of the money, but the result showed that either Montgomery is of no account or that the "right money" was not down.

The sports thought something looked suspicious when they saw the once great horse in a cheap selling race but the programme showed that the winner must be sold for $6000. But few of the gamblers not on "the inside" thought that Montgomery could lose against such a cheap field of nags as he was up against, but he ran a bad last and was never in it, the lightweighted Maltbie taking an early lead and staying in front to the end.

The programme was made up for cheap skaters apparently and the time made was slow owing to a heavy track. A good-sized crowd of gamblers saw the races but there was no feature except the funny defeat of the well-liked Montgomery.

HORSEBACK.

POLO GAME IS ASSURED.

Pasadena Horse Show to Be the Best Ever.

Polo Club and Annual Tournaments Planned.

Frank Mackey's English polo team and the San Mateo five are to play a match game Tuesday, March 9, at Tournament Park, Pasadena, to open the annual horse show of the Southern California Hores Show Association of Pasadena.

Arrangements for the event were completed by Secretary E. D. Neff yesterday afternoon, and an active campaign for the best show ever held in Southern California has begun.

The two contending teams have begun practice—the Mackey team at Riverside, where the members arrived a few days ago, and the San Mateo team on the Burlingame polo field near San Francisco.

The game is to be especially significant in that it is expected to be the first of an annual series of contests which are planned to be enlarged into a tournament of a week's play by another year. A polo club is to be formed at once, and it is hoped to have the organization going in time to entertain the visiting teams in March.

The polo game is to open the horse show, which is to continue three days thereafter. Secretary Neff has been assured of a large entry list and to accommodate the number, fifty-four classes are to be provided for, fourteen more than last year.

It is believed that this horse show will boost future events of the kind more than any other heretofore held, and the formation of a polo club should keep interest active throughout the year.

It is probable that in addition to the polo game, a series of polo pony races and other equine events will be held, as the half-mile track and large field will furnish all needed facilities.

RIVERSIDE TEAMS.

POLO SEASON OPENS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a large number of visiting poloists in Riverside, as well as local players, the polo season opened this week in a promising manner. Particular interest centers in Frank J. Mackey's English team which is to take an active part in this year's polo on the grounds of the Riverside Polo Club at Chemawa Park, entering later in the international tournament for the Spreckels cup at Coronado.

Three of the players on this team have already arrived in Riverside. These are Mr. Mackey, Maj. A. M. Rotheram and F. A. Gill. Mr. Mackey has cabled to Mr. O'Reilly, the famous back of the All-Ireland team, to make the fourth member of the team.

Mr. Mackey and his party will remain in Riverside until the last of February. This will insure some of the best competitions that have ever been seen in this city.

The principal event of the polo season will be the annual tournament for the Mackey cup, which will be played on the week beginning February 22. Seven teams will compete for the trophy, including Mr. Mackey's English team, one each from Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Coronado and Burlingame, and two from Riverside. The conditions under which the cup was offered by Mr. Mackey three years ago were that it should be played for every year on the Riverside polo grounds and that it should not become the permanent possession of any team until it should have been won three times by that team. It has been won once by the Mackey team and twice by the Riverside team, and a determined effort will be made by the local team to capture it this year.

Many society events are planned for the week of the tournament, and it is expected that thehe will be a brilliant gathering of society people from the towns represented, as well as polo participants.

The Mackey team and two teams from the Riverside Polo Club will go to Pasadena March 9 and to Coronado March 13 for the tournament for the John D. Spreckels cup.

On the Riverside grounds tomorrow three teams will begin a competition for a cup offered by M. Redmayne, and from now on it is expected that polo activity in Riverside will surpass all records of the winter sport in this city.

FIELD TRIALS ARE ON.

Terry's Eurydice Is Declared Winner for Derby and All-Age to Be Run Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 26.—After an interesting final in the Derby, the first event in the field trials, J. E. Terry's Eurydice, was declared the winner. Judge C. N. Post's Love Lass took second honors, while S. J. W. Flynn's Kenwood Bangs was third.

The second run was begun this morning and after its completion the judges ordered Eurydice and Love Lass down for the final round. The decision had hardly been reached before place in the Derby last year, will be matched with Avalon. Kils Linda, with Madera Dick and Santa Rosa with Kils Viola, all formidable candidates, will furnish the other races in the promising event.

The regular club meeting for the election of the new board of officers was postponed until tomorrow night.

EMERYVILLE RACES.

OAKLAND, Jan. 26.—The racing at Emeryville today was marked by several close finishes. In the two-year-old event Rezon and Penn fought it out the last sixteenth, the former getting the decision by a nose. In the fourth, at a mile and twenty yards, Colonel Jack closed with a rush, and outgaming Ketchemike beat him a head. No rain fell, but the track was very muddy.

Six furlongs, selling: Platoon, 107 (Van Dusan,) won; Marion Rose, 105 (Buxton,) second; Transmute, 105 (McCarthy,) third; time, 1:19. Invader, Mary B. Clark, Von Tromp, Sea Lad, Lampradrome, Rose Cherry, Hulford, Yellow Stone and Sid Silver finished as named.

Three furlongs, purse: Rezon, 108 (Keogh,) won; Penn, 100 (Scoville,) second; Fire, 110 (Goldstein,) third; time, 0:38. Kanoma, Penetrate, Silver Grain, Metchem, Lady Rucker and Calene Gale finished as named.

Six furlongs, selling: Deutschland, 116 (Keogh,) won; Duke of Orleans, 107 (Gilbert,) second; Mitre, 107 (J. Carroll,) third; time, 1:18 3-5. Gene Hailey, Yank, Belle Kinney, Mabel Hollander, Zelina, Curriculum and Agnolo finished as named.

Mile and twenty yards, selling: Colonel Jack, 107 (Keogh,) won; Ketchemike, 103 (Scoville,) second; Early Tide, 100 (Buxton,) third; time, 1:48. Bellewether, Nebulosus and Tommy Ahearn finished as named.

Mile and seventy yards, selling: Confessor, 109 (Ross,) won; The Peer, 90 (Deverich,) second; Paladin III (Keogh,) third; time, 1:53. Bellmence, St. Avoon, Aunt Rose, Harry Rogers, The Englishman, Metlakatla, Carmellina and Gromobol also ran.

Six furlongs, purse: Bubbling Water, 105 (Keogh,) won; Warden, 107 (Lee,) second; Argonaut, 108 (Mentry,) third; time, 1:17 4-5. Tom Hayward, Ornate and Silver Knight finished as named.

HYOMEI

(PRONOUNCED HIGH-O-ME)

People are quitting stomach dosing to cure catarrh. It's a good sign. It shows an increase in intelligence which is no doubt due to increased educational advantages.

A little thought will prove to any catarrh sufferer that the only way to cure catarrh is to kill the catarrh germs.

And the only way to kill the germs is to get where the germs are with a powerful antiseptic so penetrating that it will reach every part, every nook, corner and crevice of the germ-infested membrane, and destroy the pests.

That is just what Hyomei does. But it does more; it not only kills the germs, but it soothes and heals the raw and inflamed membrane, and brings it back to its normal condition.

Hyomei is nature's remedy. It is vaporized air, produced from the mighty eucalyptus trees of inland Australia, where catarrh, consumption, or any respiratory disease is unknown.

You breathe in this antiseptic air through a hard rubber inhaler that comes with every outfit. It gives relief in five minutes. It breaks up a cold in a day. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, asthma, sore throat, bronchitis or croup, or money back. A complete outfit is only $1.00, and extra bottles, which may be needed in chronic cases, cost but 50 cents. Anyone who suffers with catarrh after this offer, must enjoy it. At druggists everywhere, or direct, all charges prepaid, from Booth's Hyomei Co., 39 Ellicott St., Buffalo, N. Y.

WISE TALKS

By the "Office Boy"

The somewhat elderly but still handsome and well-preserved bachelor had long been an admirer of the young lady, but never had dared to tell her so. At last, however, he mustered courage to say: "Miss Jessie, I wish I were 20 years younger."

"Why so?" she asked.

"Because then I should be bold enough, perhaps, to ask you to marry me."

With a charming smile she shook her head.

"I should have to tell you no, Mr. Baxter," she said. "If you were 20 years younger you would be—er—a great deal too young for me."

He took the hint—and a little while later the young lady, too.

Many a man has lost out just because he wasn't patient enough to wait until well planted endeavor had time to sprout. What goes into the past comes out of the future. Carelessness will not ripen into success. Trickery will not breed eminence. Millionaires are unmade—not created at the gaming table. Every Wall Street fortune is built out of a thousand Wall Street misfortunes. The men who buy silver-plated harness for today wore work-plated harness for a great many yesterdays. Science has accomplished a lot of new things with water power and air power, but has not improved on man power. Nothing so far in the history of humanity has been discovered as an acceptable substitute for honest, steady labor. There are about fifty honest, conscientious, obliging, high-class men employed in the Silverwood Stores, who are straining every nerve and using every straightforward means at their command to get you for a customer. They realize that you would like our goods and our way of doing business. Won't you drop in and get acquainted? Either store.

57 YEARS A SUFFERER FROM CATARRH IN ITS WORST FORM CURED.

F. B. De Merritt, 130 S. Fifth street, Alhambra, Cal., says: "I have been a terrible sufferer from catarrh of the head and throat. When I first came to Drs. Shores for treatment it had got so bad a piece of bone had come out of my left nostril and the odor was so bad it made me sick when I would stoop over. I had continual running into my throat and at night I could not breathe through my nose it was so stopped up. I have had catarrh ever since I was seventeen (17) years old. I am now in my seventy-fourth (74th) year. I have tried many kinds of catarrh remedies without benefit, and I want to say, that after five (5) months' treatment from Drs. Shores & Shores I feel perfectly cured. I feel that the afflicted ought to know about Drs. Shores' wonderful treatment so that they can be cured as I have been. Any one doubting the truthfulness of this testimonial is at liberty to call on me and I will gladly verify the truthfulness of the same.

(Signed) "F. E. De MERRITT."

Classified Liners.

Times Classified rates: the rate for inserting "Want" ads. in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word, each insertion; minimum charge 25c; except under following classifications the rate for which is 10c per line, minimum charge 50 cents: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," and "Baths and Massage."

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late To Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Rates 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "Liners," as no mistakes can be rectified without them.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

TIMES COOK BOOK, NO. 3, READY TODAY, and until the edition is exhausted, is placed on sale at the largest, most elaborate and comprehensive cook book of the series issued by The Times.

The 325 recipes for hot Spanish and Mexican dishes and the hygienic department are big features of the publication. The recipes, brought out by The Times Prize Cooking Contest, are generally from Southern California housewives and noted chefs. Price 25c; by mail, 4 additional. Address THE TIMES, Los Angeles.

SUNDAY REAL ESTATE LINERS—Classified real estate advertisements for insertion in THE SUNDAY TIMES must be in the office not later than 10:30 o'clock Saturday nights. Other "want" advertisements for Sunday insertion will be taken over the counter until 11:30 p.m.

The great volume of liners printed in The Sunday Times, numbering regularly over 5000 separate announcements, makes this regulation absolutely necessary in order to get the big forms all come out on time.

FOR SALE— WHERE CAN I GET 5 ACRES FOR $1000 OR TERMS $1 DOWN AND $5 PER MONTH PER ACRE?

Go and see the best orange land at Monte Vista. You can buy land anywhere, but choice land with water developed is worth looking up. Monte Vista is midway between Pomona and Ontario and only an hour's ride from Los Angeles. It has two railroad stations and three packing houses. One packing-house right on the ground shipped 183 carloads of oranges this season. Bearing orange groves on four sides sell from $1000 to $2000 an acre. They return a net revenue of $500 an acre. You waste your time looking for better land for any purpose. It is the best fruit soil in the State. This land has a great future also, besides two railroads already, an electric line is surveyed through it.
WATER STOCK WITH THE LAND. Water developed and piped direct to each 5-acre tract. If you seek good land, better see this at once as it is selling fast and the price never can go lower and will soon go higher.

5 SHARES WATER STOCK FREE.
GO AND SEE FOR YOURSELF.
IT ONLY TAKES AN HOUR.

Monte Vista is partly in the city limits of Ontario, 25 miles east of Los Angeles. It is in the heart and center of the best, biggest and most fruitful orange section of the State. 50,000 acres of oranges and fruits surround it.
BEARING ORANGE GROVES
NORTH, EAST, SOUTH AND WEST.
Improved groves selling from $1000 to $2000 an acre and returning a net revenue of $900 per acre. Improved farms and gardens in the vicinity also yielding large returns. Winter rhubarb there pays as high as $750 an acre.
THE PLACE TO GO IS WHERE YOU CAN MAKE THE MONEY
AND WHERE VALUES ARE GOING UP.
Monte Vista has two railroad stations, three packinghouses, is only 60 minutes from Los Angeles, 10 minutes from Pomona, a short distance from the college town of Claremont, and has public schools, fine churches and electric line at Ontario. There is nothing else anywhere as good at the price and there is nothing better at any price.

you on their ship which sails on Saturday."

The announcement was received with groans of dissatisfaction. The amazed expressions on the faces of the men indicated that they had expected more from the company which has been singing their praises. Many of the men were without funds, and were without places to sleep.

FLORIDA'S STATEMENT.

The statement by C. B. Richards & Co., agents of the Florida, says:

"The Florida was proceeding slowly, when the fog whistles of another steamer, which afterward proved to be the Republic, were heard by the officers and lookouts off the starboard bow of the Italian steamer.

"The engines on the Florida were reversed, and two signals of the whistles were blown, indicating that the engines were going astern. The collision, nevertheless, took place, the bow of the Florida striking the port side of the Republic somewhat aft of amidships, causing serious damage to both steamers.

"When the Republic became visible through the fog, she was crossing the bow of the Florida from starboard to port, and running at high speed. The helm of the Florida was promptly put to starboard, hoping to swing the bow of the Florida to starboard, and to assist in averting the danger of a collision. The other steamer, however, was running so fast that the vessels collided.

"The published statements that there was a misunderstanding of orders on the bridge of the Florida are not true. The orders given by the captain were promptly and properly executed."

CAPT. SEALBY'S STORY.

Few marine stories in recent years of marvelous escapes from the sea equal in dramatic intensity that told by Capt. Sealby today of the escape of himself and Second Officer Williams of the Republic. The captain would not talk of the collision with the Florida, Capt. Sealby said:

"It was about 8 o'clock Sunday night, when the Republic was sinking and only myself and Williams were on the bridge. There was a rumbling and cracking at the after-end of the boat. The stern was settling very rapidly and the sea was pretty bad. Then I said to Williams:

"'Well, well, what do you think about it, Williams?' and Williams answered: 'I don't think it will be a long race. Let us sprint for it. When you are ready, let her go.'

"I looked aft again and saw how fast she was going, and I told Williams to burn a blue light. Then I fired my revolver five times to let the boats around me know that we were going off. Turning to Williams, I said; 'Let us take to the forward rigging,' and we ran from the bridge to the saloon deck, burning our blue lights as we went, and carrying an ordinary lantern.

"When we got to the saloon deck the water was coming in a little aft of where we stood. As we ran forward the stern was sinking so rapidly and the incline was so steep that when we got to the foreriggning we started to slip back, and could hardly keep on deck. The last I saw of Williams he had crossed the port rail and was hanging over the side. I took to the rigging and went up as high as the masthead lights, a distance of many feet.

"I rested there and took out a blue light. It was wet and would not go off, and I then fired the last shot from my revolver. The water had now caught up too me, coming up under my great coat, and I floated. The revolver and my binocle held my coat down, acting as a sort of ballast. At this time the water was a roaring, seething mass all about me. I was caught in a whirlpool for some time and I was churned around until I came to the surface.

"I tried to pull off my coat, but could not. There was considerable debris about me and I managed to catch hold of some broken spars. Then I caught a large hatch covering and pulled myself out on it and lay on it spread-eagle fashion.

"The searchlights had been playing on the ship and were now playing on the spot where she went down. It seemed an interminable time until they could come, but I managed to load my revolver again and fired to attract their attention. The bullets had been greased and they kept dry.

"I was getting weak, cold and numb. I just lay on the hatch and saved my strength until the last, shouting at intervals. Then the lights played on me and I waved a towel which I found floating near me, and shortly after the boats from the revenue cutter Gresham picked me up and carried me aboard. I found Williams in that little boat. I thought I had seen the last of him."

Capt. Sealby praised in unmeasured terms the courage and pluck of the Republic's passengers, officers and crew, and Operator Binns. He will make his report of the accident to the officers of the White Star Company some time today.

Second Officer Williams said that when he found himself in the sea he seized two pieces of floating grating and held himself up between them until picked up by the revenue cutter's boat.

Officer Williams said:

"They found me before they picked up Capt. Sealby, and when the captain was taken aboard the lifeboat he lay still for a time, then he turned and thrust his arms around me and said:

"'You were game to the last.'"

"FRAUDULENT" ORDER.

Letters and Money for Local Concern Will Be Returned to Senders or Dead Letter Office.

The Postmaster-General has issued a fraud order against the Home Apron and Dress Company of this city, which will put a stop to its mail-order business. The concern, which has an office in the Lissner building, has been advertising in small country papers in the East for competent needle women. In response to inquiries, the company would represent that there was plenty of work for all applicants making aprons. It stated that goods and patterns would be forwarded anywhere on receipt of $1 as a guaranty of good faith.

It is reported by the postal inspectors that women all over the country applied for work, and sent in their dollars for material. After the aprons were mailed, the poor women would either hear nothing more from the company or else the aprons would be returned as being badly sewed, and a suggestion would be made that more money be forwarded for perfect samples.

The Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association were deluged with inquiries regarding the apron company, and the matter was finally referred to the postal inspectors. That their investigation was unfavorable to the concern is evidenced by the fraud order.

The order of Postmaster-General G. L. Von Meyer says that the Home Apron and Dress Company, and its officers and agents at Los Angeles, Cal., are "engaged in conducting a scheme or device for obtaining money through the mails by means of false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, in violation of the act of Congress.

"The Postmaster-General hereby forbids you to pay any postal money order drawn to the order of said concern and parties, and you are hereby directed to inform the remitter of any such postal money order that payment thereof has been forbidden, and that the amount thereof will be returned upon presentation of the original order or a duplicate thereof applied for and obtained under the regulations of the department.

"And you are hereby instructed to return all letters, whether registered or not, and other mail matter which shall arrive at your office directed to the said concern and parties to the postmasters at the office at which they were originally mailed, to be delivered to the senders thereof, with the word "Fraudulent" plainly written or stamped upon the outside of such letters or matter."

In case the senders are not known the letters will go to the Dead Letter Office.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

Knights of Columbus Hold Annual Ball, Proceeds of Which Go to Maternity Hospital.

Los Angeles Council, Knights of Columbus, held their annual ball yesterday evening at the Goldberg-Bosley Assembly Rooms and, despite the inclement weather, there was a large attendance. The ball was given in honor of the seventh anniversary of the founding of the society in Los Angeles.

From 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock the 400 guests enjoyed themselves at an informal reception. The gowns of the women were, in a number of instances, made expressly for the occasion, which is considered one of the chief events of the year in Catholic social circles.

While the dancing was in progress, later in the evening, light refreshments were served in one of the parlors. The proceeds of the affair will be given to St. Anne's Maternity Hospital, one of the latest of the numerous Catholic institutions of Los Angeles, located in a pretty dwelling on South Figueroa street, which does not discriminate in taking patients.

The committee which had the affair in charge, and which deserves the credit of the undertaking, was composed of John P. Burke, Grand Knight of the Council; P. J. McGarry, Henry F. Daly, Charles L. Whipple, Dr. P. G. Cotter, Charles A. King, D. Joseph Coyne and James P. Burns.

LOST DIAMONDS FOUND.

After finding $300 worth of diamonds at Fifth and Main streets, yesterday afternoon, which had been lost by Mrs. I. M. Cline of St. Louis, a guest at the Rosslyn Hotel, and placing them in a safety deposit box, Robert Myers, alias William Davis, an "Oriental doctor," was arrested, last night. He denied at first that he had the stones, but finally agreed to return them today, if he was released.

The police required him to make a deposit of $268.85 in cash, and two diamonds valued at $500. His brother, James Meyers, made the deposit. The police also took possession of the key of his safety deposit box.

Mrs. Cline lost her gems when she opened her purse at the corner, while waiting for a street car. They were in a chamois skin bag and Meyer was seen by several people when he picked the bag up.

About an hour later, Mrs. Cline discovered her loss and reported it to the detectives.

AGAIN!

STORMY STILL ALONG COAST.

Another Inch Is Recorded in Los Angeles.

Santa Barbara County Suffers Severely.

A little over eight-tenths of an inch of rain fell in Los Angeles between 8 o'clock last night and 1 o'clock this morning, according to The Times gauge, making the total for the season 11.51 inches.

The storm appeared to be confined to the coast regions from this county northward. San Diego, San Bernardino and Riverside reported late last night that there had been no precipitation there.

Its full force was felt at San Luis Obispo, where five inches fell in the twenty-four hours. Three houses at El Pismo were carried away by flood waters and swept into the Pacific. Santa Barbara suffered greatly from the storm, and portions of the Lompoc Valley were inundated. Here are late reports from The Times correspondents:

Houses Swept Into Ocean.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Jan. 26.—Three Harvey houses at El Pismo were swept into the Pacific Ocean today when Price Creek overflowed and rushed through the town.

Arroyo Grande is partially under water and the Santa Maria River has changed its course, threatening the city of Santa Maria. It is now coming towards the city.

Up to 11 p.m., nearly five inches of rain had fallen, which is the heaviest precipitation for twenty-four hours known here.

On January 8, 1901, there was a fall of 4.40 inches in the twenty-four hours. The rainfall for the season is twenty inches. The rain continues, but the wind has abated. The ocean is rough and vessels cannot land at the port..

Santa Barbara Suffers.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This county suffered greatly from the storm which raged today. Many small bridges spanning creeks were carried out and roads washed away. Parts of Lompoc Valley were inundated in spots from an overflowing creek. The Santa Maria Valley, near the San Luis Obispo line, is being flooded by the waters of the Santa Maria River, now out of its banks. Several families were driven from their homes and the situation elsewhere outside this city is serious.

The Southern Pacific's tracks both north and south are washed out. At Sisters' ranch, north of here, the damming of a culvert backed the water over a quarter of a mile, ten feet in places, threatening the tracks. The train which left here northbound at noon returned, not daring to continue. Another landslide at Summerland, six miles south of here, added to the Coast division's difficulties. Not a tap is being done toward clearing the great landslide that buried four men last Saturday. The cliff in that vicinity is highly dangerous because of today's rain, and men can't work in the peril zone.

In this city conditions are the worst for many years. The lower State-street bridge over Mission Creek is under a foot of water. The Chapala-street bridge is also endangered. On the boulevard, breakers broke clear across, and washed against the stone coping of the Potter Hotel grounds. Kelp and other sea debris has been washed along the boulevard for over a mile.

Booth's Point is impassable. A lagoon has formed and Montecito is cut off from the city except by way of Eucalyptus Hill, which tonight is reported badly washed out. On the Mesa the damage is serious, all grades but one leading into the city being impassable, culverts for miles being carried away and small bridges washed out.

The Southern Pacific reports a landslide at Irma, four miles north of this city, and another near Naples, seventeen miles north of here.

Work on the "shoofly" track around the fatal slide at Punta Gorda has been abandoned while the rain lasts and the transfer of passengers around the place given up. Seventy-three sailed on the Steamer Queen today for Los Angeles, while the steamship Olive has large bookings for Thursday's steamer north and Friday's ship south.

From Lompoc tonight comes the report of the narrow escapes of two Home Telephone officials from the Santa Ynez River, which is in flood. A. O. Buchanan and Joseph Worthington attempted to swim their horses over the raging stream. The animals were drowned. The men, after much effort, reached Lompoc tonight.

Tonight there are signs of clearing weather. Rainfall to 10 o'clock tonight was 3.64 inches, making 15.27 for January and 26.96 for the season. Lompoc got 5 inches today, Santa Maria 4 inches.

Heavy at Ventura.

VENTURA, Jan. 26.—Another heavy rain visited this point today and yesterday, 1.50 inches falling, making a total of nearly 16 inches, which is double the amount for last season at the corresponding date. Snow is deep on the mountains. So far no damage has been done in the county by high water.

Long Beach Statistics.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 26.—The rainfall last night amounted to .68 of an inch, making the total for the season 9.64 inches, as against 3.13 inches the same time last year.

None at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 26.—No rain had fallen here up to 11:30 o'clock tonight. The total for the season has been 5.13 inches; last season to the corresponding date, 4.30 inches.

Barometer Falling Rapidly.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At 11:30 o'clock p. m., no rain had fallen in the county. The barometer is rapidly falling, temperature rising, sky overcast; rain indications good.

Escape Storm.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] No rain has fallen in Riverside up to 11 o'clock tonight. Reports from Corona, Perris and Hemet are also to the effect that the storm has not reached these points.

At Corcoran.

CORCORAN, Jan. 26.—Nearly 6 inches of rain have fallen here this season, about double the amount to the corresponding date last year.

FOR THE CAUSE.

FROM WITHOUT CITY COME CONTRIBUTIONS.

CONTRIBUTIONS continue to come to The Times Fund for the relief of the earthquake sufferers, from places outside the city, as well as from citizens. Four such are reported this morning. To date The Times Fund is as follows:

Times-Mirror Co.	$ 1,000.00
Times Fund, previously acknowledged	2,183.19
Yesterday's additions to The Times Fund, $51, as follows:
Estate of A. W. Richards	25.00
A. W. Stephens	5.00
Sunshine Society, Santa Ana	5.00
A. S. M., Avalon	5.00
H. S. B.	5.00
Mrs. William Pierle, Nordhoff	2.50
Mrs. F. E. French, Mentone	2.50
A friend	.50
A friend	.50

Italian Relief Committee fund:
Previously acknowledged	$17,091.50
Received yesterday	100.21

The Bazaar of All Nations, held last week under the auspices of the Liberal Alliance, cleared about $2500 for the relief fund, but the accounts have not yet been definitely settled, so that the exact amount could be handed to the Relief Committee.

Last night the Italian colony, headed by Italian Consular Agent Dell' Orto, gave a banquet to the Executive Committee of the bazaar and their ladies, at the Delmonico. Mayor Harper and other city officials were among the twenty-eight guests.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the alliance will be held this evening at Turner Hall, to complete the accounting for the relief fund, and at the same time to distribute the prizes to be awarded the lucky holders of certain admission tickets. The members of the committee express their appreciation of the good work done by all who cooperated with them to make the bazaar a success.

The report of the Italian Relief Committee for yesterday is as follows: Previously acknowledged, $17,091.50; received yesterday, $100.21; total $17,-191.71. Contributions received yesterday:

PROFESSIONAL MARATHON.

CONNELLY MAY RUN AGAINST THREE MEN.

CORNELIUS CONNELLY, the great San Francisco long-distance runner, has consented to run a race in Los Angeles some time in February or early March, and if a suitable opponent is not found he agrees to race three Southern California professionals in relays for the full Marathon distance.

E. L. Pickering and A. W. Sorenson, who have been negotiating with Connelly and others for six weeks, are to stage the race at Fiesta Park. At first they had planned to pull off an amateur meet, but the A.A.U. commission refused a sanction and stole a march on them by arranging for the Washington Birthday meet at Shrine Auditorium.

Now that all the best amateur runners, including Dorando, Hayes, Corey, Lightbody, Longboat and others, have turned professional, the promoters figure that such a meet will be more attractive. Connelly is still an amateur, but is to turn professional at a meet in San Francisco February 7, as he says he has won enough cups and medals and is now going after something useful—the money.

The grounds at Fiesta Park are soon to undergo remodeling when the stadium is built, but the space within the proposed wall and saucer track will permit of the race being held and staged while building is going on and allow the men to run on a six-lap track.

"Soldier" King drew out of his race with Connelly in San Francisco and an effort is to be made to bring the two men together here, but if that fails the relay race will be run. The three men in sight are William Stanley, Eugene Estoppey and Paul Reinwald. The two former have turned professional, and it is believed Reinwald would do the same in a race of this magnitude. If these men cannot be secured, others are to be selected from Southern California timber.

Each of the three men to be pitted against Connelly would run a little less than nine miles, and it is believed that for this distance the three could set a lively clip and possibly beat Connelly.

Pickering and Sorenson are to meet Estoppey and Reinwald some time today in their office at No. 206 Severance building, when it is believed arrangements for the contest will be made and the men sent into training.

SACRAMENTO IS RISING AGAIN.

RIVER ASSUMES FLOOD HEIGHT AT CHICO.

Island Districts Feeling Safer May Be in Danger—Price of Potatoes Has Been Doubled by Destruction of Crop—Eight Wagon Bridges Out at Marysville.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICO, Jan. 26.—The Sacramento River assumed flood proportions again today, and districts down the valley may expect high water tomorrow.

The river registered 21 feet 6 inches tonight, or only two and one-half feet below the high-water mark recently established. It is rising at the rate of six inches an hour.

WATER CROSSES ISLAND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ANTIOCH, Jan. 26.—Messages tonight from each of the river islands which were considered in danger, state that conditions are improving. The levees on Upper Sherman Island have given away in several additional places, and the water rushes in on the Sacramento side, only to be forced across the tract and out into the San Joaquin River, the south side of the island being lower than the north.

While potatoes are selling at $1.75 a sack here, there is almost certain to be a slump, as many islands containing thousands of acres are not affected by the floods, and the owners have large crops ready to unload on the market.

Hundreds of acres on each of the submerged islands were planted to the potatoes and there will be a loss of thousands of sacks. Last week potatoes could have been purchased for 65 cents a sack, but today the merchants here are paying $1.50 and $1.75 a sack.

The weather has remained cold, and a drizzling rain is falling at intervals. Telephone messages from up-river points state that the river is falling rapidly. It is ten inches lower at this place than yesterday.

RISE AT STOCKTON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, Jan. 26.—A rise of seven inches in Mormon Channel this morning caused considerable uneasiness here.

At Linden there is some water running through the channel, which was slowly rising at 11 o'clock this morning, but hardly enough to cause the local rise, which is believed to be due to the tide.

From San Joaquin bridge it was learned by telephone that the river was at the 17.5 stage, a slight fall since yesterday. The wind blew a gale last night and the waves hammered the levees in that locality, but did no damage. The river is falling slowly. The weather is threatening.

EIGHT BRIDGES GONE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 26.—Snow fell yesterday and last night, low down in the foothills. There was rain here and in the lower valley section, accompanied by winds from the south.

At Sterling City two feet of snow fell yesterday and it is still snowing today. A few flakes fell in Marysville this morning, but not enough to make a showing, as it was accompanied by rain. The weather is colder and the cold snap will prevent the river from rising until a warm rain comes.

NEW LIFE OLD TOWN RECEIVES.

WILMINGTON GETS IT BY ITS GRANT OF FRANCHISE.

After Stubbornly Resisting Pacific Electric Railway for Several Months Trustees Withdraw Opposition. Man Stands in Water All Night Intently Watching Dredger.

WILMINGTON, Jan. 26.—At last the long contest over the Pacific Electric Railway extension from Wilmington to Long Beach has been settled and within a few weeks cars will be running across the flats.

Six months ago the company applied for a franchise to cross three streets on the east side, which would connect the lots owned by Mr. Huntington on which his track would be laid. The Trustees refused the franchise because it did not contain a provision granting a 5-cent fare to all parts of the city.

After remaining obdurate until the present time, President Brennan became convinced that it would be wise to consider the matter more favorably, particularly as the company had a strong band of iron around the city, and was laying its tracks in the center of the sixty-foot street on the west side of the bay into San Pedro. This would have interfered with traffic and in some places caused danger.

The company last night renewed its application for a franchise. This was accompanied by a request for an extension of time on the road around the bay. The Boulevard Committee of the Chamber of Commerce also recommended that both the franchise and the extension of time be granted. The company agreed to do everything possible to get a private right of way around the harbor, leaving the sixty-foot street clear. It also promised to grade and improve the street, making it an extension of the Los Angeles-Wilmington boulevard system into San Pedro. This would save the city this expense.

President Brennan, Attorney McClure and Trustee Johnson strongly favored the proposition. Trustees Silva and Breen stubbornly refused to acquiesce. Trustee Opp, who was known to be opposed to it, was absent. Finally, near midnight, the two opposing Trustees gave in and the franchise was granted.

The company was also given an extension of ninety days, and in the meantime it will move its big gang of graders over to the Long Beach line and have the track in operation by the end of the time. This will give new life to the old town, and will solve many vexed problems.

A queer case of mental delusion was discovered here on Sunday by City Marshal Breen. A report came to him in the morning that a man was seen standing in the mud and water in the tide flats near the lumber mill. Breen found that he had been there all night and was steadily watching the dredger. He claimed that there were officers on it who had ordered him to stay where he was until they gave him permission to move. He was shaking with terror and cold, but refused to move without permission. Breen allayed his fears by telling him that he was one of the detectives and would take him safely away. The man was greatly relieved and went quietly with the marshal, who lodged him in the City Jail and fed him, until he could communicate with the Sheriff's office. He was taken to the County Hospital yesterday. He gave the name of W. J. Smith and said that he had just come from San Luis Obispo, where he had been working in a machine shop.

Needles Contractor Missing.

Detectives were asked yesterday to search for Mortimer Mason, a wealthy cement contractor of Needles, who disappeared while visiting in this city on January 2. A. B. Mulvane, manager of the Pacific Cement Company of Amboy, says that Mason had more than $200 in his possession, and it is feared he may have been murdered. He was about 50 years old, 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighed about 140 pounds. He wore a short tan overcoat, tan soft hat and a gray suit.

Dixon, historian; Theodore J. Irwin, bard. The retiring president, John S. McGroarty, was presented with the chieftain ring.

Letts Fights Race-track Gambling.

Arthur Letts left last night for Sacramento to attend the meeting of the Committee on Public Morals in the Senate today. Mr. Letts says he intends to put forth every possible effort and make the fight of his life in favor of the Anti-Race-track Gambling Bill known as the "Walker Bill," which will make race-track gambling a crime punishable by imprisonment. Before leaving he said he will not return to Los Angeles until the bill has been decided upon. This is his second trip to Sacramento in the endeavor to get this bill passed by the Senate.

BREVITIES.

DISCUSS AMENDMENTS.

Federated Improvement Associations Consider Proposed Charter Changes.

The Federated Improvement Associations, represented by about one-sixth of the membership in delegate voting strength, discussed for over two hours last night in the Chamber of Commerce assembly rooms the proposed city charter amendments.

But twelve of the improvement associations were represented and only thirty-six votes were cast on each proposition by the sixty men present, so the vote recorded may or may not represent the sense of the federation. C. H. Clayton of Brooklyn Heights presided.

There was considerable preliminary discussion, some speeches that verged on personalities, and so much time lost on points of order, that the federation took only time enough to consider briefly the first nineteen amendments, the latter ten of these concerning increases of salaries of some of the city officials.

The only animated discussion was on the second amendment, which relates to the election of Councilmen at large, and on this the principal speakers were John Pope, S. A. Waldron, H. Henty and George Rheinschild, who favor it.

The result of the vote on the amendments was:

No. 1, public utilities, carried; No. 2, electing Councilmen at large, carried; No. 3, completion of aqueduct, carried; No. 4, direct primaries, carried; No. 5, concerning Mayor's veto of city contracts, carried; No. 6, bonding city officials, carried; No. 7, consolidation of city and county governments, carried; No. 8, water rates, defeated; Nos. 9 to 19 both inclusive, increasing salaries of city officials, defeated.

There was practically no discussion on any of the amendments with the exception of No. 2, but shortly after 10 o'clock, when the rain was heard pouring on the roof, over half of the crowd left and the remainder adjourned during the discussion on the raising of salaries.

The associations represented were the Euclid Heights, Sunset, Southside, Figueroa and Normandie, Brooklyn Heights, Fourth Ward, Ninth Ward, Hasard Park, Fort Hill, Rosedale, College Tract, Highland Park and Garvanza.

Suggested a New Story.

"Don't bother me, Lucy," shouted her husband from his "den."

"Archibald," she persisted.

"Please keep quiet. Didn't I tell you not to bother me when I am busy?"

"But I must, dear. The children have taken those six bottles of gold paint you bought for the gas fixtures and smeared it on the walls from garret to cellar."

"That so, Lucy? Well, don't let that worry you. I'll just call it an inspiration and use it in an article entitled, 'How Children Brighten Up the House.'—[Chicago News.

KINGS OF RANGES FROM TWENTY STATES BEGIN THE GREAT BUSINESS RODEO HERE.

Live Stock Association's Attorney in Action.

Striking flashlight of Hon. S. H. Cowan addressing the convention yesterday afternoon. He was convulsing the audience with a witty bit of sarcasm on the Texas railroad laws when the "picture lightning" struck. President H. A. Jastro is seated at the table, and in the background Vice-President Murdo Mackenzie and Secretary T. W. Tomlinson. Below is a glimpse of the gathering.

THE sturdy kings of the ranges, representing twenty States and the ownership of two-thirds of the live stock of the United States, and an investment of $4,000,000,000, are guests of Los Angeles.

The keys of the city were graciously handed over to them yesterday by Mayor Harper. They are here by the hundred as delegates to the American National Live Stock Association's twelfth annual convention, which began in the Belasco Theater yesterday morning, and as the leaders of one of the country's greatest industries they are thrice welcome. The domain whence these men come includes the square whose corners are California, Washington, South Dakota and Illinois. It is an important gathering with paramount issues before it. The sons of the great outdoors from the plains and mountains have brought their wives and daughters, for it is also their yearly reunion and fun-making time, and for two days after the sessions close they will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce, viewing the mid-winter beauty of Southern California and the metropolis of the Southwest, as well as the diversified industries flourishing here.

Uncontrolled grazing ranges, prohibitive tariffs on live stock products and discriminative railroad rates came in for full measure of censure at the opening sessions. On each of the issues Congress was bitterly scored for the causes which the cattlemen declare threaten the very life of their industry.

Especially was stress laid on the absolute need of Federal control of the ranges to the end that individuals could lease these lands—which are worthless for cultivation—for definite periods of tenure. Only by this means, declared several of the speakers, can the present overcrowded conditions of the ranges be remedied and the cattle industry—which is one of the greatest in the country—be preserved. If present conditions continue the cattlemen insist their business will be smothered. It is the lack of control and overstocking which is working the greatest harm to the live stock raising.

FIGHT FOR NEXT CONVENTION.

Incidentally the day developed a warm fight for the next convention city, Denver and Fort Worth running neck and neck for first honors, with St. Joseph several lengths to the rear. So evenly divided was the vote yesterday afternoon, according to those in a position to know, that had a ballot been taken on the issue at the close of the afternoon session, a roll call would have been necessary for a decision.

The large Denver delegation, which is quartered at the Alexandria Hotel, has G. W. Ballantine as the leader for its camp, while Fort Worth has such stanch supporters as "Uncle" Jim Parramore and George W. Evans, both of the rough and ready pioneer type, besides a host of southern sympathizers. Both factions are hot after the next convention and the selection of the next convention city is likely to prove the most interesting bit of the business session Thursday morning.

So great is the interest in this fight that little discussion has been given to the election of officers, though it is conceded that if the present president, H. A. Jastro of Bakersfield, cares for another term, it is his for the asking.

THE MAYOR WELCOMES.

It was 10:30 o'clock when President Jastro dropped his gavel and called the convention to order. After the invocation by Rev. J. S. Thomson, Mayor Harper welcomed the visiting delegates to the city. Though many of the delegates have been delayed by railroad washouts and will not arrive until today, the Belasco was comfortably filled.

Mayor Harper expressed his embarrassment in that he had expected to confront a "bunch of cow punchers" with broad-brimmed hats, high-heeled boots, spurs and chaps, and was surprised at the array of business men who were his audience. But he took opportunity to relate a visit he once made to a cow camp and drew a hearty burst of laughter when he confessed that he was tenderfoot enough to fall for the "badger game." Continuing Mayor Harper said:

"I cannot offer you the hospitality of the State, as one of the same name did at one of your conventions, but by all of a very loyal constituency I am still able to offer you the hospitality of this city. It is yours and every latch key is out. Though most of you have been here only a short time you have had a chance to see something of us—the greatest city in the world. To some of the Denver delegates who may object to this, I will say that they are so near to heaven that their beef must be good, but I maintain this is the city of the angels."

President George H. Stewart of the Chamber of Commerce gave the welcome for that organization with the promise that the "camp fire would be kept bright, the grub good and the fellowship sincere."

"COW PUNCHERS'" RESPONSE.

H. E. Crowley of Fort Worth, secretary and general manager of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, responded for the association in the absence of Hon. John W. Springer of Denver, who was unavoidably delayed in reaching the city. Mr. Crowley said:

IF HE WILL.

PASTOR DAY NAMED POMONA PRESIDENT.

THE trustees of Pomona College yesterday announced a capital solution of the perplexing question as to who they should elect as president of the college, to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Gates.

Dr. William Horace Day, the vital young pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, was chosen, subject to his acceptance when he returns from the East on Saturday.

By reason of his broad education, his practical knowledge of the world, his orthodox and thorough Bible training, his interest in work among young people, his enthusiasm in his chosen work, and his popularity among all who know him, Dr. Day is generally pronounced as a logical man for the important position at the head of a religious institution of learning.

As a preacher and lecturer, few men of his age have gained so wide popularity, and he has been so much sought after that his entire time might have been spent outside his own pulpit.

Several years ago, while he was on a trip to Japan, he was offered the field secretaryship of the Congregational Missionary Society, but declined in order to remain with the local church as co-worker with his father. He is now in Chicago, en route home from Cleveland, O., where he has been in attendance upon a meeting of the executive board of that same society, and it remains to be seen whether he will even now surrender to the call and take up the broader and more important work. That his congregation will not wish to see him go, is a certainty, and it may do its best to hold him.

EXPECTED TO ACCEPT.

He is an able and interesting preacher and an indefatigable worker, and stands at the head of a church with over 1500 members and with a great record for activity in every direction. One of his friends said last night:

"I believe, after sober consideration, Dr. Day will accept the responsibility. While he is an able, effective and entertaining preacher, he has shown himself to be made of the stuff that makes good college presidents. He

KOSHER IZZY WOULD BE BOSS.

DISQUIETED BY NEWS ABOUT THE FIRING OF THE MAYOR.

The "Recall" Agitation Penetrates the Purlieus of East First Street and Brother Jake Fears He May Lose Some of "Dos Chobs"—That Were Promised.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

Izzy Markovich conducts a hasher butcher shop on East First street and nurses a secret political ambition. He wants to boss the Yiddish vote; incidentally to put his brother, Jake, into public office.

Of late, certain political rumors, leaking down from the City Hall, have left him disturbed in mind.

"What is ut, dese recalls?" he asked in a confidential whisper.

He listened suspiciously to the explanation.

"Is ut they should fire de Mayor? Oi, Oi, Oi; it is to fire de Mayor," he groaned as his worst fears were confirmed.

Izzy rushed back into the shop, where his brother was cutting kosher meat, and cried, excitedly, "Jake, it is they should fire de Mayor and you don get no chobs."

Jake hastily wiped his hands on his apron and hurried out to the door. "Why is ut they should fire de Mayor?" he demanded excitedly; but Izzy could only wail: "Oi, Oi, Oi! they should to fire the Mayor, and Jake, my brodder, he dunt get no chobs off de city."

Jake was about to ask more questions, but Izzy silenced him with a punch of his elbow and a very sly look came into his face.

"I ask could you excoos me," he said, craftily, "But shoult it be they shoult fire de Mayor, maybe he gets dos cigars back?"

His question seemed mystifying. But he explained.

"When does A. C. and dos Dr. Lindley and Gate and the feller from off de union—they get after chobs like my brodder Jake. Each one gif handshakes and cigars, and say, 'Please, I like you shoult vote for me.' "My brodder gits five chobs off from de city. Lindley he gif um chob and cigar and Gate he gif um chob and de feller from off de union he make grand chob as polish commish from Jake, and A. C. Harper he gif Jake nice handshake and nice cigars.

"Jake, he dunt git does chobs off de city yet, but he still smoke does A. C. Harper cigars."

Izzy was informed that the Mayor's campaign cigars have gone the way from which no man or cigar returneth.

"Jake," he exclaimed, excitedly, "Maybe does Mayor get fired, but he shouldn't to get no cigars back."

"Maybe he get back dos beers," whispered Jake, still fraught with suspicion.

Izzy hastily consulted the visitor; then he whispered, "No, Jake, it shouldn't to be so; he dun get back no beers, no cigars, no nuthink."

"It dun sound like it should be a

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Mayor Harper has urged the censorship of moving-picture shows by the Chief of Police to eliminate portrayals of crime, and the City Council has ordered an ordinance to that effect.

James A. Craig has finally been appointed Police Inspector of Licenses.

Judge James yesterday announced that the money, about $48,000, sufficient to pay all the claims against the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, must be deposited by W. H. Carlson in court before he will modify the injunction against that institution. Carlson's attorneys resigned from the case.

A further postponement of the hearing of S. K. Williamson, charged with violation of the banking laws of Nevada, was made until Thursday, by Judge Willis.

AT THE CITY HALL.

PICTURE-SHOW CENSORSHIP.

Mayor Harper Urges the Elimination of Portrayals of Crime at Cheap Amusement Places and City Council Orders Ordinance—Regulation of Poolrooms—Craig Apointed.

If the recommendation of Mayor Harper is carried out the Chief of Police will become official censor of canned theatricals.

This is because the Chief has reached a conclusion that like begets like, and that the portrayal of daring safe blowings, hold-ups, train robberies, murders and assassinations, and other offenses against the code of morals and the statutes made and provided in the moving-picture shows that abound here tend to enlarge juvenile crime.

He and the Mayor talked it over and they also saw some of the eye-dimming films that show the details of plot and execution. They determined that an ounce of prevention was needed and the ounce is proposed in the ordinance the Mayor urged the Council to pass yesterday giving the power to the Chief to censor the shows before the public gets them. In his message to the Council the Mayor says:

"I wish to call your attention to the advisability of legislation directed to the elimination, in the interests of decency and good morals, of certain offensive and harmful phases of the business of exhibiting moving pictures, so-called. Shows of this type have multiplied rapidly of late and the cheapness and the vivid portrayal of sensational events which are characteristic of them, draw young people in great crowds.

"I am informed that representations of violent crimes against person and property are frequent among these portrayals. In the opinion of criminologists and trained educators the evil suggestions which such pictures stamp on the plastic mind of youth and emotional persons of weak will-power operate as seeds of vice and incentives to criminal acts. The Police Court annals of crime give evidence that such lessons are not lost and many immature persons, lacking strong character and uplifting environment, have traced their first temptation to wickedness back to exhibitions of this kind.

"The presentation of pictures of an obscene type is already made an offense by ordinance. It seems that certain pictures which fall outside this classification, pictures from which the young would gather the false view that life is one uninterrupted succession of murder, burglary, highway robbery, etc., should also be prohibited in some effective way.

"I recommend that there be given to the Chief of Police or some other department authority to censor exhibitions in the presentation of which such reprehensible portrayals may be expected to occur—this with view to protecting the morals of our city, and particularly the youth of our city, from all forms of the evil mentioned."

The Council promptly instructed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance carrying out the recommendations of the Mayor and report it at the meeting next Monday morning.

Chief of Police Broadhead said yesterday that many criminals become so not from instinctiveness, but from environment, and that the suggestiveness of many of the picture portrayals of crime creates a new environment for the young, and must be eliminated. The Chief does not say that this is all moving pictures show. On the contrary, he regards them as all right except when crime stories are interpreted. The moving-picture show is the children's scene of interest in this generation, and he would merely exclude the things that appeal to lower instincts.

The Chief also believes it is time to adopt more stringent regulations with reference to poolrooms, which are springing up all over the city. Every meeting of the Police Commission receives new applicants for licenses. There are scores run by Japanese, and they are becoming a peril for boys, he Chief believes. Their evils, he believes, affect the young much as the saloon does the old, and he believes they should be governed with careful discrimination.

IRE AROUSED.

COUNCILMEN AT WAR.

Personalities, resented insults, and "butting in" marked yesterday's session of the Council. Nearly every member except the great listener, Blanchard, and the absent member, Wallace, got a rap or got mad about somebody else's rap, and once or twice the entente cordiale was so strained the sergeant-at-arms seemed a needed intervenor.

First Clampitt objected to a committee, composed of Wren, Yonkin and Lyon, being named, to investigate an alley in Angeleno Heights, running from Kensington road to Echo Park, which the abutting property owners wanted vacated, because it can never be made traversible, according to the City Engineer. Clampitt thought the committee was precommitted to closing the alley. Besides, Yonkin had brought the matter before the Council Saturday, when Clampitt was absent, which Clampitt thought a discourtesy.

Wren declared Clampitt's objection an insult to the Council. So did President Pease. Then Clampitt reiterated that Yonkin was for the vacation, and Yonkin leaped to his feet.

"The reason I brought these property owners in here is because Mr. Clampitt took snap judgment on them and failed to keep his appointment with them." He declared he was unbiased. President Pease terminated the wrangle by declaring that there could be no opposition to the committee he named. So Clampitt smiled and agreed to meet his colleagues this morning at the alley.

Later, when a fire-engine agent was defending his bid for a truck, Chief Lips became involved with him, and contradictions so blunt and so emphatic passed so quickly that the peace-makers rose to their feet.

Late in the day, when Dromgold was vigorously opposing Healy's ordinance to make permanent a second clerkship for the Supply Committee, thereby preserving a berth for Mrs. Sadie Connelly, who recently got in trouble for going to the racetrack, Healy got inflamed and declared Dromgold was not running the whole Council.

"He's just butting in all the time!" shouted Barney. "I look after my ward and he ought to look after his own. But I'm getting tired of his butting in and I want it stopped."

Yonkin facetiously moved to recommend the recall of Dromgold. Healy was pleading for an additional clerk to write his letters to his constituents, who, he said, might go letterless if such provision was not made. The ordinance was postponed until the City Auditor devises a method of handling the Supply Committee's work and makes a recommendation as to whether another employé is necessary.

CRAIG INSPECTOR.

TO SUPERVISE LICENSES.

James A. Craig is now Police Inspector of Licenses without the aid of an amended ordinance or a yellow uniform. The appointment was made at a meeting of the Police Commission yesterday, and Mr. Craig is to pursue his duties with the full assistance of the police in finding unlicensed places and forcing them to take out licenses.

Under the ordinance he is to keep a complete record of all licenses and report to the Council monthly. He is under the jurisdiction of the Police Commission and is to work in harmony with Chief Broadhead. The police are to make investigations, that he may direct, their work being confined to ground floors. Upper floors will be looked after by Craig. He will receive a salary of $150 monthly. The position was created at the request of the City Auditor, who believes it will bring in at least $25,000 additional to the city treasury.

The commission has asked the Civil Service Commission to reinstate former detective, John J. Shields, who was dismissed seven years ago. It referred to the pension board the applications of J. M. Walsh, who seeks retirement because of illness, and G. W. Woodard, who seeks a pension because of more than twenty years' service.

On recommendation of Chief Broadhead, J. C. Chrisman, who was appointed a policeman last week, was dismissed because the Chief believes him unsuited for the service.

City Hall Brevities.

The Council is to consider the garbage question in committee of the whole, next Monday. The Board of Public Works, the City Attorney, and Dr. L. M. Powers, health officer, will be present. Yesterday Mrs. J. G. MacLean, speaking for a large delegation from the Cosmos Club, urged the Council to provide in its new contract for the removal of garbage from the yards and not from the streets. She said the presence of garbage cans at the curb line during the morning hours was an injury to the city. The Council asked the Board of Public Works to advise as to the increased cost of collecting from yards.

The Council yesterday bought the Perry Weidner property, 28½ feet wide, east of Main street, and running from Winston place to Fifth street, for $28,500. Chief Lips approved the purchase. It is the purpose to buy three feet additional before the new fire station is built.

The Council heard protests on the widening of Los Angeles street from Winston to Fourth street yesterday. The street is to be repaved and it is the purpose to set the curb back five feet on each side. Property owners on both sides claim title to five feet of the street though this portion has for many years been used by the public. The widening proceedings require the payment of $13,000 for this land and those assessed protest on the ground that constant uninterrupted use for over a decade has dedicated the full width for public purposes.

Buys Fire Apparatus.

In the face of the protest of the City Auditor the Council yesterday bought a Nott third size fire engine for $4100. Bids were received a week ago. The Auditor objected on the ground that a similar engine had been bought for $4400 three years ago, and that the bidders—the Nott, La France and Ahrens companies—were part of a trust, and that there had been no real competition. A letter from the Amoskeag Engine Company saying it could not bid under the specifications was ignored when Chief Lips explained that the Amoskeag engine was of obsolete style. The Chief also opposed the award of the contract for a hook and ladder wagon to the Robinson company at $2197, and favored the award to the highest bidder—the Seagrave company which asked $2400. The Chief said the Robinson company's apparatus was inferior and that he would be satisfied only with the best. The City Attorney was asked to investigate and advise the Council if it could make the award to the Seagrave company.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

HIS ATTORNEYS DESERT BANKER.

CARLSON ARGUES FOR SURETY BOND ON DEPOSITS.

Court Holds That Cash Must Be Deposited Before Receivership Is Dispensed With and Sets Limit of Time—Statement Made of Assets and Liabilities.

Former Gov. Henry T. Gage, H. H. Appel and W. I. Foley, who have been the attorneys for W. H. Carlson, in connection with the closing of the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, severed their connection with their client, and Carlson argued his own case before Judge James yesterday, when the receivership question was to be disposed of.

It is understood that financial reasons were the cause of the withdrawal from the case by the attorneys, and the records at the Courthouse disclose that on the 23rd inst., Carmire F. Carlson, wife of W. H. Carlson, transferred the Carlson home on Adams street, better described as lot 7, block D, Adams street tract, to her father, Francisco Pico of San Jacinto, for the nominal consideration of $10. This is the property that Mrs. Carlson homesteaded at the time of the Consolidated Bank failure, about eight months ago.

At yesterday's hearing Judge James refused to allow the dismissal of the receivership proceedings unless Carlson should deposit $48,500 in cash to pay the depositors in full, and other claims that have accumulated since the closing of the institution. The court took little stock in the proposition to have the money guaranteed by a bonding company, on the ground, among others, that there was no way under the laws of the State of enforcing such a bond.

February 10 was fixed as the date allowed Carlson to deposit the money with the court for the settlement of the bank's affairs. If that is done, the order of injunction will be modified so as to allow the bank to resume business, if approved by the Bank Commissioners.

In passing upon the case, the court declared there was no authorization in law for the court to permit the giving of a surety bond as proposed, and if there is no such specific authorization, such a bond would be void, and the depositors would have no redress. The responsibility for dropping the receivership matter would only be taken in case the money is on hand at the date fixed.

A partial statement of the condition of the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles shows that Carlson is personally obligated to depositors and stockholders in $48,684.27, on which amount he paid interest up to February 27, 1908. The cash in the hands of the custodian amounts to $7300; notes, very doubtful, $2582.37; fairly good, but unsecured, $2304; bank furniture and fixtures, $300; due depositors, other banks, rent and other expenses, $49,000.

CRIMINAL CASES.

HABEAS CORPUS DELAYED.

In the habeas corpus case of S. K. Williamson, charged with a violation of the banking laws of Nevada, Judge Willis yesterday ordered another postponement of the hearing until Thursday. Deputy District Attorney Blair stated to the court that the habeas corpus case involving the liberty of Homer Taber was to be heard at San Diego yesterday, and he suggested the Williamson case be postponed until after that had been disposed of. This was agreeable to Williamson, and he was returned to jail, failing to furnish bond in $5000 for his release.

Henry T. Tieman, charged with burglarizing the Wallace store at Hollywood, December 25, pleaded guilty and asked that he be immediately sentenced. It developed that Tieman is an old offender, having served time in the Ohio and Colorado penitentiaries. His sentence was ten years at Folsom. Tieman asked that he be sent to San Quentin, but the change was not made.

The writ in the habeas corpus case of W. L. Garland, charged with grand larceny, was denied, the court holding the evidence shown in the complaint was sufficient.

Charles Cavelle, who pleaded guilty to a statutory crime on Catherine Perdue, aged 9 years, was given six years in San Quentin.

C. H. Groves, who pleaded guilty to petty larceny, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail.

ORANGE GROVE CASE.

DEAL FOR PRECIOUS STONES.

Judge Oster yesterday heard the complaint brought by Clement A. Copeland against Albert K. McMurray, on a contract. The plaintiff claimed that on January 2, 1905, he sold McMurray an orange grove in Riverside county, for $15,000, but that McMurray refused to carry out the contract.

He asked damages in $10,000, as he alleged he had been kept out of the use of the land for more than a year. The court allowed Copeland $3720. Copeland was to receive in part payment for the land 600 carats of cut and perfect kunzite gems, at $12 per carat, and 400 carats of tourmaline stones at $15 per carat.

VACCINATION CASE.

CHARGES AGAINST PHYSICIAN.

Judge Oster yesterday heard the complaint of Ruth Wiggins against Dr. T. G. Divitt, asking damages in $5900, on account of an operation for vaccination performed by the defendant January 2, 1908. It was claimed the vaccination was made on the biceps muscles of her arm, that the wound was not properly treated, resulting in her losing the use of that member; also, that the physician neglected and refused to treat it properly.

These allegations were denied by the defendant, and he declared that he used the knife just where she had asked him to do so. The case is still in progress.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PETITION FOR ADOPTION. Mary A. Parker filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday, asking that she be allowed to adopt Gladys Mary Parker, a child of her dead sister-in-law, Mary H. Parker.

CHARGE DISMISSED. Rossow and Moore, the Santa Fé brakeman and conductor respectively, charged with committing battery upon M. Hernandez, January 10, were discharged by Justice Pierce yesterday. Hernandez was a passenger on a train en route to San Diego at the time of the alleged assault.

WANTS ANNULLMENT. Vivien Ottilie Woehlert filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday, asking for the annulment of her marriage to Albert C. Woehlert. She alleges they were married at Elgin, Ill., August 21, 1906, when she was but 15, and he only 18 years old. Neither being of lawful age.

PROBATE MATTERS. Anna H. Humpler filed a petition for letters of administration upon the estate of Fred Humpler, who died January 14, leaving an estate of $25,000. Mina Ortlieb filed a petition for probate of the will of Eugenie Ortlieb, who died January 9, with an estate of $11,125. Annie V. Parry asked for probate of the will of Joseph Parry, who died January 19, leaving an estate of $19,000.

CHANGE OF NAME. The Stephens Company have filed a petition in the Superior Court asking that it be allowed to change the name to the Albert M. Stephens Company.

THE GRAND JURY. The grand jury was in session yesterday all day, adjourning at 4 o'clock, until next Friday morning. No definite conclusion was reached as to a final report.

THAT DOG CASE. Justice Summerfield dismissed the complaint filed against Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller by R. M. Adams, secretary of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, charging them with cruelty in shooting a Boston terrier dog belonging to Adams.

MORE CAPITAL STOCK. A certificate of increase in capital stock was filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Rogue Mining and Development Company for an increase of $100,000.

Company Supplying Auto Illumination Tanks Seeks Damages and Injunction Against Rivals.

Suit for $20,000 damages was brought against H. W. Bogen, Charles C. Coleman and George R. Bentel of this city, in the United States Circuit Court yesterday, by the Prest-O-Lite Company of Indianapolis, for alleged infringement of its trade-mark. The complaint sets forth that the plaintiff has placed on the market a special gas tank for automobiles, which is filled with acetone, an illuminant.

It is asserted that the defendants have been refilling the tanks with an illuminant of their own, thus making sales upon the wide publicity given the prest-o-lite preparation. The court is asked to grant a temporary injunction until the case can be heard on its merits.

The defendants deny all the allegations of the complaint and state that they have not infringed the trade-mark of the eastern concern in any way.

THE BALLAD OF TOOPIETY.

BY OLD BILL JONES.

My neighbor, E. Tobias, is such a pious cuss,
He's allus gitting all us folks in some sort of a muss,

It almost riz and riz up to the loftiness of hate;
And he worked the "moral issue" at a truly pious rate.

The punishment this pious cuss laid on to sons of Sin,
Who'd voted out his newspaper and let another in,
Wuz far too dreadful to relate—I'd better not begin.

A most ungodly thing it is, so good a man to rob!"

And so another pious man they sent to City Hall,
"Doc" Howton, sure the piousest on this terrestrial ball—
He wuz so cussed pious, he wouldn't do at all.

"A Mayor of my own, that's what I'll have," cried Tobe,
"A Mayor who'll exactly fit my white and spotless robe—"
But he didn't git possession of the Mayor and the globe!

Another great calamity—a "moral issue" then.
The walls of E. Toopious, they distraught the hearts of men;
A cataclysm, nothing less, when Tobe wuz licked again.

But it wuz when the Governor turned doleful Toby down,
'Twuz then that E. Toopious got a pietistic crown

Defeated by the voters, my neighbor riz a roar
That might have caused some sinful man to think that Tobe wuz sore;

He tried to boss the Mayor on his own Toopious plan
And insisted that he put in place his own nice little man,
But the Mayor named a better—and the cruel war began.

"Recall, recall," his cry went up, "a moral issue here!
The Mayor has affronted me"—he dropped a pious tear

And so it is whenever E. Tobias gets a jolt,
If hit by some political or legal thunderbolt,
He wants to tackle Vice again with pious strangle-holt,

And calls on all us citizens to rise up in our might

For my neighbor, E. Tobias, is such a pious cuss,
He's allus gitting all us folks in some sort of a muss,

Severe Cold Cured

BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

MISS ETHEL ROCHE

It was a happy thought that prompted Miss Ethel Roche of 227 Florida Ave., Jacksonville, Fla., to ask her druggist's opinion when looking for something to cure her cold. A druggist knows the value of a medicine by the popularity it enjoys and the repeated calls he has for it, and his prompt advice to her was to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Sister Was Also Cured

Miss Roche had a neglected cold about three years ago and was hoarse she could hardly speak. She says: "The druggist told me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and in three days I was greatly relieved; within a week I was cured. Mother felt so pleased, she said she would never be without it and when sister caught cold soon afterwards she at once gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it broke up the cold in one day."

Never Neglect a Cold

A cold should never be treated lightly as it is always more or less serious. Many people make the mistake of neglecting a cold until it settles in some of the delicate pulmonary organs and chronic catarrh, bronchitis or serious lung trouble develops. If every cold received the attention it should have, all danger of this kind would be avoided. Every cold can be cured by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A bottle or two of this remedy taken when the cold is first contracted will promptly cure it, and not only save doctor's bills, but much suffering and annoyance later on.

A Money-Maker For Stockholders

More money is being made on automobile inventions today than upon any other single line of inventive effort. Every good invention or attachment finds instant acceptance, because the spirit of the times is toward the absolute perfection of the automobile in every way that mechanical genius can design.

The New Self-Air-Cushioning Wheel Renders the Automobile Safer and Surer, Obviates Accidents and Saves Time, Patience and Money.

It absolutely prevents blow-outs and all accidents due to the use of pneumatic tries. It makes a complete revolution in the making of wheels for automobiles. The whole world is its field, as, owing to its supreme excellence, it must be adopted at once into universal use.

The Public Is Invited to Call and See the Wheel Demonstrated and Investigate the Capital Stock and the Methods of the Company.

A small amount of preferred stock will be sold at par, $40 a share, for the purpose of equipping a factory at once. Six per cent. Cumulative Dividends will be set aside for the holders of this preferred stock, and still further profitable and protective concessions will be offered all those who subscribe at once, the object being to secure the funds and begin to fill the demand for the wheels immediately. Come in and see the wheel demonstrated, investigate the methods of the company. Study the field of its opportunities, and place yourself in line to make money rapidly by this great invention. This is an unusual opportunity for the small as well as the large investor.

IF I WERE THE MAYOR

BY TOMMY

My ambition is to be the reform Mayor of Los Angeles.

Give me a pair of gum boots and a hundred private detectives and I will prove to the world that we have the rottenest city, the rottenest police force, the rottenest everything that ever existed.

If the people of this city will but elect me Mayor, I will guarantee to rake the muck with a distinction never before equaled. I will guarantee to remove every policeman; "recall" all the city officials; put the members of every gentlemen's club in jail; and convince the whole world that we have a red-light district.

I promise to show that the Owens River water is full of dangerous alligators; that the city library is full of gold fish and conspiracies; that the dog pound has fleas; that all the beer sold in Los Angeles contains hops; and that it is dangerous to have the City Councilmen either at large or in wards.

All I ask is that I be allowed to have a private grand jury and to be allowed to import a few Russian spies.

But enough of generalities.

For instance, the City Council.

My idea would be to have a new Council chamber built at the City Hall. It should have a deep double floor so that detectives could be concealed underneath.

Above the ceiling, there certainly ought to be another space—a sort of false ceiling in order that detectives could be hidden in the roof while the Council proceedings were going on.

I consider the problem of the walls to be comparatively easy. To my mind the grandest stride that has ever been made in municipal government was accomplished by the man in Pittsburgh who devised the plan of having holes bored into the walls of the room where the Councilmen consulted.

It is hardly necessary to say that I approve of the doctrine of the Recall; but I consider that it is not managed along the lines of scientific government at present.

Instead of all this fuss about recall petitions and name signing and such, my idea would be to first select a committee of the City Club or Municipal League to decide which city official is not liked, and then set about recalling him.

Having determined which one's face is not liked (this should be conducted by secret ballot) I should cause to be detailed a special corps of my secret service men. I should employ, in such cases as these, three sets of sleuths.

One set would be assigned to the duty of getting the city official into some sort of a scrape; the second set would have the duty of catching the official in the act; the third set would watch the first two sets.

Having secured the necessary evidence, I should have the city official taken to a "sweat box" and there bulldozed into a confession.

Having obtained his confession, I should not attempt to send him to jail or anything like that. Ah, no. That's not scientific government. I should make him agree to be recalled.

Then I should say to him: "Here, now, you would like to keep out of Second Day of Demonstration Week Proves Delightful to Visitors—The Methodist and Episcopalian Ladies Receive—Exhibits Highly Creditable—Cooking Lesson Irresistible.

Yesterday, the second day of the great demonstration week at the Young Women's Christian Association, the beautiful building was open for inspection from basement to roof garden. Hospitable fires glowed in the library and members' room, giving cheery greeting to the visitors who thronged there. Methodist and Episcopalian ladies formed the Reception Committee, and tea was served in the afternoon.

Callers were conducted to the various floors, where exhibits were made. Many prominent society women hovered over the pretty gowns on the forms in the sewing rooms, which showed the marvelous progress of the pupils in the needlework classes. There were dainty Directoire garments, a tailored suit that might have passed for a graduation effort, and all sorts and varieties of garments. The embroidery was especially fine, and bits of handiwork recalled the efforts of good old-fashioned days, when the sewing machine was unknown in the land. Hats and bonnets held an interested crowd all day long. A prominent St. Louis woman, Mrs. Charles A. Cox, who is familiar with the association work in her city, lingered long over this exhibit, and expressed her astonishment at the completeness of the Los Angeles Y.W.C.A. With the millinery were shown exquisite flowers fashioned of ribbon.

The drawing exhibit included creditable efforts in designing, studies in black and white, and delicate bits of color work. Just a step, and Miss Rucker's stenciling could be viewed. It fascinated housekeepers, as well as artists. There were tables covers and pillows with novel designs, and many applied work on velvet in Irish crochet peacock colors, and other shimmering effects.

At 10 o'clock in the morning the domestic science rooms were the center of attraction and were crowded to the doors with women absorbed in the mysteries of cookery, as demonstrated by Mrs. Susan E. Pearse. Many stood during the two-hour demonstration, including several brides whose weddings were events of the fall season.

While Mrs. Pearse made her deft fingers fly in the preparation of the dainties, her tongue kept up a running fire of comments and directions. The menu included a puree of carrot, filets of flounder St. Malo, casserole of chicken dinner salad, and coup Susanne. Though the dishes looked too lovely to disturb, all were tasted by pupils and soon vanished.

Last evening the gymnasium gallery was filled with spectators who were thrilled by the exercises given by a section of young women, under the direction of Miss Stevers. Vigorous movements, military precision, inspiration and grace marked the lesson.

Tomorrow at 6:45 o'clock p.m. there will be another open class lesson in gymnasium work, and at 8 o'clock p.m. a practical demonstration of the work of the school of English, and a brief address by Dr. Homer B. Sprague. Friday evening at 8 o'clock a programme will be given by the Choral Club and orchestras. Sunday at 4 o'clock p.m. there will be a special service in the interest of the Bible department, with an address by Prof.

All I ask is that I be allowed to have a private grand jury and to be allowed to import a few Russian spies.

For instance, the City Council.

My idea would be to have a new Council chamber built at the City Hall. It should have a deep double floor so that detectives could be concealed underneath.

Above the ceiling, there certainly ought to be another space—a sort of false ceiling in order that detectives could be hidden in the roof while the Council proceedings were going on.

I consider the problem of the walls to be comparatively easy. To my mind the grandest stride that has ever been made in municipal government was accomplished by the man in Pittsburgh who devised the plan of having holes bored into the walls of the room where the Councilmen consulted.

It is hardly necessary to say that I approve of the doctrine of the Recall; but I consider that it is not managed along the lines of scientific government at present.

Instead of all this fuss about recall petitions and name signing and such, my idea would be to first select a committee of the City Club or Municipal League to decide which city official is not liked, and then set about recalling him.

Having determined which one's face is not liked (this should be conducted by secret ballot) I should cause to be installed a special corps of my secret service men. I should employ, in such cases as these, three sets of sleuths.

The first set would be assigned to the duty of getting the city official into some sort of a scrape; the second set would have the duty of catching the official in the act; the third set would watch the first two sets.

Having secured the necessary evidence, I should have the city official taken to a "sweat box" and there bulldozed into a confession.

Having obtained his confession, I should not attempt to send him to jail or anything like that. Ah, no. That's not scientific government. I should make him agree to be recalled.

Then I should say to him: "Here, now, you would like to keep out of jail, wouldn't you? You would like to get even, too?"

Of course, he would say, yes, he would.

Then I would explain to him: "Here, we are going to elect another Councilman in your place, since you are recalled. We don't know who will be elected; but the Municipal League feels that it isn't going to like him. What we want to do is to recall him. Now we will release you on probation or something like on condition that you gumshoe around on the track of your successor and secure evidence enough to insure his recall."

Of course he would consent to that. How could he help that?

Just as soon as the new Councilman was selected by the Municipal League I would put our recalled Councilman on the trail. After a little practice, we could have just lots and lots of recalls.

My previous experience with the problems of city government teaches me that much money is wasted. We ought to do away with a great lot of these clerks and tax collectors and school departments. What we need—I say what we need—is more private detectives.

We ought to issue bonds in this city for some sensible purpose. We ought to bond the city for about $10,000,000 for a fund to be known as the "Sh-h-h-h fund."

I am convinced that it would be very easy to secretly employ the school teachers to watch the principals and the pupils to watch the teachers. I would have a special fund set aside to employ wandering newspaper reporters to watch the police and another fund to have the police watch each other.

The bad women of the town, who now constitute such a problem, could, under my system, be turned into one of the most valuable elements of our population. Think what corking spies these girls would make!

As I remarked before, I would have a special grand jury set aside for my own use; but I think I would have two such juries. One would be kept constantly employed in bringing special reports roasting Capt. Fredericks.

I would have another jury set aside for the benefit of my friends of the City Club and Municipal League. The chief use of this jury would be to terrorize anybody who tried to sue my friend the Evening Express for libel or anything like that.

Every time the Express got into a hole I would have this grand jury bring in a special report appropriate to the needs of the occasion.

But the perceiving mind will see that I have a broader and keener idea in the establishment of these grand juries than appears on the surface. Eh? Do you see? Of course you see.

My purpose would be to have each grand jury watch and investigate each of the other grand juries.

And I would have pretty near everybody sleuth around after the Mayor—after I got through being Mayor.

My idea, really, in being Mayor, would be largely to lay traps for the next Mayor. You understand that I could easily take advantage of my term of office to have secret chambers and perforated walls arranged all around the next Mayor.

Then whenever there didn't seem to be much doing before the City Club, I could produce the goods on any official or any set of officials who did not happen to be liked in our set.

CHINESE LAUNDRIES BAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Criminal action may be taken against Chinese laundrymen in Chicago who sprinkle clothes by blowing water through their mouths. Complaints have been brought to the attention of Health Commissioner Evans that disease has resulted from this practice.

These complaints, coming upon the heels of reports from Paterson, N. J., that a citizen of that place had contracted leprosy from a collar ironed by a Chinese laundryman, have caused an investigation to be made here. The collar was rough edged and the germs of the dread disease lodged in these breaks in the linen, the doctors say.

The possibility of such a thing in Chicago has stirred the health authorities.

A thorough inspection of Chinese laundries is to be made, the owners will be compelled to keep their places in sanitary condition and the Chinese practice of sprinkling clothes through the mouth will be stopped.

Dr. Heman Spalding, in charge of the department of contagious diseases, declared the method of doing up clothes in Chinese laundries was dangerous and ought to be prohibited by law.

SOWING DRAGON'S TEETH.

That is what some of us are doing these balmy spring days in Los Angeles. It is a queer husbandry which good people are engaged in, and some of them generally sensible people. He was no fool who sowed the first crop of dragon's teeth. But he did a foolish act.

A citizen who lived in Los Angeles years ago, has been away for a time and recently returned, said in the street yesterday: "What a change has come over the spirit of Los Angeles! It used to be all harmony here. All were boosters in my time. All worked like a big team to get things done for the common good. Now you all divide into hostile camps, and every man you meet knocks, knocks every man whose name is mentioned."

There is truth in it. But the statement was exaggerated. The pink-ticket clique is not all the people, and never will be. The knockers are all in that clique, and knock all who are not in the index list. They want to rule the city, and, unable to do so, are bent on ruining it.

It makes no difference what may be the outcome of this campaign of knocking, this entertainment of discord, the net result will be a crop of dragons that will eat the vitals out of both sides. We shall have here an era of bitter enmity making sores which years will not cure. The generation of Ishmael is being created by hundreds. The community is split into warring factions, and it is home against home, neighbor against neighbor. The personal nature of the whole quarrel intensifies the acrimony. In families there are differences which lead almost to violence. This strife will not soon heal. For years it will leave scars.

We need harmony in Los Angeles as never before. We have great enterprises on foot, which call for united action. It will be all we can do to carry them out. And here we have a senseless, useless, wholly silly fight over petty politics and personal grievances that will put all these undertakings in jeopardy.

The recall is not a thing of today to pass away tomorrow like a shower and leave clear skies behind it. Rival canvassers are out all over the city organizing the people into contending factions. You hear angry altercations wherever you go, citizen abusing citizen because one does not see things as the other does. The active members of the faction for war, like the fiend that stood on the burning mountain of hell, proclaim all who do not join their crusade of hatred as totally depraved. These petitions and protests will be circulated for weeks. Charges of forgery, chicanery, double-dealing, will be made by wholesale. Some of these charges will be well founded, no doubt. Then the fight is sure to go into the courts, and then there will be a howl of rage and the courts will be threatened if they do not decide to suit those who think they are the only people whose opinion is worth listening to. So [illegible]ring will come and go and summer will fol[illegible]muck-raking, crimination and recrimina[illegible]y. But no peace will come to Los [illegible]

[illegible]lection is ever held, whichever [illegible]will be trouble. If the Mayor is [illegible] of six to one, the minority will [illegible] for all sorts of shortcomings, [illegible]inst the Mayor (which we do [illegible]e successor, whoever he may [illegible] of a second storm as violent [illegible] subjected to a dose of recall [illegible] as bitterness is in the heart

[illegible] run against Harper? A man [illegible]es and brains? Do not expect [illegible] see his fate written in letters [illegible] where he sleeps. Some small-fry [illegible] the nomination of the pink[illegible]as sure as man is fallible, he will [illegible], and whether he does or not, those [illegible]rove of too narrow a policy in our city [illegible] the so-called "liberals"—will try to recall [illegible]m if he is not "liberal" enough. He will be the target for the abuse now heaped on the present Mayor. He will have to bear the costs of a second election. If he gets his seat by the end of June, he will be the object of recall by the end of summer. He will have a fine dose of trouble and expense for the fun of being Mayor a few months.

And let him mark it well, he will not be Mayor. The atrabilious millionaire who runs a toy newspaper to gratify his spleen against those he hates will dictate all that the "recall" Mayor does. He will dictate things impossible, and will invoke the recall again if his man disobeys, while others will "recall" if the puppet is docile to the cross-grained boss who makes faces at his own reflection in the mirror.

A pretty prospect for a city where all have been pulling together so well, which has great things to do in this year just opened, and where harmony must rule or failure follow!

If the Express chooses to harbor the delusion that people turn to its columns to see how The Times stands upon any question, instead of to The Times, we do not object. It only indicates that the Express is dying at the top.

THE FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE.

Besides the United States Steel Corporation, to whose policy The Times has referred, the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., Butler Brothers of Chicago and many other large business concerns throughout the country have tried the experiment of taking their employés into a sort of quasi partnership that appears to have proven highly beneficial to all concerned.

Dispatches published in The Times last week made known the fact that in some of these firms the practice of aiding the employés to secure allotments of the company's stock has worked well, resulting in creating independent fortunes for the men. In other instances the companies voted pensions for old employés, and in still other instances—as in the case of the Morgan concern—the employés are paid bonuses on their yearly salaries as rewards for long-continued and faithful services.

Each of these ideas has worked satisfactorily to the employers as well as to the men and women who carry the detail of the work day in and out, year after year. It has brought contentment to the worker and security to the manager. Doubtless the practice will spread to many other business houses and concerns that have not already adopted it.

A faithful employé is the most valuable asset that a business enterprise can have. He is entitled to the utmost consideration at the hands of his employers. He helps to create a wealth in which he has a right to share, and it is to be welcomed that he is now receiving greater recognition than has ever before been given him.

There can be only just so many captains of industry and just so many field marshals of prosperity. The great majority of men must take their places in the ranks. But the man in the ranks must do his share toward the victory, and when he does it he is entitled to his reward.

It is a good sign of the times that employers are recognizing the fact that when a man spends a lifetime in their service, doing his duty faithfully and honestly at all times, reliable always and always eager for his employer's success, that he is worth more than the wages he has received, even though the wage was at the market price. The new system will increase the ranks of faithful employés and will give the country a more contented and independent class of workers, with a resultant disappearance of labor-union demagogy.

SORE BESET.

WATCH HENEY'S MEN.

Guilty or innocent, heaven help Patrick Calhoun unless he is able to keep tab on the secret service men under Heney in San Francisco! Already the de jure District Attorney, Mr. Langdon, has been compelled to acknowledge that one of his sleuths had attempted to tamper with a prospective juror. Langdon will not tell who the man was, but gives us to understand he has "fired" him. Who knows? It is quite possible, not to put it in a stronger way, that this concealed person is still at it.

Every time a juror is approached, depend on Heney to roar that the defense is doing it. A fine game. Like the darky with the possum, "it gets dem a-comin' and it gets dem a-goin'." If the tampering is not discovered, the prosecution wins. If it is made public, the odium is put on the defense. "Heads I win, tails you lose."

BIG OTHERWISE TOO.

Mr. Taft has had to have a bath tub made to suit his size. It will hold four ordinary men. This shows that the new President is no ordinary man. And it needs no bath tub come from the plumber's to tell us that.

The world is much astray if Judge Taft is not just as big in the Presidential chair as he is in the bath tub. He will, no doubt, need a chair made to suit his size, and he will make a new administration to suit the capacity of his mind and ability.

When the historian comes to write of President Taft, the pages will show that he was in all ways no ordinary man. The chapter which will tell the story will be bigger than the bath tub or the chair.

Unless we err greatly, the Taft chapter in our history will be one of the very greatest and brightest of all. He will leave his impress on our life for years to come.

MEDIUMS AND THEIR WORK.

In the last few numbers of Pearson's Magazine Rupert Hughes has a series of articles entitled "Seeing Things," an exposé of modern professional spiritualism. Mr. Hughes frankly says that each article "is a brief of a prosecuting attorney." He shows no mercy in his denunciations. Great names do not terrorize him in the least, and the way he handles the college professors who, after living in the clouds for years, undertake to "investigate" occultism and fall a ready victim, ought to open a few eyes.

One of these dear old gentlemen cited as an authority by spiritualists, after telling of the wonders he has seen and how certain he is that there could be no imposture, incidentally mentions the fact that he is very near-sighted. And he is sure that, in a semi-dark room, the medium could not play any tricks on him! Mediums are permitted, expected, indeed, to be very restless. They shout, groan, jump and flop, act like crazy people generally, all a very cheap trick to cover their movements. Imagine a typical old professor, who sits for hours in pitchy darkness, holding the hand of a howling, groaning, jumping female and waiting for "something" to happen. By that time he does not know whether he is holding her hand or his own foot.

Mr. Hughes does not stop at mere invective. He takes up scores of tricks worked by professional mediums and shows exactly how they are done. His explanations are clear enough to convince any one not mad on the subject. Of these, the author admits he has no hope, but if he can keep others from being led astray he will be satisfied. His aim is to confirm skeptics in their attitude and hold those unfortunates who may be hesitating. Keller, the magician, who positively denied that he possessed any "supernatural" powers, once, at a banquet tendered him by some members of his craft, performed under glaring lights new tricks which even they were unable to fathom. Never did a so-called medium excell Keller's work in pitch darkness amid a crowd of yokels.

How information is acquired by some of these tricksters is shown quite fully by Mr. Hughes. Visits to graveyards and inspections of tombstones, interviews with the village gossip, confederates ingratiating themselves with servants, spies in every line. Some years ago a guide-book was printed and circulated under cover, giving lists of persons in cities and towns all over the United States interested in occultism, probable victims, with members of their families, living and deceased, their characteristics and a mass of information to enable swindlers to ply their wiles on them. A few copies of this book are to be had, Mr. Hughes says, but they are hard for the uninitiated to get.

Purely for argument's sake, let us suppose that some of these "mediums" have obtained some inkling of matters connected with another world. Christianity teaches that there are evil as well as good spirits, whatever they may be. Unbelievers simply say they know nothing, one way or the other. No one may reasonably ask when or where did one of these so-called mediums do any good in this world, when did one bring a message from the dead of any value, when did one perform a feat of benefit to mankind. Most of their work is the cheapest kind of nonsense. Their tricks would cause a 10-year-old boy to be spanked. When they are serious in character they are evil. How many happy homes have been broken up by them! What misery has been caused by them! Really, if spirits do this sort of thing, all persons would do well to let them alone.

As a matter of fact, there were "mediums," under other names, thousands of years ago, and people who wasted their lives in the useless and silly pursuit of the "occult." It never benefited them or any one else in the least, but it did do harm sometimes. People really know just as much about the "occult" now as they did 4000 years ago, and no more, granting, for the argument, that there is anything in it beyond trickery, sleight of hand and the like. So why waste time on it?

PUBLIC PRINTING.

There are skeletons the Express should keep locked up. One is the public printing. Twice the Express entered into a dishonest, crooked, selfish combine to plunder the city and county treasury in the matter of public printing.

Once it got away with the loot, $1000 good money, the taxpayers' money, for NO SERVICE. It agreed to take the $1000 as a bribe to let another paper get the contract, unopposed. A second time, and that while it was the property and plaything of E. T. Earl, it tried to play the same game. It was detected, and the stolen bone was taken from between its paws as it was about to stick its teeth in and run off with the prey.

And that was the reason why the Express had the recall worked on poor old Councilman Davenport, and "Doc" Howton was called from hunting spooks and playing with marked cards to help run the city according to the dictates of the Express. Let Earl keep on harping about the city printing if he will!

And so The Times was for Harper in the last campaign, according to the tricky Express! If we were fond of quoting from that frantic little sheet we could reproduce many taunts printed in the Express after Harper was elected, in which the Express sought, in the most unneighborly and unfraternal manner, to rub salt into the wounds of The Times and to hurt its feelings. Has the Express really forgotten all its unkind and unmannerly chucklings over the defeat of The Times' candidate for Mayor, Dr. Lindley, all its really disagreeable efforts to make The Times unhappy because of Dr. Lindley's defeat? Or is it just lying—lying to waste?

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEA.

A Dazzling Staircase.

Abdul Hamid proposes to install in his Turkish palace a complete staircase of cut glass, which, when completed, will be the most dazzling staircase ever built. The staircase will be twenty-five feet wide. Its "treads" will be beveled and cut with Turkish inscriptions, and the whole will be illuminated with colored electric lights on state occasions.

Religious Superstitions of China.

Of the late Chinese Emperor it may be said, as it has been of his subjects, that he was born a Confucian, lived a Taoist, and died a Buddhist. China, indeed, has four state-established religions, and in each the Emperor exercises sacerdotal functions. Twice a year the Emperor, as "Son of Heaven," worships before the tablet of Shang Ti or Supreme Heaven, in accordance with the ancient imperial monotheism. Twice a year he burns incense before the tablets of his ancestors, in accordance with Confucianism. Twice a year he sacrifices to the gods of Taoism, and twice a year to the image of Buddha. The ancient and primitive religion of China is monotheistic, but this direct worship was regarded as too sublime for the people, so that it became reserved for the Emperor alone, as the Son of Heaven and as priest of the nation. The people, on their part, worshiped their ancestors, and it was this ancestral religion which Confucius identified himself with and reformed. The old superstitions rejected by Confucius were absorbed by Taoism, which is polytheistic and the religion of the populace. Then Buddhism came into China about 65 A.D., and, like the other three religions, became state-supported and state-endowed.

Most Learned Woman in the World.

Mrs. Thomas L. Lewis of Dublin is a doctor of divinity, yet she is not a minister, and has never studied theology, and though she lectures frequently she has never occupied a pulpit. She is the wife of a philanthropic gentleman of wealth and leisure, and has spent her life in the study of the scriptures, history and archaeology and the oriental languages. She is probably the most learned woman in the world. Her degree was conferred by Cambridge University, while Oxford has presented her with the degree of doctor of philosophy, and several German universities have also conferred degrees upon her in recognition of her learning.

New Type of French Women.

Under the Napoleonic code, French women were not free to do as they should please, but there has been a continual process of intellectual emancipation, so that today there are about 85,000 women employed as teachers in France. An English woman, however, was the first to study medicine in Paris, and the number of Russian and Polish women now attending the French schools of medicine and pharmacy is very large. At the present time all educational posts, with the exception of the theological, are open to women. In the hospitals, in the higher councils of labor, of hygiene and of instruction, they are admitted and listened to. The nomination of Mme. Curie to the chair of physics and chemistry at the Sarbonne is a significant example. The Academie Francaise alone shuts its doors to women, while the committees of the most important literary societies welcome them gladly. Since [illegible] a married woman has been able to open a separate bank account without her husband's consent, and a law passed quite recently permits her for the first time to dispose of the salary she earns.

HOROSCOPE.

Wednesday, January 27, 1909.
BY COZETTE.

And pledges wealth and fortune for this day.

Make business announcements this day. The sign is good over writings and the printed word.

Good results should follow journeys for pleasure, health or business.

Venus, opposed by Neptune, menaces quarrels between the sexes, especially in matters connected with money or material matters.

Mercury is in benefic aspect over dealings with artificers, ingenious workmen, school teachers, young persons beginning trades or business, commissioners, agents, salesmen, motormen, engineers and printers.

Application and close attention will repay employés this day.

Beware of falling waters and the edges of excavations in this period.

Travel or an agreeable piece of news are indicated for women with this birthdate. The year will meet an engaging person.

Men with this birthdate will have to avoid idle quarrels and use prudence in investment. Speculation will do harm.

Keen intuition is in the indication for children born this day. Girls will probably love poetry or music. Boys may show a disposition to avoid confining or exacting work.

Our Luck.

It is lucky for the California Legislature that it has a great and good friend who is strong enough to call it down. Several other Legislatures will live not to regret it if they had an able censor.—[Chicago News.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

"Othello" was given at Hamburger's Majestic Theater last night by Charles B. Hanford and his company of players. The announcement made on the programmes is that this is Shakespeare's greatest tragedy—though those of the audience who know and love "King Lear" and "Mabbeth," and, above all, "Hamlet," may take issue with Mr. Hanford on the question. It all depends on the point of view—whether one cares for poetry more or for dramatic construction less. Without doubt, in construction, and in culminating tensity, "Othello" is one of the master playwright's most perfect works.

The Hanford players give a production that is eminently satisfactory in many of its parts. Mr. Hanford and most of his people belong to the oratorical school of acting—they delight in rounded periods, in rolling R's, and in sweeping gestures. They cling to tradition, and in but few cases give interpretations that are simple and "unclassical." Yet, without exception, they read their lines intelligently, thus giving a distinct pleasure, quite outside their acting, to the true lover of Shakespeare.

Mr. Hanford's Othello is nobly dignified. The actor reads his lines with fine discrimination. He works up to the final catastrophe with splendid and gratifying effect. Indeed, from the moment when the venom of jealousy has begun to eat into the noble soul of the Moor, the actor brings all his best powers into play, giving us much that is most admirable.

The Iago of John M. Kline is a careful, well-studied effort, done with skill and intelligence, but somewhat lacking in subtlety. It interests us, but does not quite convince. Iago was a plausible schemer, a polished man of the world, to be interpreted only by the most delicate methods of modern acting. His plotting was melodramatic, if you will, but his gestures never.

Miss Drofnah's Desdemona is most sympathetic in interpretation. There is genuine poignancy in the abandonment of her grief when she realizes that her husband suspects her of infidelity.

Florence Oakley is playing The Girl in "The Girl of the Golden West," in genuinely brilliant fashion this week. She was acclaimed last night by a St. Vincent's College audience, which filled the entire theater.

Joseph E. Luckett, representing Liebler and company, is in town ahead of "Mrs. Wiggs," having walked, traveled forty miles by stage and ferried numerous streams to make train connections here from the North.

Mr. Luckett was for a number of years lessee of the Columbia Theater, in Washington, D. C.

Willis Marks has been seriously ill during the week past with pneumonia, but his physicians stated last night that they believed their patient had passed the crisis safely.

The best thing about Ferris Hartman's company, at the Grand, is its general even balance. This is well illustrated in the current bill, "The Wizard of the Nile," Frank Daniels's old success.

"The Wizard of the Nile," though one of two of the moment's foremost exponents of comedy and music, Harry B. Smith and Victor Herbert, belongs to a style that is not the day's fashion. Comic-opera modes change almost as frequently as the cut of women's clothes. The call of the hour demands the treatment of present-day people in present-day places—in a thoroughly intimate manner. "The Wizard of the Nile" belongs to the school of fanciful character creations, just as "King Dodo," "The Idol's Eye," and a lot of similar pieces. In another season or two the needle of public demand will swing back again in the make-believe direction of fantasy.

"The Wizard of the Nile" has a capable group of these fantastic roles, some of which could be called great, and so put together are they that any one badly done would spoil the effect of the whole. The Hartman principals are all efficient, presenting a smooth, well-rounded and interesting performance.

Hartman himself plays Kibosh, the flippant Persian magician, wearer of several comic-opera clothes and cracker of typically Danielian jokery. Anna Boyd is seen as Cleopatra, the beautiful young princess; Muggins Davies is daintily placed as the roguish apprentice to the wizard, the boy Abydos; Josie Hart plays Simoona, the [illegible]eric second wife; Joseph Fogarty is [illegible]nchalantly humorous as Cheops, the royal weather prophet; Charles [illegible]g is delightful as Ptarmigan, the [illegible]wart music-teacher to the Princess, and Robert Lett is the querulous [illegible] King, Ptolemy. [illegible]e chorus is charmingly arrayed—[illegible]gh not for cold weather.

[illegible]re are three sketches upon the [illegible] Angeles theater programme this [illegible], each good in its way. One of [illegible] three was played for the first time [illegible]day afternoon, and served to re[illegible]duce to local audiences Mr. and [illegible] Walter Fredericks, the latter better known as Katharine Kirkwood. [illegible]stech presents Miss Kirkwood in [illegible]guise of a young woman who is [illegible]ting and dreading a visit from a [illegible]n cowboy. The cowboy in real[illegible]s a college graduate and ranch [illegible], but so that she may not be disturbed, her brother dons the typical [illegible] make-up of the western deperado [illegible]makes things lively in the divert[illegible]sage cowboy fashion. The piece [illegible] long and decidedly too noisy, [illegible] can be made into an amusing [illegible]al comedy.

[illegible]a Sherman, Mabie De Forrest and [illegible]any present a novelty in "A Jay [illegible]." The company numbers five [illegible] a dozen or more supernumeraries employed, making it rather a pre[illegible]us act for popular-priced vaud[illegible]. The fun is contributed by two played by Mr. Sherman and [illegible] Belmont.

SOWING DRAGON'S TEETH.

That is what some of us are doing these balmy spring days in Los Angeles. It is a queer husbandry which good people are engaged in, and some of them generally sensible people. He was no fool who sowed the first crop of dragon's teeth. But he did a foolish act.

A citizen who lived in Los Angeles years ago, has been away for a time and recently returned, said in the street yesterday: "What a change has come over the spirit of Los Angeles! It used to be all harmony here. All were boosters in my time. All worked like a big team to get things done for the common good. Now you all divide into hostile camps, and every man you meet knocks, knocks every man whose name is mentioned."

There is truth in it. But the statement was exaggerated. The pink-ticket clique is not all the people, and never will be. The knockers are all in that clique, and knock all who are not in the index list. They want to rule the city, and, unable to do so, are bent on ruining it.

It makes no difference what may be the outcome of this campaign of knocking, this entertainment of discord, the net result will be a crop of dragons that will eat the vitals out of both sides. We shall have here an era of bitter enmity making sores which years will not cure. The generation of Ishmael is being created by hundreds. The community is split into warring factions, and it is home against home, neighbor against neighbor. The personal nature of the whole quarrel intensifies the acrimony. In families there are differences which lead almost to violence. This strife will not soon heal. For years it will leave scars.

We need harmony in Los Angeles as never before. We have great enterprises on foot, which call for united action. It will be all we can do to carry them out. And here we have a senseless, useless, wholly silly fight over petty politics and personal grievances that will put all these undertakings in jeopardy.

The recall is not a thing of today to pass away tomorrow like a shower and leave clear skies behind it. Rival canvassers are out all over the city organizing the people into contending factions. You hear angry altercations wherever you go, citizen abusing citizen because one does not see things as the other does. The active members of the faction for war, like the fiend that stood on the burning mountain of hell, proclaim all who do not join their crusade of hatred as totally depraved. These petitions and protests will be circulated for weeks. Charges of forgery, chicanery, double-dealing, will be made by wholesale. Some of these charges will be well founded, no doubt. Then the fight is sure to go into the courts, and then there will be a howl of rage and the courts will be threatened if they do not decide to suit those who think they are the only people whose opinion is worth listening to. So the spring will come and go and summer will follow, with muck-raking, crimination and recrimination every day. But no peace will come to Los Angeles.

If the recall election is ever held, whichever way it goes there will be trouble. If the Mayor is sustained by a vote of six to one, the minority will blame the majority for all sorts of shortcomings, and if the vote is against the Mayor (which we do not think is likely) his successor, whoever he may be, will be the center of a second storm as violent as the first. He will be subjected to a dose of recall medicine, just as sure as bitterness is in the heart of disappointed men.

Who will consent to run against Harper? A man of conscience, acuteness and brains? Do not expect it. Such a man will see his fate written in letters of fire on the wall where he sleeps. Some small-fry politician may take the nomination of the pink-ticket crowd. As sure as man is fallible, he will make mistakes, and whether he does or not, those who disapprove of too narrow a policy in our city affairs—the so-called "liberals"—will try to recall him if he is not "liberal" enough. He will be the target for the abuse now heaped on the present Mayor. He will have to bear the costs of a second election. If he gets his seat by the end of June, he will be the object of recall by the end of summer. He will have a fine dose of trouble and expense for the fun of being Mayor a few months.

And let him mark it well, he will not be Mayor. The atrabilious millionaire who runs a joy newspaper to gratify his spleen against those he hates will dictate all that the "recall" Mayor does. He will dictate things impossible, and will invoke the recall again if his man disobeys, while others will "recall" if the puppet is docile to the cross-grained boss who makes faces at his own reflection in the mirror.

A pretty prospect for a city where all have been pulling together so well, which has great things to do in this year just opened, and where harmony must rule or failure follow!

If the Express chooses to harbor the delusion that people turn to its columns to see how The Times stands upon any question, instead of to The Times, we do not object. It only indicates that the Express is dying at the top.

THE FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE.

Besides the United States Steel Corporation, to whose policy The Times has referred, the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., Butler Brothers of Chicago and many other large business concerns throughout the country have tried the experiment of taking their employés into a sort of quasi partnership that appears to have proven highly beneficial to all concerned.

Dispatches published in The Times last week made known the fact that in some of these firms the practice of aiding the employés to secure allotments of the company's stock has worked well, resulting in creating independent fortunes for the men. In other instances the companies voted pensions for old employés, and in still other instances—as in the case of the Morgan concern—the employés are paid bonuses on their yearly salaries as rewards for long-continued and faithful services.

Each of these ideas has worked satisfactorily to the employers as well as to the men and women who carry the detail of the work day in and out, year after year. It has brought contentment to the worker and security to the manager. Doubtless the practice will spread to many other business houses and concerns that have not already adopted it.

A faithful employé is the most valuable asset that a business enterprise can have. He is entitled to the utmost consideration at the hands of his employers. He helps to create a wealth in which he has a right to share, and it is to be welcomed that he is now receiving greater recognition than has ever before been given him.

There can be only just so many captains of industry and just so many field marshals of prosperity. The great majority of men must take their places in the ranks. But the man in the ranks must do his share toward the victory, and when he does it he is entitled to his reward.

It is a good sign of the times that employers are recognizing the fact that when a man spends a lifetime in their service, doing his duty faithfully and honestly at all times, reliable always and always eager for his employer's success, that he is worth more than the wages he has received, even though the wage was at the market price. The new system will increase the ranks of faithful employés and will give the country a more contented and independent class of workers, with a resultant disappearance of labor-union demagogy.

WATCH HENEY'S MEN.

Guilty or innocent, heaven help Patrick Calhoun unless he is able to keep tab on the secret service men under Heney in San Francisco! Already the de jure District Attorney, Mr. Langdon, has been compelled to acknowledge that one of his sleuths had attempted to tamper with a prospective juror. Langdon will not tell who the man was, but gives us to understand he has "fired" him. Who knows? It is quite possible, not to put it in a stronger way, that this concealed person is still at it.

Every time a juror is approached, depend on Heney to roar that the defense is doing it. A fine game. Like the darky with the possum, "it gets dem a-comin' and it gets dem a-goin'." If the tampering is not discovered, the prosecution wins. If it is made public, the odium is put on the defense. "Heads I win, tails you lose."

BIG OTHERWISE TOO.

Mr. Taft has had to have a bath tub made to suit his size. It will hold four ordinary men. This shows that the new President is no ordinary man. And it needs no bath tub come from the plumber's to tell us that.

The world is much astray if Judge Taft is not just as big in the Presidential chair as he is in the bath tub. He will, no doubt, need a chair made to suit his size, and he will make a new administration to suit the capacity of his mind and ability.

When the historian comes to write of President Taft, the pages will show that he was in all ways no ordinary man. The chapter which will tell the story will be bigger than the bath tub or the chair.

Unless we err greatly, the Taft chapter in our history will be one of the very greatest and brightest of all. He will leave his impress on our life for years to come.

MEDIUMS AND THEIR WORK.

In the last few numbers of Pearson's Magazine Rupert Hughes has a series of articles entitled "Seeing Things," an exposé of modern professional spiritualism. Mr. Hughes frankly says that each article "is a brief of a prosecuting attorney." He shows no mercy in his denunciations. Great names do not terrorize him in the least, and the way he handles the college professors who, after living in the clouds for years, undertake to "investigate" occultism and fall a ready victim, ought to open a few eyes.

One of these dear old gentlemen cited as an authority by spiritualists, after telling of the wonders he has seen and how certain he is that there could be no imposture, incidentally mentions the fact that he is very near-sighted. And he is sure that, in a semi-dark room, the medium could not play any tricks on him! Mediums are permitted, expected, indeed, to be very restless. They shout, groan, jump and flop, act like crazy people generally, all a very cheap trick to cover their movements. Imagine a typical old professor, who sits for hours in pitchy darkness, holding the hand of a howling, groaning, jumping female and waiting for "something" to happen. By that time he does not know whether he is holding her hand or his own foot.

Mr. Hughes does not stop at mere invective. He takes up scores of tricks worked by professional mediums and shows exactly how they are done. His explanations are clear enough to convince any one not mad on the subject. Of these, the author admits he has no hope, but if he can keep others from being led astray he will be satisfied. His aim is to confirm skeptics in their attitude and hold those unfortunates who may be hesitating. Keller, the magician, who positively denied that he possessed any "supernatural" powers, once, at a banquet tendered him by some members of his craft, performed under glaring lights new tricks which even they were unable to fathom. Never did a so-called medium excell Keller's work in pitch darkness amid a crowd of yokels.

How information is acquired by some of these tricksters is shown quite fully by Mr. Hughes. Visits to graveyards and inspections of tombstones, interviews with the village gossip, confederates ingratiating themselves with servants, spies in every line. Some years ago a guide-book was printed and circulated under cover, giving lists of persons in cities and towns all over the United States interested in occultism, probable victims, with members of their families, living and deceased, their characteristics and a mass of information to enable swindlers to ply their wiles on them. A few copies of this book are to be had, Mr. Hughes says, but they are hard for the uninitiated to get.

Purely for argument's sake, let us suppose that some of these "mediums" have obtained some inkling of matters connected with another world. Christianity teaches that there are evil as well as good spirits, whatever they may be. Unbelievers simply say they know nothing, one way or the other. No one may reasonably ask when or where did one of these so-called mediums do any good in this world, when did one bring a message from the dead of any value, when did one perform a feat of benefit to mankind. Most of their work is the cheapest kind of nonsense. Their tricks would cause a 10-year-old boy to be spanked. When they are serious in character they are evil. How many happy homes have been broken up by them! What misery has been caused by them! Really, if spirits do this sort of thing, all persons would do well to let them alone.

As a matter of fact, there were "mediums," under other names, thousands of years ago, and people who wasted their lives in the useless and silly pursuit of the "occult." It never benefited them or any one else in the least, but it did do harm sometimes. People really know just as much about the "occult" now as they did 4000 years ago, and no more, granting, for the argument, that there is anything in it beyond trickery, sleight of hand and the like. So why waste time on it?

PUBLIC PRINTING.

There are skeletons the Express should keep locked up. One is the public printing. Twice the Express entered into a dishonest, crooked, selfish combine to plunder the city and county treasury in the matter of public printing.

Once it got away with the loot, $1000 good money, the taxpayers' money, for NO SERVICE. It agreed to take the $1000 as a bribe to let another paper get the contract, unopposed. A second time, and that while it was the property and plaything of E. T. Earl, it tried to play the same game. It was detected, and the stolen bone was taken from between its paws as it was about to stick its teeth in and run off with the prey.

And that was the reason why the Express had the recall worked on poor old Councilman Davenport, and "Doc" Howton was called from hunting spooks and playing with marked cards to help run the city according to the dictates of the Express. Let Earl keep on harping about the city printing if he will!

And so The Times was for Harper in the last campaign, according to the tricky Express! If we were fond of quoting from that frantic little sheet we could reproduce many taunts printed in the Express after Harper was elected, in which the Express sought, in the most unneighborly and unfraternal manner, to rub salt into the wounds of The Times and to hurt its feelings. Has the Express really forgotten all its unkind and unmannerly chucklings over the defeat of The Times' candidate for Mayor, Dr. Lindley, all its really disagreeable efforts to make The Times unhappy because of Dr. Lindley's defeat? Or is it just lying—lying to waste?

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEA.

A Dazzling Staircase.

Abdul Hamid proposes to install in his Turkish palace a complete staircase of cut glass, which, when completed, will be the most dazzling staircase ever built. The staircase will be twenty-five feet wide. Its "treads" will be beveled and cut with Turkish inscriptions, and the whole will be illuminated with colored electric lights on state occasions.

Religious Superstitions of China.

Of the late Chinese Emperor it may be said, as it has been of his subjects, that he was born a Confucian, lived a Taoist, and died a Buddhist. China, indeed, has four state-established religions, and in each the Emperor exercises sacerdotal functions. Twice a year the Emperor, as "Son of Heaven," worships before the tablet of Shang Ti or Supreme Heaven, in accordance with the ancient imperial monotheism. Twice a year he burns incense before the tablets of his ancestors, in accordance with Confucianism. Twice a year he sacrifices to the gods of Taoism, and twice a year to the image of Buddha. The ancient and primitive religion of China is monotheistic, but this direct worship was regarded as too sublime for the people, so that it became reserved for the Emperor alone, as the Son of Heaven and as priest of the nation. The people, on their part, worshiped their ancestors, and it was this ancestral religion which Confucius identified himself with and reformed. The old superstitions rejected by Confucius were absorbed by Taoism, which is polytheistic and the religion of the populace. Then Buddhism came into China about 65 A.D., and, like the other three religions, became state-supported and state-endowed.

Most Learned Woman in the World.

Mrs. Thomas L. Lewis of Dublin is a doctor of divinity, yet she is not a minister, and has never studied theology, and though she lectures frequently she has never occupied a pulpit. She is the wife of a philanthropic gentleman of wealth and leisure, and has spent her life in the study of the scriptures, history and archaeology and the oriental languages. She is probably the most learned woman in the world. Her degree was conferred by Cambridge University, while Oxford has presented her with the degree of doctor of philosophy, and several German universities have also conferred degrees upon her in recognition of her learning.

New Type of French Women.

Under the Napoleonic code, French women were not free to do as they should please, but there has been a continual process of intellectual emancipation, so that today there are about 85,000 women employed as teachers in France. An English woman, however, was the first to study medicine in Paris, and the number of Russian and Polish women now attending the French schools of medicine and pharmacy is very large. At the present time all educational posts, with the exception of the ecclesiastical, are open to women. In the hospitals, in the higher councils of labor, of hygiene and of education, they are admitted and listened to. The renunciation of Mme. Curie to the chair of physics and chemistry at the Sarbonne is a significant example. The Academie Francaise alone shuts its doors to women, while the committees of the most important literary societies welcome them gladly. Since 1907 a married woman has been able to open a savings bank account without her husband's consent, and a law passed quite recently permits her for the first time to dispose of the salary she earns.

BY COZETTE.

And pledges wealth and fortune for this day.

Make business announcements this day. The sign is good over writings and the printed word. Good results should follow journeys for pleasure, health or business.

Venus, opposed by Neptune, menaces quarrels between the sexes, especially in matters connected with money or material matters.

Mercury is in benefic aspect over dealings with artificers, ingenious workmen, school teachers, young persons beginning trades or business, commissioners, agents, salesmen, motormen, engineers and printers.

Beware of falling waters and the edges of excavations in this period.

Travel or an agreeable piece of news are indicated for women with this birthdate. The young will meet an engaging person.

Men with this birthdate will have to avoid idle quarrels and use prudence in investment. Speculation will do harm.

Keen intuition is in the indication for children born this day. Girls will probably love poetry or music. Boys may show a disposition to avoid confining or exacting work.

Our Luck.

It is lucky for the California Legislature that it has a great and good friend who is strong enough to call it down. Several other Legislatures might live not to regret it if they had an able champion.—[Chicago News.

Removal Sale of Fine Pianos

The business of "Ye Olde Musik Shoppe" has grown too extensive for its present quarters. The handsome building comprising four floors and basement, at 523 South Broadway has been leased, and the removal will be made at an early date. Pending removal we purpose holding the biggest and best Removal Sale ever known to Los Angeles. Every piano must be sold regardless of cost or profit. The time for you to buy is right now. The stock is one of the cleanest and best in the West. Besides a long line of beautiful new pianos, it includes an unusually good list of slightly used pianos taken in part payment for the celebrated new Steger Player Piano. Sale starts at once. It is a money-saver for you, and on the usual most liberal terms of payment apply to the same.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

"Othello" was given at Hamburger's Majestic Theater last night by Charles B. Hanford and his company of players. The announcement made on the programmes is that this is Shakespeare's greatest tragedy—though those of the audience who know and love "King Lear" and "Macbeth," and, above all, "Hamlet," may take issue with Mr. Hanford on the question. It all depends on the point of view—whether one cares for poetry more or for dramatic construction less. Without doubt, in construction, and in culminating tensity, "Othello" is one of the master playwright's most perfect works.

The Hanford players give a production that is eminently satisfactory in many of its parts. Mr. Hanford and most of his people belong to the oratorical school of acting—they delight in rounded periods, in rolling R's, and in sweeping gestures. They cling to tradition, and in but few cases give interpretations that are simple and "unclassical." Yet, without exception, they read their lines intelligently, thus giving a distinct pleasure, quite outside their acting, to the true lover of Shakespeare.

Mr. Hanford's Othello is nobly dignified. The actor reads his lines with fine discrimination. He works up to the final catastrophe with splendid and compelling effect. Indeed, from the moment when the venom of jealousy has begun to eat into the noble soul of the Moor, the actor brings all his best powers into play, giving us much that is most admirable.

The Iago of John M. Kline is a careful, well-studied effort, done with skill and intelligence, but somewhat lacking in subtlety. It interests us, but does not quite convince. Iago was a plausible schemer, a polished man of the world, to be interpreted only by the most delicate methods of modern acting. His plotting was melodramatic, if you will, but his gestures never.

Miss Drotnah's Desdemona is most sympathetic in interpretation. There is genuine poignancy in the abandonment of her grief when she realizes that her husband suspects her of infidelity.

Florence Oakley is playing The Girl, in "The Girl of the Golden West," in genuinely brilliant fashion this week, and she was acclaimed last night by a St. Vincent's College audience, which filled the entire theater.

Joseph E. Luckett, representing Liebler and company, is in town ahead of "Mrs. Wiggs," having walked, traveled forty miles by stage and ferried numerous streams to make train connections here from the North.

Mr. Luckett was for a number of years lessee of the Columbia Theater, in Washington, D. C.

Willis Marks has been seriously ill during the week past with pneumonia, but his physicians stated last night that they believed their patient had passed the crisis safely.

The best thing about Ferris Hartman's company, at the Grand, is its general even balance. This is well illustrated in the current bill, "The Wizard of the Nile," Frank Daniels's old success.

"The Wizard of the Nile," though by two of the moment's foremost exponents of comedy and music, Harry B. Smith and Victor Herbert, belongs to a style that is not the day's fashion. Comic-opera modes change almost as frequently as the cut of women's clothes. The call of the hour demands treatment of present-day people in present-day places—in a thoroughly intimate manner. "The Wizard of the Nile" belongs to the school of fanciful character creations, just as "King Dodo," "The Idol's Eye," and a lot of similar pieces. In another season or two the needle of public demand will swing back again in the make-believe direction of fantasy.

"The Wizard of the Nile" has a large group of these fantastic roles, none of which could be called great, so put together are they that any one badly done would spoil the effect of the whole. The Hartman principals are all efficient, presenting a smooth, well-rounded and interesting performance.

Hartman himself plays Kibosh, the tyrannical Persian magician, wearer of ideal comic-opera clothes and cracker of typically Dandelian jokery. Anna Wheeler is seen as Cleopatra, the beautiful young princess; Muggins Davies is daintily placed as the roguish apprentice to the wizard, the boy Abydos; Jessie Hart plays Simoona, the magician's second wife; Joseph Fogarty is nonchalantly humorous as Cheops, the royal weather prophet; Charles Ebert is delightful as Ptarmigan, the court's smart music-teacher to the Princess and Robert Lett is the querulous old King, Ptolemy.

The chorus is charmingly arrayed—though not for cold weather.

There are three sketches upon the Los Angeles theater programme this week each good in its way. One of these was played for the first time yesterday afternoon, and served to introduce to local audiences Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fredericks, the latter better known as Katharine Kirkwood. The sketch presents Miss Kirkwood in the guise of a young woman who is visiting and dreading a visit from a certain cowboy. The cowboy in real-life is a college graduate and ranch owner, but so that she may not be disappointed, her brother dons the typical make-up of the western deperado and makes things lively in the diverting stage cowboy fashion. The piece is not long and decidedly too noisy, but it can be made into an amusing bit of comedy.

Miss Sherman, Mable De Forrest and Harry present a novelty in "A Jay Bird." The company numbers five and a dozen or more supernumeraries are employed, making it rather a pretentious act for popular-priced vaudeville. The fun is contributed by two men played by Mr. Sherman and Mr. Belmont.

"The Rural Substitute," played by Joseph R. Ketler, Charles Gorham and Miss Bessie Morton, is pleasing. The players are country folk; the sketch has a story, and the piece is well played.

The numbers on the bill are contributed by the Pelots, comedy juggling; Joe Hardman, monologist; Bell and Brown, dancers, and Sam Ashworth, picture balladist. Motion pictures complete the programme.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be seen at the Mason next week. Especially, Mrs. Madge Carr Cooke, coming from a triumphal presentation of the piece in England, is at present playing in New York after several years of continuous work with the piece.

"Cinderella," still dreaming the dream of beauty and favor, still served by her pumpkin coach and rodent four, attended by her host of servitors, still good, continues to reign at the Belasco.

Stuart Crawford has in preparation for next week another elaborate of his extravaganzas, "Little Red Riding Hood," which, it is to be expected, will be in the same order and merit as "Cinderella."

Milton Boyle has written a sequel in succession to "The Squaw Man," in which the son of the English lord and the squaw is seen commencing manhood. His selection of a

There are three sketches upon the Los Angeles theater programme this week, each good in its way. One of these was played for the first time yesterday afternoon, and served to recommend to local audiences Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fredericks, the latter better known as Katharine Kirkwood. The bill presents Miss Kirkwood in the role of a young woman who is waiting and dreading a visit from a cowboy. "The Waggers of the Cabbage Patch" comes at the Mason next week, with Mrs. Madge Carr Cooke, fresh from a triumphal presentation of the piece in England, is at present playing in New York after several months' continuous work with the piece.

"Jerry," still dreaming the dreams and favor, still served by the same coach and rodent four, followed by her host of servitors, still continues to reign at the Burbank.

Lottie Crawford has in preparation for next week another elaborate Burbank program, "Little Red Riding Hood." It is to be expected, will be in the same order and merit as the others.

Lemuel Ayres has written a comedy in which the son of the English nobleman is seen comfortably installed. His selection of a title falls naturally toward "The Half-breed." Oliver Morosco, protecting his own play of the same name, has protested this title, and the merits of the case are now being considered by New York attorneys.

"Faust" is to be produced at the Burbank within a week or two, with Mr. Beasley as Mephisto, Mr. Desmond as Faust, and Miss Hall as Marguerite.

"Faust" has not been seen here in dramatic form since the days of Lewis Morrison, and should prove an attractive bill, novel by its long retirement.

The Ellis Club gave a well-attended concert at Simpson Auditorium last night, under the direction of J. B. Poulin. A programme of strength and considerable novelty was presented.

Miss Alice Colman of San Francisco will present an evening of music and Greek dances at the Gamut Club on Thursday, February 4.

"The Brokers' Troubles" affords the various Unique principals plenty of opportunity for the demonstration of their talents this week.

Lillian Sutherland, as the "Idolized Ida," soubrette of fascination, sings and dances in her usual brisk fashion and provides the plots, complication and the love object of both entangled business men. George Rehn plays Broker Jones, while Richard Kipling is Broker Smith. Will Armstrong, Rosa Rehn, Jack Curtis, Frank Morton and Miss Rutledge complete the cast.

A melodramatic musical comedy with a real plot and plenty of good musical numbers, livens up things at Fischer's this week. It is called "The Heiress," and is one of the best things Director Charles Alphin has produced in his regime. Tracy McDermott, Ben Dillon, Dot Raymond and Nellie Montgomery have the song hits of the piece. Max Bloom, Pearl Jardieniere and Frank Vack complete the cast.

Manager Pieper of the Walker Theater presents an interesting bill this week. The chief feature is Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Young's "In Early Days." Mr. Young is a successful blender of humor and pathos, and does some very listenable playing upon his violin.

Other numbers are Fouches and Jenkins, in comedy and trick bicycle riding; Amelia Mazette, in songs and dances; Ida Wharton, in a new repertoire of ballads; Robert Baker, in minstrelsy and monologue; Mildred Manning, soubrette, in a very clever baseball specialty, and new motion pictures.

Deimel Linen Mesh Underwear

Because you have worn woolen or cotton undergarments all your life is no argument that they are good.

Maybe you have been subject to colds, catarrh and rheumatism all your life—are they good?

The Deimel linen-mesh underwear may seem like a big change for you; but it is a change for the better and cannot be made too soon, no matter what the weather may be.

Booklet telling all about it, with samples of linen mesh, free on request.

Skirts Made Free

The only conditions are that you purchase the materials of us, selecting goods costing $1 or more a yard, and pay for the necessary findings; we will then make a 5, 6, 7 or 8-gore or circular skirt for you absolutely free of further cost. If you prefer a pleated or trimmed skirt, with bands, straps, etc., the additional cost is very slight.

Street Hats $5

Worth Up to $20 . . . .

Five dollars for any street hat originally priced $20 or less, an offering that will make it possible for many women to own hats which they have coveted, but considered beyond their reach.

Silk Petticoats $5

Guaranteed for 3 months . .

Should this petticoat, bearing trade-mark "S. H. & M.," crack or split, within three months from date of purchase, return it with guarantee to your dealer. He will replace it with a new one, provided the damage has not been caused by tearing, alterations, or by wear on bottom of ruffle.

THE S., H. & M. CO.

To live up to a guarantee like that, the makers must not only use the very best quality of taffeta, but must see that every skirt is liberally full in cut. And when five dollars will buy petticoats that will stand a guarantee of that sort, is it any wonder that we have developed a market which warrants us in ordering two thousand at a time?

Mercerized Foulards 25c

These clever wash goods imitations of silk foulards are amazingly pretty, and will wear as well as, or better, than their silk cousins. And they are shown in typical foulard patterns, too:

Of course they are new this season, and so far as we know we are the first house to show them—black, brown, navy and cadet blue backgrounds, with white figures, large or small, dots in various sizes, and Grecian key borders to match. Every piece will wash splendidly, and will make up into a very pretty house or street dress or waist. Thirty inches wide..... 25c

Tailored Waists $1.50

The tailored waist is smartest this season; no doubt about that. And the choicest of all the various styles are here, at moderate prices.

For example, at $1.50, $1.75, $2 and $2.50 we show fancy madras, poplin, striped madras, and at $2.50, pure linen waists in plain styles, with Gibson pleats over the shoulder; patch pocket, broad or narrow tucks, etc., all with stiff cuffs and linen collars.

Other waists in tailored styles, up to $5.50.

$2.50 Leather Bags $2.50

No, that is not a mis-print; the bags are the fullest values at the price that we have had in stock for a long, long time, and we know you will agree as to this if you see them.

The large, flat styles now so good, in black, brown, tan, blue and green leathers—seal grain, morocco and walrus grain; single or double strap handle, attached to the body of the bag, not to the frame; every one leather lined and containing a coin purse; choice at $2.50.

Undermuslins in Extra Sizes

This sale of undermuslins for women who wear extra sizes is proving a splendid success. So many people would much prefer to buy their underclothes ready to wear, if they could only secure good qualities and sizes to fit. Here they are:

GOWNS—High, V, square or low neck styles, of soft cambric, nainsook and longcloth; $2, $2.25, $2.50, $3 and $3.50 gowns are now $1.35, $1.50, $1.70, $2 and $2.35 each.
LONG SKIRTS—With fine hemstitched or lace and embroidery ruffles; $2.25, $2.50, $3.75, $3.50, $3.25, $4, $4.25 and $6.75 garments now $1.50, $1.70, $2.50, $2.35, $2.20, $2.70, $2.85 and $4.50 each.
CORSET COVERS—42, 44, 46 and 48 bust; 70c, 75c, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 garments now 45c, 50c, $1, $1.20 and $1.35.
DRAWERS—75c, 65c, $2, $2.25 and $3.75 garments now 60c, 45c, $1.35, $1.50 and $2.50.
SHORT SKIRTS—85c garments, 60c; $1.50 garments, $1; $1.75 garments, $1.20.
DE BEVOISE BRASSIERES, or boned corset covers for stout women, also reduced.

Rug and Carpet Savings

You've one or more rooms that would look surprisingly better for the addition of a new rug, fresh draperies or a carpet. Buyable at substantial savings, now:

Wilton velvet rugs, room size (9x12,) royal Axminster rugs, 9x10 and 9x12, and 9x12 Smith Axminster rugs, in patterns of various good sorts; values to $23.50, for.....$16.50
White and Arabian cable net lace curtains, 40 to 50 inches wide, 2½ and 3 yards long; regularly $2.75 and $3, and worth it, too; now.....$1.50 pr.
All-wool ingrain carpet, regularly $1, made, laid and lined.....70c
Portieres and couch covers in every popular color; newest designs; $6 values for $4; $9 values for $6 and $12 values for.....$8.00

Silks of Elegance

New spring foulards, in exclusive patterns, 85c, $1.00 and $1.25; also navy blue with dots and black with dots, 85c and $1.25.

19-inch colored lining taffetas; all colors and white; our regular 85c grade for 75c a yard.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, black silks under usual prices.

party, in compliment to Miss Marion Macneil, who will sail soon for Europe, where, with her grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Slauson, and her uncle, James Slauson, she will spend three months. The young guests danced by the light of old-fashioned wax candles, which twinkled among quantities of cut flowers and greenery. Orchids and ferns were combined in an artistic profusion in the living-room; the hall glowed with long-stemmed American Beauty roses, and in the dining-room bouquets of daffodils added a dainty touch of color.

To Entertain.

Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys and daughter, Miss Kate, have issued 300 invitations for a musicale to be given at their home at No. 1445 West Sixth street on the afternoon of February 10. An interesting programme will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Lott.

Afternoon Wedding.

Miss Kathryn Lea Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Evans of West Twenty-eighth street, was quietly married yesterday afternoon to Llewellyn A. Nares, a prominent member of the California Club. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Horace Day in the First Congregational Church. Immediately after it, Mr. and Mrs. Nares left for a six weeks' outing in Honolulu. Upon their return they will receive their friends in Fresno, where they will make their home.

Wedding Announcement.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss M. E. Goode, niece of Prof. James C. Moore, to W. H. Stevens, nephew of Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Bryant. The ceremony was recently performed in this city, and owing to a serious illness in the bride's family, was marked by extreme simplicity.

Extended Tour.

Miss Hattie Strong of No. 838 South Alvarado street left yesterday morning for New York, where she will sail on February 4 with friends for a tour of Egypt, the Holy Land, France, Germany, England, Scotland and Ireland.

For S. M. Club.

Miss Ethel Graham will entertain at her home at No. 1331 Ingraham street on the afternoon of February 6, in honor of members of the S. M. Club. On February 12, the club members will give a dance at Hotel Pepper.

Collegiate School Dance.

Invitations have been issued by members of the senior class of the Girls' Collegiate School for their annual dancing party, to be given at Kramer's on the evening of February 5, in honor of the juniors.

Coming Theater Party.

Keim-McClellan Nuptials.

Miss Della Keim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keim and a niece of Dr. W. W. Beckett, was married last evening at the Hamilton Methodist Episcopal Church, to William D. McClellan of Lordsburg. The service was performed by Rev. W. C. Chew, a relative of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Johnson. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of cream messaline over taffeta, and carried a shower of white sweet peas. Miss Zella Keim, a sister, was maid of honor, and wore cream silk poplin. The maids, Miss Mabel Hardenbrook, Miss Bertha Cole, Miss Daisy Reighard and Miss Bertha Nicherson, were attired alike in pale pink mull and carried arm bouquets of enchantress carnations. George McDonald was best man, and the ushers included James Reid, Earl Reighard, Lorin Ratliken and Hubert Mills.

Little Lorine Keim, in a frock of white, scattered pink rose petals along the path of the bridal party. The music was in charge of the bride's cousin, Miss Ada Martin. The church was beautifully decorated in green and white. After the service a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keim, at No. 1500 East Twentieth street. Mr. and Mrs. McClellan will live in Lordsburg.

ELKS TO BREAK RECORDS.

"Everything points to a record-breaking attendance and we promise you a good show and a splendid time. Don't fail to write if you want any kind of information about any old thing," stated M. H. Flint, chairman of the Elks' Executive Committee, in communications sent out yesterday to secretaries of all the lodges in the country.

Hereafter, Mr. Flint will issue a monthly bulletin for the information of antlered brethren. In the one just mailed, it is announced that California lodges have relinquished their hotel reservations in favor of outside ones.

"Complaints have been filed with the Grand Exalted Ruler that the California lodges have taken the larger portion of the accommodations of the centrally located hotels" reads the bulletin. "While this may be to a slight extent true, for the reason that all the California lodges desire to extend to you every possible form of entertainment and to literally kill you with kindness, still they are not unmindful of the fact that they are hosts. At each and every request of the Executive Committee, they have relinquished their accommodations for the benefit of visiting lodges.

"Many lodges have sent committees direct to Los Angeles and in each case the question of accommodations has been settled to the satisfaction of the committees and the lodges they represent. If any lodge or individual member desires hotel reservations, write promptly and the requests will have immediate attention."

Regarding street pageants, it is stated: "One of the features of the midsummer floral and allegorical festival, Friday, July 16, will be the division assigned to the 'Parade of All Nations.' This will be instructive, interesting, entertaining and gorgeous. Look out for the splendor of the Chinese display and the unique entries of the Japanese. Every nation on earth will be represented with appropriate floats."

Lodges from the cast. They will keep open house during the entire time of the Grand Lodge meeting and all visitors will be entertained with automobile rides and luncheons.

An explosion of natural gas early yesterday wrecked the plant of the Tuna Valley Pressed Brick Company at Lewisrun, Pa., and seriously injured R. C. Gordon and Philip Derry, employed in the engine room. The damage is heavy.

BEES TO HAVE BUSY SEASON.

RAIN ASSURES GREAT CROP OF WILD FLOWERS.

Half the World Supplied With Sweets from Southern California and Its Sage Honey Is Famous in East and Europe—Only Half a Crop Last Year.

Honey will be plentiful this year. That is the consensus of opinion of all the apiculturists in this section. The rain has assured abundant vegetation and the bees will have opportunity to gather all the sweets they can possibly carry.

The past year was one of disappointment to beekeepers. The sage did not flower as well as usual, and this is the source of the finest honey produced in the United States. The yield fell off to nearly one-half of the size expected. The total production of Southern California amounted to 5,112,000 pounds, both of the comb and the extracted stock.

In Los Angeles, Ventura and Orange counties the production was 2,936,000 pounds, while the remainder of the honey was manufactured by the busy bees of the San Joaquin Valley and Inyo county, principally. San Diego county, Imperial Valley and the west half of Arizona produced 825,000 pounds. The total value of all this honey to the grower is estimated at slightly more than $200,000, at the average price, 6 cents a pound, on extracted and comb alike.

Ventura county showed the greatest falling off in production. The crop, by some of the large producers, was considered almost a failure. L. E. Mercer, the largest honey producer in the world, who has 20,000 colonies of bees, stated that the output was scarcely sufficient to pay the expenses.

Rain is one of the essentials to the production. The little precipitation during February, March and April of last year caused the honey yield to fall to about one-half of that of the preceding year. In the colonies of Mr. Mercer, where one hive at times contains as much as 300 pounds of honey, the average fell to less than one hundred pounds.

The production of sage honey was particularly light. There was practically no water white obtainable, while the grade of white was small. The sage plants of the hills and the cañons were dried out and did not bloom heavily.

Redlands and Riverside apiarists came to the rescue with a fair yield of orange blossom honey, a fine quality, but prone to sugar, as does that produced from alfalfa, bean blooms and other legumes. The wild buckwheat of San Diego county also produced a good quality of honey and made the total climb considerably.

The honey of this section supplies a large part of the demand in the United States. There is not another section in the country that produces as much or as fine a quality of honey as Southern California. More than two-thirds of the production is shipped from here to the Middle West and the Eastern States.

Nor does it stop at arriving at the Atlantic seaboard. The finer grades are shipped to Europe. London, Berlin and Paris, the great metropolitan cities, all receive consignments of honey made in Los Angeles and Ventura counties. The big hotels of the continent place it on the menu, among the delicacies, and the oranges and grapefruit grown here, also.

Friday and Saturday of the coming week the State Beekeepers' Association of California will meet in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce in their nineteenth annual session. The first apiaries of the State were started about thirty years ago in the northern part of Sacramento county. It was only a few years before the fact that the wild flowers of the southern portion of the State offered far greater possibilities than the fruit blossoms of the central and northern portion was realized, and several of the beekeepers moved their hives to this section.

In recent years great attention has been paid by apiculturists to breeding bees. The finest Italian queen bees, whole hives from the same country and bees from Spain have been imported and their strain intermingled with that of the domesticated bees of this country.

The beekeepers claim that the bees this winter are in excellent physical condition and that the yield this season, on account of the rain, should be immense. All of these matters will be discussed at the convention and measures for furthering the work of the apiculturists will be planned.

Argument on the project for the building of a $10,000,000 out-harbor in Lake Michigan, north of the Chicago River, is set for February 4, before Maj. Thomas H. Reese, engineer for the War Department.

This appeals to every homeseeker as well as every investor; to every man or woman wishing to set aside a little every month or able to pay outright on an investment that will multiply in value rapidly. The first subdivision placed on the market two weeks ago was sold out in one day. So insistent have become the demands for these little investments that this second subdivision has been hurried through to satisfy the people. Complying with a general desire none of this second subdivision will be reserved before Sunday. The plat will be open for consideration and selection, but reservations will not be accepted. Every intending purchaser will have an equal chance Sunday morning.

THIS IS THE SUREST MONEY-MAKING INVESTMENT OPEN TO THE INVESTOR, SMALL OR LARGE.

Lomita is close to Bixby Slough, into which the new ship channel is now being dredged. It practically adjoins the famous shoestring strip. The electric line passes at Weston street. The new Boulevard from Redondo to Wilmington and Long Beach cuts through it, increasing its beauty and desirability. The soil is fertile and productive for all crops that grow in this climate. Outside the handsome townsite numerous farms and gardens attest the fertility of the soil, the abundance of the water and the variety of the products. As a Garden Home, Suburban Residence Place or Pure Investment, Lomita Stands Unequaled Today.

"I Have Got Others"

writes Mrs. M. E. Burleson, of New Decatur, Ala., "to try Cardui, and they all join me in praising it for sick woman. I shall use Cardui as long as I can get it to use. I was in a delicate condition and had formerly had two mishaps and came very near losing this child. My doctor told me he didn't think Cardui could help me; that I had waited too long. But I stopped taking doctors' medicines and sent for a bottle of Cardui, and in less than a week was up and able to do my housework. Five months later, after taking 5 bottles of Cardui, and with only 1½ hour of pain, I was the happy mother of a fine, healthy, baby boy, of 11 pounds."

Cardui has been found to strengthen and tone up the womanly organs, regulate the functions and restore weak women to health.

It is a pure, vegetable medicine, with genuine curative powers, and acts so gently as to be without any kind of bad after-effects on young or old.

WIFE KEEPS TAB ON HUSBAND AND RIVAL.

A MIDNIGHT auto ride, a series of stormy scenes in the household and an exhibition of hypnotism on the part of the plaintiff that would put Svengali in a trance, were some of the high spots shown an interested audience in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, in the hearing of the divorce proceedings brought by Annie Louise Thorpe against her husband, Dr. Arthur C. Thorpe, a well-known physician of Los Angeles.

The Thorpes were married in Minneapolis, Minn., October 6, 1897, and have two children, a boy, aged 10 years, and a girl, aged 7. During their married life they have lived in Minneapolis and Los Angeles, the separation occurring in November, 1904.

The hypnotic proposition was brought out in the testimony of Mrs. Thorpe, who said that the doctor had, on a number of his patients by the hypnotic suggestion, and added that he had tried to exert his peculiar power over her, admitting that she had been partially influenced by his efforts. Miss Amy Twogood capped the climax along the hypnotic line when she took the stand. She was asked to know anything of Dr. Thorpe's work as a hypnotist.

"Oh, yes, I was in a company one night when I saw him give a potato to a boy and he made him believe it was a banana; at another time he had the same boy a potato and made him believe it was an onion. So strong was the influence that tears came to the eyes of the boy, just the same as if he had been an onion. Oh, he's a hypnotist, all right," said the witness, emphatically.

Mrs. Thorpe, the plaintiff, was on the stand most of the day, and her attorney most of her husband's shortcomings were severe. After a short cross-examination, Amy Twogood and Clarence M. Thorpe of San Francisco, a brother of the plaintiff, were examined and the court took a recess until this morning, by reason of the absence of several witnesses summoned by the plaintiff.

Denial of Mrs. Thorpe charged misconduct with Lafferty, Sarah Caldwell and detailing an auto ride her husband with Miss Lafferty, while wore the hat and cape of the the pair not returning to the until after midnight. A lively followed, but the doctor assured his there was nothing wrong, and that his wife was nervous.

Lafferty was a servant in the home, and was afterward dismissed. Mrs. Thorpe said the Lafferty claimed to be a niece of J. Ross but she afterward discovered her mother had only been the in the Clark home.

Caldwell, a nurse, had been to the house by the doctor to his wife in a confinement case, she, too, was discovered to be lost in her actions with the doc-according to Mrs. Thorpe's testi-

SETTLEMENT HELD UP.

Wentworth Hotel Company and Creditors Await Result of Suit to Cancel Bond Issue.

The proposed settlement of the affairs of the Wentworth Hotel Company has fallen through. The creditors and the assignee, H. S. McKee, are now awaiting the result of the suit to have the $350,000 bond issue canceled. As both sides have considerable time in which to file briefs, it is believed that it will be several months before Judge Monroe of the Superior Court hands down a decision.

On behalf of the creditors, Attorneys Lawler, Allen, Van Dyke and Jutten and Jeff Chandler claim that there was no consideration for the bonds, which were given as a bonus to the purchasers of stock. After a decision has been rendered on this question, it is possible that the creditors and stockholders may agree on some compromise. Both sides realize that the only way to secure dividends from the bankrupt concern is to sell the hotel or open it for guests next winter.

WOMAN SAVES ANOTHER.

Transfer Company's Horse Runs Away on Second Street, Imperiling Pedestrians.

A horse, hitched to a wagon of the American Transfer Company, ran away on the West Second-street hill yesterday afternoon and collided with a carriage at Second and South Spring streets.

At Spring street an elderly woman was saved from death by the presence of mind of another woman, who dragged her to safety.

The police say that the same horse has bolted several times, causing danger to pedestrians, and an effort will be made to have the animal disposed of.

CENTRAL STORE SELLING OUT.

Pending the sale of its lease, the Central Department Store will dispose of its present stock at a special sale, which will open tomorrow morning. Attorneys W. T. Craig and Max Lowenthal have been negotiating with several concerns for the sale of the building and ground lease, valued at approximately $225,000. It is believed that a local concern has made the best bid for the store, and that the sale will be consummated within a few days. By virtue of an option secured from the Central Broadway Building Company, the trustees, represented by Attorneys Craig and Lowenthal, have control of the building and two leases. The store carries a stock valued at between $200,000 and $300,000, consisting of almost everything from pins to sewing machines.

LOST, HARMONY; REWARD FINDER.

HUMANE ANIMAL LEAGUE WANTS NEW POUNDKEEPER.

Directors Demand Resignation of Lawson, Who Will Fight—President and Vice-President, in Perfectly Lovely Gowns, Use Some Sizzling Words Recklessly.

The Humane Animal League, organized for the purpose of instructing Tommy Vacher in the humane treatment of dogs, should put an extra plank in its platform and insist upon humane treatment for human beings, especially of its own board members, otherwise the police may mistake its conference some day for a riot and turn in a general alarm.

Yesterday afternoon the directors in executive session voted to ask George L. Lawson to resign from his positions of poundkeeper and assistant secretary "in the interest of harmony." The meeting went forward without undue excitement, but the preliminary hostilities between the president, Miss Mathewson, and the vice-president, Mrs. Rufus L. Horton, were not harmonious.

The two officers came in full war paint. The president was a dream in violet, even the veil which shaded her rosy countenance had an etherial violet tinge. The vice-president swept in garbed in a long Directoire suit with a stunning hat, whose drooping feathers fairly trembled witht the rage and indignation which possessed its owner.

"What do you mean, Miss Mathewson?" she began, as she hurled her words at the violet vision. "What do you mean by employing murderers in the name of humanity? The Vachers are sending murderers about in the wagon that bears in letters of gold 'Humane Animal League.' I saw them Saturday take a poor dog and choke him, choke him, I say, with a halter, when he was struggling for breath, and ram him into a sack and tie him into another sack beside a poor sick dog" And the lady's voice reached a tone of emotion that threatened to choke her.

"He had rabies! He had rabies!" declared Miss Mathewson as soon as she could edge in a word.

"He did not," asserted Mrs. Horton; "he had distemper; I held him on my lap and petted him the day before; he was not dangerous, I say."

"And I say that he had rabies," again answered the president.

"He did not, madam. Do you believe my word or the word of the man who catches the dogs?" exclaimed Mrs. Horton.

"Well, the Board of Health passed upon him, and said he had rabies," again declared the president, "and the law says those dangerous dogs may be handled in sacks."

"You put those Vachers in again without a word to me," accused Mrs. Horton. "I was not consulted in the society that I got up for the protection of animals, now those Vachers go out, do you hear."

"You can have your own way, madam," declared Miss Mathewson. "This afternoon Mrs. Weldon and I will surrender our bonds, and the dog pound will be thrown back into the hands of the city."

But Miss Mathewson did not surrender her bond, neither did Mrs. Weldon, and it appeared afterward that they never really intended to do it, and Mrs. Horton did not resign, and it appeared afterward that she never really intended to, and the frightful storm blew over, and the reporter who witnessed the conflict almost had a brain storm trying to decide what they really meant by it.

The board members present at the subsequent meeting then took up the business of "resoluting" the poundkeeper out of his position. There was not a dissenting voice, though one member refused to cast a vote. The members present were: Perry Weldner, Mrs. W. A. Weldon, Frank M. Coulter, Dr. W. A. Lamb, J. G. Rossiter, Mrs. J. C. Whittimore, Mrs. Edgar Van Eten, Mrs. Lulu Pyle Little, Fred Herr, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Horton, Mrs. L. Luthie, Mrs. Harriet Williams Myers, Mrs. George Drake Ruddy, Miss Mathewson, and H. Jevne.

In a conference after the meeting Dr. Lamb said that he advocated the creation by the City Council of a dog and cat commission, which would manage all the affairs of these animals in an official manner.

"There is the money from the licenses and fees to keep up such a commission and it would avoid all this confusion," said Dr. Lamb. He also explained the growing interest in cats on the Pacific Coast, as an effective means of fighting the bubonic plague by exterminating the rats.

Lawson said last evening that he proposes to fight, keep his position as poundkeeper, and continue to collect the fees.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisment of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.

President Jastro Discusses Live Issues of Stockmen.

"I am sorry that Mr. Springer is unable to be here, but it could not be but a pleasure for any cow puncher to respond to these cordial welcomes, especially after we have heard the angels open the gates and the very heavens opened to give us a bath.

"I hope we know how to accept hospitality, and we do accept it in everything the word implies. If there is anything you do not want us to take you had better put it out of sight, for we are going to take everything we can get our hands on.

"To the delegates I wish to say that our aim must be concentration, organization and coöperation. We have all the smaller organizations with a few exceptions now affiliated with us, and we must secure the remainer.

"Your voice is now being heard in the councils of the nation and is being heard in foreign lands. I am glad to see so many here to support your officers, and I ask you all to join hands and make this one of the greatest organizations in the world. I am sure I voice your sentiments that we have no words in which to express our appreciation of the welcome we have received, but we accept the welcome."

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Following the response of Mr. Crowley, President Jastro extended his greetings to the delegates, and after referring to the evolution of California from a grazing country to a State of diversified industries, said, in part:

"Years of experience, much of it full of misfortune, have impressed upon stockmen the growing evils of uncontrolled and overstocked ranges. When the question of Federal control of the open range was first considered by this association eight or ten years ago, there was a marked difference of opinion among the users of the range, but in the past few years there appears to be a steadily increasing majority who favor government control by a lease or otherwise. At our last annual meeting, the almost unanimous sentiment of our members was crystallized in a proposed bill which we desired passed by Congress. By the provision of that bill the Federal government is authorized to establish grazing districts in the semi-arid sections of the West, and to appoint officers necessary for the administration and protection of such grazing districts; to issue permits to graze live stock thereon for periods of not more than ten years; with the right to fence, giving preference to homesteaders and to present occupants of the range. Under this bill the government of the United States exercises the least possible control commensurate with the ownership of the land; in fact, it is a distinctly home rule measure.

"A committee was sent to Washington to work in the interest of this measure, but as it was seen that nothing could be done at the last session, action was deferred.

Mr. Jastro praised the forest reserve policy of the government, and said the recent meeting at Washington, which discussed the conservation of natural reserves, was highly important.

The failure of Congress to act on the Culberson-Smith Car and Transportation bill, designed to prevent unreasonable delays in furnishing cars for live stock and other perishable stock, and to compel reasonable and adequate service, is deplored.

"When this association secured the extension of the twenty-eight hour law to thirty-six hours," said Mr. Jastro, "it was confidently expected that the extra time would prevent many unnecessary unloadings, and enable us to get our live stock to destination in much better condition and with much less hardship and suffering to the stock. Contrary to their promises, the railroads have simply consumed the additional time between their usual stopping places by handling the stock at a lesser rate of speed, so that almost as many unloadings are necessary today as under the old law.

"The railroads are now contesting in the courts the Nebraska speed minimum law, and upon the request of the Nebraska Stock Growers' Association this association is assisting in the defense of that law. Unquestionably it lies within the power of the States to prescribe a speed minimum, as well as to fix rates. We pay the railroads for good service, and they should be compelled to furnish it.

"Our bill prohibiting advances in rates except after approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to inquire into the reasonableness of the advances before they take effect, and to suspend same if deemed unreasonable.

"Our bill prohibiting advances in freight rates, except after approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has, through our efforts, received the indorsement of many organizations throughout the country, and we believe that it has a fair chance for passage. This association should reaffirm its former action on this exceedingly important subject.

"We have favored such change in the tariff laws of the United States to make the reciprocal trade agreements with other nations so as to secure the admission of our live stock and meat food products to continental Europe, where they are now practically barred out by reason of prohibitory duties. A reduction of the duty on hides is also favored.

"Every once in a while we hear a general clamor from the consumers about the high price and scarcity of meat. As a matter of fact, meat is not high in this country, and there is no scarcity. The great trouble is that too many Americans want only the choicest cuts, and as a meat animal has only a small percentage of these portions, necessarily they sell at a considerable premium."

The work of the Department of Agriculture in stamping out disease among live stock was commended by President Jastro, who, in conclusion, paid a tribute to the other officers of the association.

CONSERVATION REPORT.

Owing to the inability of many of the delegates to reach the city yesterday because of delayed trains, roll call, the appointment of committees and the reports of standing committees were continued until today. Dwight B. Heard, president of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association, however, reported for the special conservation committee appointed by President Jastro at the request of the National Conservation Committee to coöperate with the latter body in considering the best means of preserving for the beneficial use of future generations the great natural resources of the country. The report of the committee, which includes, besides Chairman Heard, David Fratt of Billings, Mont., C. B. Rhodes of Denver, F. M. Stewart of Buffalo Gap, S. D., and J. C. Underwood, secretary of the Laramie County Cattle and Horse Growers' Association, follows:

"In making this, our first annual report, your committee on conservation realizes that in the protection and improvement of the forests, streams and grazing lands of the arid West lies the perpetuation and successful future of the stock raising and agricultural industries of that section, and believe that, should the conservation of these great natural resources be further neglected, the results would be disastrous.

"In the recent preliminary report of the National Conservation Committee presented to the joint conservation conference in Washington last December, the unsatisfactory conditions now existing on the public ranges through overgrazing were referred to and a remedy suggested through a systematic and business-like management of these public grazing lands by their owners, the government of the United States, the direct representative of the pedple to whom these grazing lands belong as a great national heritage.

"We believe that the position taken by the conservation commission on this subject is justified, and that it is generally recognized by the occupants of the public lands that the present conditions of these stock grazing and agricultural lands are exceedingly unsatisfactory; that the carrying capacity of the open range is steadily decreasing, that dissatisfaction and friction among the occupants of the range is general and that the continuance of the stock raising industry and the successful and steady development of the irrigation valleys of the West are seriously threatened unless prompt steps for improvement are taken.

"We believe that a large majority of stockmen and settlers throughout the arid West, especially those who are endeavoring to create permanent homes and to improve their lands and herds, are strongly in favor of some form of Federal range control, expressed through a reasonable leasing law.

"Equally important with the protection of the grazing lands is the protection and preservation of the great national forests, with which the West is so favored, and which, when properly protected, serve as natural regulators for the streams feeding the irrigation systems in the lower valleys. These national forests, under the efficient and capable management of the forestry service, are today one of our greatest national assets, and we look forward to the day when the public grazing lands may be placed under similar administration.

"In this matter of the conservation of these great natural resources of the West, water, grass and forests, we believe this association should take a far-sighted and patriotic view, looking, not only to the selfish advantage to be gained through the immediate use of these resources, but, from a broader viewpoint, looking forward to the perpetuation of these vast natural resources for the beneficial use of this and future generations of home builders.

"Through a policy of prompt and definite action in conserving these resources, the agricultural and stock-raising industries of the arid West may be put upon a permanent and profitable basis capable of supporting a population greatly in excess of that now located within this section, while, through a vacilating or "let us alone" policy, the early termination of the live stock industry as a prosperous business is almost certain and the development of the agricultural valleys served by irrigation will be greatly retarded.

"We do not think it necessary to present to a convention of practical stockmen the many instances of misuse now existing on the public grazing lands, as the details of this vital question have been repeatedly discussed, but we believe that this association can best serve the welfare of the live stock and agricultural interests of the arid West by using its united strength in an earnest effort toward the passage of the Curtis-Scott bill, now before Congress, relating to the control of these public grazing lands.

"This bill provides for the establishment of grazing districts from time to time throughout the West under the jurisdiction of the Department of Agriculture; for the issuance of permits to graze live stock thereon for periods of not more than ten years; gives the definite right to fence either in individual or community pastures, and in the granting of leases, provides for a preference at all times in favor of actual homesteaders, recognizes the priority of the present occupants of the range, and provides for a maximum grazing fee of 4 cents per acre and a minimum of one-half a cent per acre, or at the option of the local stockmen in the particular district a charge per head of stock, this fee to be fixed according to the value of the land for grazing purposes.

"A strong feature of the Curtis-Scott bill is the very large amount of local control provided through the medium of stockmen's committees to be appointed by the owners of the various classes of stock in the different grazing districts. The bill absolutely preserves all rights of homesteaders under the public land laws of the United States, protects the development of mining industry, and finally provides that all net moneys received from each grazing district shall be paid into the Treasurer of the State or Territory where the land is situated for the benefit of the schools and public roads in the particular district from which the revenue is derived.

"While the proposed leasing measure is perhaps not perfect, it is, we believe, reasonable, just and equitable, and certainly a step in the right direction, and, in our judgment, an earnest and organized effort should be made to educate public opinion as to its merits. Should this bill pass Congress, as we trust it will, we feel that this association should use its best efforts to arrange that the first grazing districts in each State or Territory created under the provisions of this measure be those which offer the greatest opportunity for the successful demonstration of the practicability of this new policy.

"A most important feature, in our judgment, in any movement to conserve the natural resources of the West should be the complete and earnest coöperation of the various State governments with the Federal government, as it is only with such coöperation that thoroughly successful results can be obtained and the best development of the western country secured."

"OUR FOREIGN MARKETS."

The last address of the morning session was by Hon. W. A. Harris of Lawrence, Kan., former United States Senator, and now a prominent cattle man. His subject was "Our Foreign Markets," upon which he is well versed because of his long service in Congress.

"As my subject indicates, I shall allude to governmental policies," said Mr. Harris, "not from a political standpoint, but historically. There is no limit in this country to the production of manufactured articles; no limit to the raising of agricultural products. The great question is how to export this great potential energy of ours; to find an outlet for the millions of things we raise and can raise.

"But in the first place it must be remembered that the foundation of all our manufacturing and agriculture is the raising of live stock. The National Conservation Commission has talked of conserving everything but the fertility of the soil, and that is being taken care of by the cattle raisers. Grass is, after all, the greatest thing for without it for one summer this world would experience an exterminating famine.

"Conservation is good, and if everything is conserved in this country, we stand ready to supply the entire world with its goods. But there are different ways of conserving. For every steer or 100 pounds of meat we send to foreign shores, we are better off than we were before. Every ton of steel, cotton, wool or other raw product we export is continued impoverishment.

"In public life I was always opposed to exporting any unfinished product. I believe in letting our own people do the finishing touches, instead of sending abroad the raw product. And this brings me to the subject of tariffs, which fits in here.

"We have had a succession of high tariffs for fifty years. We have had protection in every direction. It has stimulated business, but our tariffs have now reached the ultimate. All parties are now agreed there must be tariff revision. The Democrats have always so argued. The Republicans have now come to it. Taft was elected on a tariff platform, and he insists he will hold Congress to its pledges.

"But here comes a rub. Every fellow is exceedingly anxious that the other fellow give up the advantages he has held, but I think it will come. We cattle men are willing to make concessions, but we want a square deal.

This association has started a movement which has been very educational; that is, a maximum and minimum tariff. This would take the tariff out of politics and give the President power to reduce tariff at his will where he could secure reciprocity. And it is certain no nation will trade with us unless we trade with them.

"The Dingley bill was an approach to this, but somewhere after it had passed the House and went to the Senate, a one-line joker appeared in some mysterious manner, no one ever learned how. It was to the effect that the new tariff must be arranged within two years. The bill never got to the Senate for ratification.

"Another instance of a joker came in the Cuban sugar tariff bill. That bill shut German beet sugar out of this country. Germany became angered. For five years she kept experts at work revising her tariffs. Then she made her announcement. She adopted the maximum and minimum. The first is forceful and shuts out our cattle products as effectively as if we had war with them. Since that time Secretary Root has been in almost constant communication with Germany. We have sent a commission over, but we remain effectually shut out.

"The exportation of live cattle to Germany is absolutely prohibited. Fresh meats are as effectually barred because of sanitary prohibitions. Cured pork and beef must go through such inspections both here and in Germany that they are practically prohibited. Our canned meats and sausages are in the same class, yet Germany can send her sausages to our markets at profit. None of our hams or shoulders weighing more than nine pounds are admitted. The maximum tariff cuts off our fresh and salted pork and beef. Canada can send its meat to Germany for half the tariff imposed against us.

"We must give up the idea of holding onto advantages we have secured through the years we have had high tariffs. Our great masses, and they are the producers as well as the consumers, have no ax to grind and they should not suffer. I am proud that Taft stands for revision. A pledge made before an election must be kept after election.

"Think of this. There are 300,000,000 persons in Europe. The Englishman consumes on the average 120 pounds of meat in a year, the German 35 pounds, the Frenchman 33 pounds. In the United States the average is 100 pounds because of the great amount of waste. There are many parts of a carcass we cannot use, do not use. Hence 40 per cent. of the carcass must be sent to Europe or our industry will be smothered. We cannot produce all ribs and loins. We must export that which we cannot utilize.

"And to this end, that of exporting what we cannot use in this country, the producer and manufacturer must work together. No class can stand aside and make good. There must be coöperation and good faith. If Roosevelt has done anything—and he has—it is his endeavors to secure this coöperation and good faith. We cattlemen must join with others. Others must stand with us.

"Hide men want free hides. Wool men want free wool. They have come to me and I have told them to determine how much tariff concession they will agree to for the general good of all before they can make any demand of us.

"What we want is the world to know that we can supply them with everything which ingenuity and soil can produce."

"The Future of the Cow-man"—J. C. Underwood of Wyoming, secretary Laramie county Cattle and Horse Growers' Association.

General discussion of administration of forest reserves, and proposed government control of the open range.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

PINCHOT UNABLE TO COME.

At the opening of the afternoon session much regret was caused by the receiving of a telegram by President Jastro from United States Forester Gifford Pinchot from Albuquerque, N. M., in which he announces he will be unable to attend the convention and address it today. The telegram follows:

"It is a matter of most sincere regret that I cannot be with you. Please express my heartiest good wishes for the success of your meeting. The American Live Stock Association stands for the same objects of public welfare as the forest service. This is the first meeting I have missed for several years, and if I did not absolutely have to be in Washington on Friday you may be sure I would not miss this one.

[Signed] "GIFFORD PINCHOT."

The introduction and reference of resolutions was postponed until today, after which Hon. Joseph M. Carey of Cheyenne, Wyo., former United States Senator, spoke on the subject, "Land Laws—Their Administration and Effect." Mr. Carey first related the history of our existing land laws and then continued:

"Our lands should be devoted to uses to which they are best adapted whether it be timber, grains or grazing. Hence every man who loves his country and wants it to be everlasting and make it continue the greatest nation on earth should continue to work to get the very best out of these lands.

"Have the best results been obtained? I believe they have. There have been frauds, especially in the West, but it is because of the weakness of some laws. It is because people in the West sometimes will not wait like easterners for the law, but they do things and make Western States compete with the Eastern States.

"Things derived from the earth make up three-fifths of the exports of this country. Mining products are but a fraction of the amount of agricultural products. The cows on the farms of the country, not including those on the ranges, produce $800,000,000 in butter and milk alone. We have just commenced doing things in this country. Only two-fifths of the lands have been divided into farms. Only one-fifth of the land is cultivated. Our only two great agricultural crops—corn and wheat—are produced on an acreage smaller than California. Our potatoes are produced on 3,000,000 acres.

"Talk about the future! No man can comprehend the immensity of our industries 100 years from today. But some say that our lands are not being administered properly and for the best of the people. They say that there has been fraud, that cattlemen are thieves. But they do not realize that cattlemen have waited forty years for legislation because the East did not understand.

"There is no such a thing now as a free range. All ranges are crowded. Stock men can no longer set aside summer and winter grazing grounds. Hence this association is now working for land regulation. It will take time but the West will win, as the East will learn. Yet I doubt if one acre out of every hundred taken up has done injury to any person, people, State or government. We are trying to correct all evils. Some argue to distribute lands in ten-acre lots. Yet the government says land can be taken in 160 and 320-acre lots and the land is not taken. People in the East do not want to come out here and settle on the lands, especially those in the big cities. And there is no way to acquire these lands except by homesteading.

"The most important proposition today is the leasing problem. A bill has now been prepared. It is not a measure to restrict any man's right. It provides that lands may be used that cannot be cultivated. Cattlemen simply want a tenure to hold the land. They are willing to pay and will also agree to reasonable legislation. Unless this is allowed them thousands of acres now occupied by cattle will lie useless.

"Why? There are too many cattle on the ranges. It is asked why not thin out many cattle. Will one man withdraw when he knows another will step in to his place? We must have the lands to hold for ourselves or the cattleman must go out of business. If the cattleman knows he has tenure of certain lands he will reduce his flocks.

"As it is the country is being eaten out. Sheep do not shear as much as formerly. Cattle do not weigh as much, despite the best blood that can be infused in them. The country will not be injured if we are allowed to hold these lands. Let us all get together, and pass this Curtis bill or some bill. Let stockmen get together and agree on laws which will be as much to the interest of the homesteader as to the cattle business, the principle one of the Rocky Mountain States. Let's get together and save that industry."

ARRAIGNS HOUSE AND RAIL.

Hon. S. H. Cowan, attorney for the association, took as his subject, "What the Live Stock Industry Demands of Congress," and severely arraigned the lower House and the railroads of Texas. He said:

"What we want is to get the railroads to do our work for less money. We thought we were doing something in this line when we got the Interstate Commerce Commission. The tribunal was established to deal between the people and the railroads. But we have discovered that, though this commission can investigate, it can do nothing after it gets through.

"I remember down in Texas before we had the commission. The railroads raised our rates, but left us our passes. They raised the rates again and then took away our passes. Then they raised our rates again. About this time the stock men began to kick and asked me about the law in the case. I told the cattle men I was hired only to put a stop to cattle stealing, but nevertheless I told them I would look up the law. I did look up the laws and I found we had none against the railroads."

Just at this moment Mr. Cowan was brought to an embarrassed and frightened stop by the boom of a flashlight gun, much to the merriment of the audience, who, after their short fright, thoroughly enjoyed the discomfiture of the speaker. But he continued after a short good-natured sally with the photographer:

"When I found we had no laws, we started out to try and get some tribunal which would look after our rights. The association went forward step by step. We went to Roosevelt; we went to Congress. We aroused such public opinion that we finally got a law passed to which most of the Republican members were opposed. To public opinion must be given the credit for the existence of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"I don't want to criticise Congressmen, but I do criticise our Congress. The man you send there as your Representative has no power, no more than you have. He is allowed to look after petty offices in his district and after public buildings. The Speaker has the only real voice; he is the whole thing. Your Representative will give you a lot of tommyrot about what he is doing. He will send you speeches which he never made. He can't get up and make a speech. Only the party leaders are allowed to speak, and then at the will of the Speaker. The public doesn't know these things because your Representatives don't come home and tell them.

"There will have to be reform in the House of Representatives before this will be a government for the people. The Senate is the only place where bills are considered, where representatives are allowed to rise and express themselves.

"Returning to the Interstate Commerce Commission, every shipping association in the country today is demanding that Congress pass an act that the commission shall be allowed to pass on changes in rates before they are made.

"The trouble in this country is that the people do not know what is being done to them. You must get better Representatives or the railroads will be in control again. They have advanced rates in the West and they propose to advance them in the East. I don't believe there is a railroad man in Texas, except a few lawyers, who oppose the act I suggest, because it is a fair law and they know it.

"Another demand we make of the railroads is fair. Because we pay for service we should get that service. The law should fix it so that when a company promises cars on certain dates that they be delivered, and if certain speed be granted to stock trains, that the schedule be performed under penalty for disobedience.

"The railroads explain their increased rates because their traffic has fallen off. All right, then the poor producer in depressed times must pay more because of something the railroads did and not the farmers to bring on that condition. A remarkable condition. Have you heard anything like this from your Congressmen? The railroads have to raise rates in times of prosperity to show us we are prosperous, and raise their rates in bad times to prevent losses.

"We demand of Congress, also, tariff revision so that we can furnish the world with animal food. We want to sappy Germany and other foreign nations. We ask no favors in this regard but that all industries be treated equally and that wool and hides and other products be not favored.

"We demand the minimum tariff or a provision whereby the President can deal for reciprocity on our goods especially with Germany. All nations demand reciprocity; why should we not get it. This convention is not one of politicians but of citizens. But in Washington every man is a manufacturer or producer and he plugs for his own goods. If this is to continue I will go into the bankruptcy court for relief and so will you.

"It is not for Congress to prejudge our demands before we are given a hearing. But we are being prejudged constantly and I say that such judge as Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means Committee should be impeached, but he sits there on his throne and does nothing.

"But I believe we have a President-elect who will force him. Any man who sits there as Payne does and prejudges without hearing should be exposed from every stage and pulpit in the country. Public opinion is the only remedy. So let us join in with the farmers and other producers and make this association one which Congress will fear."

LOOSE INVESTIGATION.

The concluding feature of the session was an interesting lecture by C. D. Marsh, an expert in the Bureau of Plant Industry, on the loco investigation he has made in the West, explaining how the bureau has solved the problem of the destruction of thousands of horses and cattle by eating of the poisonous weed by strychnine treatment. The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon.

Arizona Caucus.

Last evening a caucus of Arizona cattle men met at the Van Nuys Hotel. Dwight B. Heard of Phoenix, president of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association, was elected chairman and W. A. Fiege of Dragoon, secretary. The following forest reserve men were present: W. C. Barnes, L. F. Knipp, D. D. Bronson, inspectors of grading; E. H. Clapp, assistant inspector of grading, and J. K. Campbell, district chief of grading.

Mr. Barnes made a brief address touching upon forest reserve and a contemplated lease law. H. A. Jastro, president of the American National Live Stock Association, spoke briefly on forest reserve matters, and John Norton of Phoenix, made a few remarks relative to the brand-tax law in Arizona.

At the request of George Olney the Curtiss-Scott lease law bill was read by President Heard.

A resolution drafted by John Norton, George Olney and W. W. Cook was adopted, indorsing the capable direction of the United States Forest Reserve Service by its chief, Gifford Pinchot, and heartily approving the efficient and steadily improving administration of this service in Arizona. Among the Arizona cattle men present were: J. W. Hansen, W. W. Cook, Al Kellogg, George Pusch, E. R. Hooker, D. W. Isaacson, W. A. Fiege, George Olney, Barney Stele, John Duke, M. A. Perkins, Messrs. Henry Street, Wills and Stone.

THE HANDSHAKING.

RECEPTION LAST NIGHT.

Compliments about the many advantages of Southern California, the State of Washington and the entire West were freely exchanged at the Chamber of Commerce reception last night. The guests were the delegates to the live-stock convention and the members of the Walla Walla party. The chamber was decorated and huge baskets of oranges were scattered about the rooms for the refreshment of the visitors. A women's orchestra played Spanish airs.

George E. Kellough of the Walla Walla Commercial Club spoke in warm terms of the hospitality of this city, but declared that it was unkind to blame the Washingtonians for the copious rainfall. "When we left home it was zero weather, and the hills were clad in snow," he said; "when we reached California we were met with a succession of showers that finally left us stranded at Santa Barbara.

"The first greeting that we received upon arrival in your beautiful city was, 'Well, you brought the rain all right, didn't you? This is unusual weather for this section.'" [Laughter.]

The speaker said that all the excursionists are much pleased with their surroundings, and will enjoy themselves to the utmost.

President George H. Stewart gave a brief welcome to the Walla Walla visitors, and said that inasmuch as he had officially greeted the delegates to the live-stock convention earlier in the day, he would leave the pleasant duty of welcoming them to other speakers.

H. A. Jastro, president of the American National Live Stock Association, referred to the hospitality of Los Angeles, which he said is proverbial. He said that the city owes much of her prosperity to the splendid work of her Chamber of Commerce, and he wished that there were more such organizations in the State.

"When I was last here, your finest hotel was the St. Elmo," said former Senator Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming. "What has made this city grow so remarkably? What has given it 300,000 residents, and what will make that number expand to half a million? The answer is simple—work and enthusiasm.

"You are the most enthusiastic people I have ever met. Every one is a booster. I ask you in all seriousness to restrain yourselves lest you become so great that you take in all the country." [Applause.]

Capt. T. B. Paddock of Fort Worth, Tex., declared Los Angeles to be one of the finest cities in the country, and admitted that this section—next to Texas—was the best in the land.

J. V. Vickers, chairman of the chamber's Entertainment Committee and a member of the live-stock association, extended an invitation to all present to attend some of the sessions of the association. He said that the chamber has arranged several excursions for the visitors, and he hoped that rain would not interfere with the plans.

President Stewart introduced Willis H. Booth, president-elect, as a man of brains and brawn. He asserted the duties of president were so arduous that it took a muscular man to keep up the prestige of the office.

Mr. Booth briefly outlined the comprehensive policy of the organization, and stated that while its first duty was to aid local affairs, that it reached out to help all kindred associations in the North, South, or the whole vast western territory.

RHEUMATISM IS NOW OVERCOME

Simple Mixture and Directions for Taking—Get the Ingredients From the Drug Store and Mix Them Yourself by Shaking Them Well in the Bottle

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

The following simple home treatment will cure Rheumatism and is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three harmless ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

FIELD FORCES ARE REDUCED.

Weather Stops Work and the Men Are Laid Off.

Union Report Shows Three Millions Net.

Refined Sales Eighty-three Per Cent. More.

There is a movement in the oil fields of the San Joaquin Valley to lay off men. Fewer strings are started as old wells are completed and the idea is abroad that there will be less drilling for the next sixty days or so. The California Oil Fields, Ltd., is reducing its force. According to late advices, it has, only five or six strings running.

There is no concerted action. No reason is apparent, except that at this time the companies have decided that they have enough wells for awhile and also that the heavy rains make it hard to haul material. This is a ready explanation. No one cares to spend any more money than he has to moving his rig, rig timbers and irons. High water has been the rule for some time in Kern River, the stream that gives the field its name, the ground is soaked in every field in the State and supplies from distant points are delayed by railroad washouts. Rail shipments of oil must face the same chance.

The Limited at Coalinga has greatly increased its production within the last ninety days with new wells and by cleaning and deepening old ones. Several drillers laid off at Coalinga, McKittrick and Midway have arrived in this city during the last week.

Kern County Figures.

At the close of 1908, Kern River had 1171 wells producing, 138 drilled in 1908, production 13,200,000; Sunset, 168 producing wells, twenty-nine drilled during 1908, production 1,060,000 barrels; Midway, twenty-four producing wells, production 450,000; McKittrick, 105 producing wells, fifty wells drilled in 1908, production 2,900,000. For all Kern county, 1449 producing wells, 235 wells drilled in 1908, 17,600,000 barrels production.

Union's Great Report.

The Union Oil Company's annual report shows net earnings of $3,023,932.85; dividends, $1,240,178, leaving as surplus, $1,782,754.85. The average per cent. of net earnings for the last seven years was 15 per cent.; allowed for depreciation of plant in that time, $1,154,329.61; dividends, exclusive of the special payment last August, $4,544,759.65.

The company's total land holdings is 234,813.39 acres, of which 184,045.35 are owned in fee, 49,577.33 leased, and 1,190.69 mineral claims. As follows: Ventura county, 65,915.17 acres fee, 5,849.69 leased, 3962.29 mineral claims; Los Angeles, 8784.96 fee, 1763.42 leased; Orange, 2653.84 fee, 2536 leased; San Diego, 2726.39 fee, 640 mineral claims; Imperial, 2,968.28 fee; Santa Barbara, 1,038.78 fee, 4580.35 leased; Fresno, 400 fee, 130 leased, 1760 mineral claims; San Luis Obispo, 1459.35 fee, 4320 mineral claims; Kern, 40 fee, 7373 leased; San Bernardino, 6400 leased; Monterey, 23,- ; totals as above.

The refinery business shows an increase of 83 per cent. over 1907. The total business of the San Francisco office and branches in the north was 91 per cent. greater

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

If you are planning to refurnish your dining-room this spring the thing to get is fumed oak. The manager of a big Spring-street furniture establishment tells me it is the most popular style of dining-room furniture now on the market. It has a dull finish and you may pay any price you like from $11.50 for a dining table and $3.25 each for chairs up as high as you care to go. The dull finished woods are very popular now. You see them in the weathered oak and other woods, and, of course, the Colonial style leads all others. The bureau knobs are of the old-fashioned wood or of glass—like grandmother used to have.

Mahogany is always good. It never goes out of date. I saw at the above furniture house yesterday a mahogany bedstead that made me wish I was a millionaire. The posts were eight feet high and were exquisitely carved. To go with this Colonial treasure was an elegant cheval mirror, mounted in a handsomely carved mahogany frame, a dresser with drawers so long and wide that you could lay your party dress out full length with never a fold in it, a dressing table, and, last and most superb of all—a high-boy—just like those our ancestors had in the days of '76. It was as tall as I am and the drawers had brass handles, and there were so many of them that you could lay away the wardrobe of the entire household in their depths and then rent three or four. Really, one could almost live inside the mahogany suite—it was so luxurious and roomy and so princely in all its appointments. What is the price? Well, I think $800 would buy the five pieces, but you wouldn't have any change coming back.

For the living-room, think the leather-covered furniture is most satisfactory. It lasts forever and never goes out of date, and it is so comfortable withal. It never pays to buy cheap furniture. Better have one piece of real mahogany, or solid oak, or a genuine leather-covered chair than half a dozen varnished soft-wood pieces that show every scratch and mar. It is a good plan to get a bottle of furniture polish of your dealer. He knows better than the agent who comes to your door the best perparation for polishing and removing dust and keeping in order your household goods.

If you have any carpet rags now is the time to use them. I saw at this high-grade furniture house yesterday several handsome rag carpet rugs for use on the porch, in the bathroom or the back hall. I saw, too, some very pretty oriental rugs there as low in price as $15—and as high as $1500.

A Turquoise Mine.

In a show window on Spring street, not far from Mercantile Place, is a reproduction of an Arizona turquoise mine that is very attractive now that we are all wearing these pretty blue stones. You can see the entrance to the mine, and the burros and even a couple of mountain goats are in evidence, while the blue ore lies around in chunks. I went inside, and such an array of turquoise stones I have not seen before anywhere. This firm has control of the Arizona mine, the clerk told me, and is, therefore, headquarters for the stones, all of which are genuine. There is a fad for rings set with enormous stones. "A lady bought one like this, only larger, yesterday," said the clerk. "This" was a ring set with an oval stone that measured more than an inch in length, and was half as wide. The cobweb matrix is most sought after, the delicate tracery showing like a filmy cobweb over the exquisite blue of the stone.

Coral and Conch Cameos.

Hunt up the old-fashioned cameo breastpin grandmother used to wear. It is quite the thing just now. The larger the better. In the window of a leading Spring-street jeweler I beheld yesterday the most exquisite Japanese corals cut into cameos and set in rings and brooches. On the same tray were the lovely conch-shell cameos, the clear-cut Grecian face showing pearly white over the pale pink of the shell. These brooches are shaped just like the old-fashioned cameo breastpins and come at $13 each —and up.

California Gold Stone.

If you are looking for some souvenirs to take to your friends back East, why not get something in the California gold stone? I saw any number of pretty and useful things made of it in a Spring-street window yesterday. There were penknives, penholders, Masonic emblems, watch fobs and charms, paper cutters and nail files. They are odd and inexpensive and the glitter of the gold in the rich, bright bronze is very attractive.

A Thin Watch.

If you have saved up a goodly sum from your allowance and want to make Tom a birthday present that is really worth while, then why don't you get him one of those thin model watches? They are the best yet, and quite, quite new. The flattest watch I ever saw. Why, it isn't over a quarter of an inch thick—but it's all there, you may depend. The movement is Swiss, patented by the best firm there, and absolutely dependable. After all, when you come to think about it, what's the use of a big, bulky gold case for a watch? Once you see a thin model and you'll not be satisfied till Tom is carrying one inside his vest pocket.

Traveling Trunks.

Going traveling? Then be wise. Economize somewhere else and get yourself a rattan basket trunk.

Too expensive? Well, might as well put the value into the trunk as to pay excess baggage. A woman told me yesterday that she has just returned from a six months' trip East, which, of course, involved the necessity of both summer and winter clothes. She took her little daughter with her and the warm and cold weather outfit for the two, packed in a rattan trunk weighed—trunk and all—just 195 pounds. The trunk cost $35, to be sure, but it'll last a lifetime. It doesn't begin to get the hard usage from baggage smashers that the tin, lead, zinc and wood affairs do. You see, it's so light that its always sure of riding on top. A baggageman, no matter how big a giant he may be, has not sufficient muscle to toss a 200-pound trunk on top a mountain of baggage. Therefore, it is bound to go below and all the rest ride over it, while the light rattan affair sits smiling and bland above the crushing and destructive banging of its neighbors.

Matter of Morals.

The rattan trunk is also a great profanity saver. As a matter of morals it should be given the preference. I never feel like blaming a baggageman when he cusses a little at being requested to carry on his back a forty-inch trunk, weighing 200 pounds, up three flights of stairs and round the corners without marring the walls. It's almost more than flesh and blood can calmly stand.

Auction Attractions.

Ever go to an auction? Try it some rainy day instead of the matiné. It's a good substitute. I find tourists there by the score buying all sorts of oriental ware from a pair of salt shakers to a seventeen-piece tea set. The auctioneer himself is interesting as a study, and there is usually a faint odor of incense about the atmosphere which seems to have a hypnotic effect in persuading people to buy—even if they know they are paying double the price asked at the regular headquarters.

"Friends, I am now going to offer you a very handsome vahs," observed an auctioneer yesterday. "It is over and under glazed, burned into the clay, real gold leaf, Royal blue Kourzahn, inlaid with 22-carat gold. What will you offer for this magnificent vahs?"

Now, who could fail to be impressed with such a "vahs" as that? If the auctioneer had called it a plain "vase" not half the people would have listened—but a "vahs"—ah, that attracts 'em.

One tourist bought a teapot with a double patent back-action strainer inside, for half a dollar; a dragon design, seventeen-piece (counting the covers) tea set for $1.50; half a dozen after-dinner cups and saucers, handles and all, as the auctioneer opportunely observed, for 55 cents, and six dinner plates for two-bits.

Fashionable Fads.

More thick crepe de chines, failles, satins of various kinds and velvets are being used for handsome toilettes than of the long used voiles and mousselines.

The most fashionable umbrella stick or handle is the one made of tortoise shell, absolutely unadorned or trimmed with a jade collar, rimmed with chased gold.

Whether the coat be long or extend only a trifle beyond hip length, it is usually with back so slightly fitted that to all appearances it is almost straight.

Not only is the princess dress becoming to the average figure, but when it is made wit the top draped in soft folds from the shoulder it is the picture of grace itself.

Though petticoats have never been less in evidence, they also have never been so carefully considered, so well cut and so painstakingly fitted to the figure as they are today.

Some very handsome suit coats for street wear are of heavy ottoman silk, and are particularly smart if characterized by severe lines; when worn with handsome furs they are extremely elegant.

JAPANESE MINISTER WELL.

TOKIO, Jan. 27.—There is no foundation for the rumor of the death of Count Jutadio Komura, Minister of Foreign Affairs. He was in excellent health when seen this morning and said he expected to make a speech before the Diet shortly.

Judge Rufus H. Thayer of Shanghai, China, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday, where he was joined by his son, R. C. Thayer, an attorney of this city.

NO "RECALL" OF THE LEADERS.

The position of Los Angeles is unchanged and unassailable. She stands at the top. So does The Times. Los Angeles cannot be recalled. Neither can The Times. Both stand pat. Sure, Mike!

Los Angeles stands at the head of THE WORLD'S cities in the department of publicity.

Following are the authenticated reports for the month of December, 1908, as to volume of advertising carried by the leading newspapers of the United States. We append the insignificant total of the Evening Express, by way of comparison. It will be seen that the lead of The Times is growing and that the Express is not within hailing distance of the bottom-liner among the leaders:

Alleged Embezzler Tells of False Entries.

Lumber Company Employee Is Now in Jail.

James F. Bushnell, of Hollywood, for five years a trusted employé of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, with general offices at No. 357 South Spring street, was arrested, last night, on the charge of embezzlement on three complaints of U. G. Richards, general manager of the company, and in default of $5000 bail in each case was committed to jail by Justice Summerfield.

The downfall of Bushnell may be laid to the race track, for it is said that most of his money went "to feed the boys who stand on the block and give the odds." The police, who knew of his heavy betting on the course, could not believe he was a steady-going business man, for he was at the track every day and recognized, they say, as one of the talent who always had a "big wad to go up against anything," if the odds looked right.

The specific charges are that on March 22 Bushnell embezzled $439; on April 15, $112.53, and on May 18, $334.93. It is stated that the shortage is much larger than the total of these amounts. Examination of the books of the concern, officials say, showed that Bushnell has taken about $21,000 within the past four years, but this sum is reduced $2679, secured by the company from a safe deposit box, where it had been deposited by the defendant, supposedly in preparation for a "move" about February 1.

Bushnell had been in the employ of the lumber company since 1905, coming to Los Angeles from Chicago. He held the position of salesman and collector. Having especial charge of the general offices, it was his business, in a large degree, to look after collections due from the city and county.

HAUNTS POOL ROOM.

While, as has been said, he was an almost daily visitor to the Santa Anita track, when the ponies were not running there, he haunted the pool room at Vernon, where he laid his money on a chance. On the track he was a "plunger," although his salary was only $125 a month.

For years James Shultz was general manager of the Wood company, and during that time, Bushnell was employed there, but no breath of suspicion attached to him, so far as Shultz knew. On January 1, U. G. Richards of San Francisco, succeeded to the general managership. So strong was the confidence Shultz had in Bushnell that he told Richards he would find him one of his most valuable men.

But the good word of Shultz was not accepted as final by Richards, who, from Bushnell's general demeanor, soon became suspicious. He learned of the employé's visits to the race track, and had detectives watch him. He even made several trips himself to Santa Anita, and on the 20th inst., saw Bushnell win $80 on a $200 bet, he says.

"DOCTORED" BOOKS.

Last Thursday, the employé was taken to the Westminster Hotel, and has since been kept under the surveillance of the police. When confronted with the alleged evidences of his guilt, yesterday, he did not acknowledge it, but he might as well have done so, for he showed the officers and representatives of the company how he had "doctored" his books.

He used a system. For instance, six months ago he collected a bill from the city, or county, but made no entry on his books. When he was prodded about not collecting this bill, he would secure money from other sources and use it to settle the old claim. So the work went on indefinitely, and the schedule which Bushnell showed tallied to a cent with the statement they had prepared.

He admitted that he was getting ready to leave the city, and surrendered the key of his safe deposit box, from which were taken gold and bills collected from the county on January 19, on account of lumber used in the aqueduct job. While the shortage is believed to be about $21,000, it may prove to be greater when the books of an earlier period are examined.

As soon as the alleged embezzlement was discovered, E. K. Wood of San Francisco, president of the company, came to Los Angeles. Yesterday afternoon, the mother of Bushnell pleaded with Wood to drop the prosecution, promising to restore one-half of all that was found to be missing, but she was not successful in her request. Mrs. Bushnell is over 70 years old and feels the disgrace keenly. The accused has a wife and son, who are among the most respected citizens of Hollywood.

When Bushnell was taken into custody he exhibited the greatest perturbation, but refused to talk about his case.

HONDURANS INSULT MEXICO.

Officers Violate Consulate at Puerto Cortez—Apology and Indemnity Demanded.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cable advices received here tonight from Puerto Cortez, Honduras, state that Sefarano Sierra, a Mexican, was brutally assaulted by Honduras officers in the Mexican consulate, January 21. Mr. Enrile is the Mexican consul.

Sierra had called to bid Enrile goodbye, and was standing directly under the Mexican shield over the door when the police officers pounced upon him and beat and cut him about the head terribly with a machete. He was thrown violently to the ground and is dangerously wounded.

The only possible excuse for the unprovoked assault seems to have been that Sierra owed a Belize negro, A. Baker, eight silver dollars. Upon learning that Sierra was going on a trip the negro set the police on him, with dire results.

Meanwhile, the Mexican government is determined to have an apology and indemnity. Consul Enrile has communicated all the facts to his government and today orders were issued to rush a gunboat to Puerto Cortez to demand the apology and indemnity.

Huge Peg Board in a Club.

A Brooklyn club has installed a peg board from which the doorman may tell at a glance just what members are in the club and whether there is mail for any of the members. The peg board covers several large panels in the entrance hall. Each member's name is printed on it and opposite each name are two holes. When the holes are empty the member is out and there is no mail for him. Red or white pegs are inserted in the holes to show an opposite state of things. As nearly 2000 names appear on the board it is quite a sizable contrivance. —Exchange.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.

SWIFTLY GOES INTO UNKNOWN.

MRS. BENJAMIN BLOSSOM DIES VERY SUDDENLY.

She Had Been a Sufferer from Heart Disease for Some Time, Although the Fact Was not Known Outside Her Immediate Family. Huntington Makes Modest Request.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Benjamin Blossom, one of the leaders of Pasadena society and a millionairess in her own right, succumbed at 1:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon to heart disease, from which no one outside the immediate family knew her to be a sufferer. Dr. F. C. Mattison and her near relatives, including her husband, her only daughter, Miss Rowena, Mrs. John Vischer Eliot, and her mother-in-law, Mme. Blossom, were at her side when death came. It had been known for some time that Mrs. Blossom was in delicate health, but her apparent gain in strength during the past few months had led to a belief that the disease would not be fatal.

Mrs. Blossom was a native of New York City, where she married Howard Meyer, who died in 1887. Thirteen years ago, she married Benjamin Blossom, and after years spent on the continent, she came to Pasadena, where the estate of T. S. C. Lowe was purchased.

Since that time Mrs. Blossom held a prominent place in society, being prominently identified with all that was good in the community. She was about 48 years old.

WILL BOOST MUNICIPAL PLANT.

Acting on the suggestion of Manager Kolmer of the municipal light plant, the City Council yesterday decided to do all in its power toward the boosting of the plant. It will issue a statement containing all the facts as to progress made during the past few months, and the possibilities for the future. The circulars will be placed in the hands of every man on the voters' list.

WANTS RECOMPENSE.

Howard E. Huntington, giving his residence as No. 1079 Old Mill Road, in the Oak Knoll district, today filed a protest against the payment of taxes to the city of Pasadena for which he receives no return. He says he is yearly paying $398.18, and that in return he gets neither police nor fire protection nor even the ordinary service of public lights in the street. He, in most polite language, asks that the city give him some return for his taxes by installing street lights in the vicinity. The protest was referred to the committee of street lighting.

WAIF WORKER.

Mrs. Jennie C. Nichols, known as the "Waifs' Friend," is at the Corona, No. 58 North Marengo avenue. She is the head of the children's rescue work on the Pacific Coast, with headquarters in Oakland. Her visit has as its object to interest Pasadena in her work, and the securing of aid.

BIG PRICE FOR HOME.

R. B. Newberry of No. 397 Marengo avenue, has purchased at a price said to be in the neighborhood of $20,000, the A. F. Christiansen home at No. 527 East Washington street, which he will occupy. The property includes a nine-room modern house and an estate with a frontage of 132 feet and a depth of 412 feet.

BURGLARS SEEK ELKS FUND.

Chairman Grant Orth of the committee of the Pasadena Elks which has in charge the funds from the festival now in progress to secure money for the proper entertainment of the visiting members of the grand lodge in July, found, on opening his desk in the office of Elks Hall, today, that the lock had been forced. However, Mr. Orth, fearing just such an outrage, had removed all his valuables to the police station.

MATRONS TO PRESIDE AT DESK.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for Pasadena hospital day at Hotel Maryland, has named the women, all prominent in local society, who will preside at the desks of the room and desk clerks and the cashier of the hotel, January 30. They are Mrs. Carter Harrison, Mrs. John Hugus, Mrs. H. I. Stewart, Mrs. Henry S. Stuart, Mrs. Fred Elmer Wilcox and Mrs. Walter Raymond.

LARGE BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Charles Cranz Perkins and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tod Ford, gave one of the largest bridge parties of the season yesterday afternoon at the Annandale Country Club. The guests of honor were Mrs. John Gill and her daughter, Miss Agnes Gill, of Baltimore, mother and sister of Mrs. Lloyd Macy of North Grand avenue, and Mmes. Osgood Pell and William Kerr, daughters of Mrs. John Warden of St. John avenue, who are guests here this winter.

With a flower color scheme suggestive of sunshine, the club house assembly room was beautiful. Golden acacia, jonquils and narcissus were used in profusion and spring was hinted at in masses of Parma violets.

Eighteen tables were arranged for bridge and handsome prizes were awarded. The tea table where, after the games, refreshments were served, was presided over by Mmes. Joseph H. Johnson and Henry Mauris Robinson.

The hostesses and guests of honor were elaborately gowned, Mrs. Perkins wearing a lingerie gown of white handembroidered India linen with garniture of pale yellow. Mrs. Ford wore lavender meteor crepe trimmed with silver lace; Mrs. Pell was charming in a directoire gown of black with plumed hat to correspond; Mrs. Kerr's gown was ivory white satin and she also wore a black picture hat. Miss Graham, who received also, wore a gown of cloth of silver. Miss Gill was growned in white and Mrs. Gill wore a stunning costume of black and white.

One hundred and fifty invitations were extended and those present included most of the society maids and matrons of the younger set.

GAY COTILLION.

One of the gayest and most brilliant social functions of the season was the cotillion given at Hotel Green last evening.

The great vaulted ballroom in the west building formed the setting for the charming affair, and 200 or 300 guests of the Green were present.

The dancers formed for the grand march in the Romanesque room, and the german was led by Maj. T. M. De Puces, U.S.A., and Mrs. Bartlett of New York.

Those who danced included: The Misses Greenwood, Beach, Chappelle, Ward, Somerville, Hurley, Cook, Auten, Griffith, Jean Griffith, Plover, Newhall, Soper, Barnes, Austin, Tilton, Holmes, Stehman, Speer, Mrs. Bartlett, and Messrs. Truesdale, Jais, Stimson, Wilkerson, Auten, Carney, Laurence Robinson, Snyder, Carney, Johnson, Eaton Reynolds, Sommerville, Hutchinson, Robson, Bradshaw, Constant, Stehman.

Several dinner parties preceded the cotillion. Among those entertaining were: Col. and Mrs. W. J. Hogan, who gave a beautifully appointed violet dinner, and had as their guests Maj. and Mrs. C. A. Winship, Mr. and Mrs. O'Fallon, Mrs. Margaret Reed and Miller Henderson.

ARRIVALS AT GREEN.

Arrivals at Hotel Green yesterday were: Mrs. Ida Franc and daughter, Miss Laura Franc, of Toledo, O.; Ralph C. Watrous, Providence, R. I.; Mrs. J. C. Alexander, New York City; O. W. Rounsevel, San Francisco; F. J. Culef, San Francisco; Capt. and Mrs. Fraser Hunter, India; Charles K. Fleishman, daughter and nurse, New York City; Miss Josephine Fleishman, New York; M. G. TWO GET IN JOKER'S NET.

When There's Nothing in the Offing San Pedro Takes to Scoffing.

SAN PEDRO, Jan. 26.—Local provision and grocery men are wondering whether they have been victims of a practical joke or whether they narrowly escaped being swindled. Last Saturday a dapper young man, dressed as a petty officer of the navy, arrived in town. He gave the name of J. T. Norman, and stated that he belonged to the United States torpedo-boat destroyer Lawrence, and had been sent up from San Diego to purchase supplies and provisions for the Lawrence and Goldborough, which he stated were due to arrive here on Sunday. From Abbott & Anderson, butchers, he ordered 700 pounds of fresh meats to be delivered at the water front on Sunday morning. With Leahy Bros. grocers, he contracted for 1000 pounds of flour, several hundred sacks of potatoes and a quantity of all kinds of fresh vegetables. This order he requested to be delivered on the wharf at the foot of Fifth street on Saturday night. When the order had been complied with by the happy groceryman the wharf resembled a good-sized vegetable garden. All day Sunday the groceryman and the butcher scanned the horizon for the prows of the Goldsborough and the Lawrence, but all in vain. Sunday night the rain fell in torrents and most of the flour and the fresh vegetables were ruined. This morning the groceryman hauled the potatoes and what else he could save from the wreck back to the store, meanwhile vowing vengeance against one who signs himself "J. T. Norman, U.S.S. Lawrence." The butcher was wiser. He waited "to be shown," and kept the meat order in his shop, awaiting the arrival of the destroyer, thereby escaping serious loss.

TURNED DOWN.

WATERY OFFER IS REJECTED.

PROHIBITIONIST PROPOSAL NOT FAVORABLY RECEIVED.

Owners of Virginia Hotel, Long Beach, Don't Consider It a Business Proposition—They Outline Terms on Which They Would Be Willing to Lease Establishment.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 26.—The Seaside Investment Company, which owns the Hotel Virginia, today rejected the proposal of leading prohibitionists to take control on a five-year option and operate the place as a temperance hotel. The offer was to pay all running expenses and divide profits, if any, on the basis of two-thirds to the hotel company, the latter to pay all taxes, insurance and interest on bonded indebtedness. In its reply the Seaside company says it sees no business proposition in an offer to use its property, representing an investment of $1,000,000 without paying one dollar, and even avoiding any payment of fixed expenses. It adds that if under the management of as able a hotel man as D. M. Linnard the hotel proved a failure because it was not granted a table license, it would be foolish to assume it could be made a success with inexperienced men.

A counter-proposition is submitted to Messrs. Walker, Windham and Townsend that they furnish a guarantee for a three years' lease, pay all costs of operation and fixed charges, but no rent for the first year. During the second and third years they shall pay 1 and 2 per cent. on the cash investment of the stockholders. If this lease is not acceptable the hotel company offers to sell the property at a discount of $250,000 on the actual cost and make terms on the payments. These offers were made today, and were taken under advisement by the men representing the prohibitionists.

SAYS HIS CRIME IS DISEASE.

The arrest of Arthur Graveley proves to have been rather important. James Vincent yesterday came from Sunset Beach and identified the hat and shoes worn by Graveley as his property, and later a gold watch found on the prisoner. Vincent says he went to Los Angeles last week with $50, and there met Graveley. They had a good time together, but during the spree Vincent was robbed of his roll and his watch. Graveley sympathized with him and accompanied him back to the beach. The man pleaded guilty to petty larceny today, and was given 100 days in the County Jail. He admitted that anything he could lay his hands on, but advanced the plea that it was a disease handed down from his father. He said he had never committed a burglary or hold-up, but could not resist the desire to steal. Incidentally he blames women and the races for his downfall.

A VOICE FROM THE DEAD.

J. E. Hennessey of Minneapolis, who is spending the winter at the Del Mar, is a life-long chum and friend of W. J. Mooney, one of the victims in Saturday's ocean collision. He has a letter written two days before Mr. and Mrs. Mooney left their home in Langdon, N. D., to go on the fatal trip. Both men suffered with heart trouble, and in his letter Mr. Mooney sought to cheer his friend up. Mooney hoped his friend would benefit in California, which has "the best climate in the world." He added:

"If you do not, what is the difference, as it is only a few years more or less to you or me; hundreds of millions have gone ahead of us, and millions will follow, and as we get older we look at these matters in a more philosophical manner. I trust, however, that it will be many years more before you will have to prepare to make peace for the hereafter."

BROTHERLY INVITATION.

Local Elks last night extended an invitation to the Seattle lodge members, who will come on a chartered steamer to the Grand Lodge meeting in May, to anchor their vessel at the foot of Third street during their stay, it being a certainty that the inland harbor will be open long before that time. The Elks are planning a number of entertainments here to secure funds for Long Beach Day.

HARBOR THEIR TOPIC.

Forty realty men and their guests attended the first annual banquet of the Long Beach Realty Board tonight. "The Harbor," was the topic of the after-dinner talk made by Judge Call, H. M. Barstow and C. J. Curtis.

FIRE SPITS IN HIS FACE.

While at work in the furnace-room of the Inner Harbor laundry this morning, John Schrode was painfully burned by a sudden burst of flame. His face and arms received the worst injuries. The burns, while extensive, will not leave permanent scars.

Yesterday was the last for the payment of city taxes without delinquency, and over $23,000 was taken in, leaving less than $11,000 out of a total of $206,000.

MONEY MAKES MUSIC.

The City Council has made an appropriation of $100 a month from March to December toward the support of a municipal band, to be organized by Prof. E. H. Willey. It will be composed of twenty-five musicians.

HOLY WATER IS SALTY.

A novel feature was witnessed by several hundred people today at Seaside Park, when Henry Davit, a recent convert to the Church of Christ, received the rites of baptism by being immersed in the surf by Dr. Perkins, an evangelist who is holding services here.

Mrs. C. F. Case, aged 60, died this morning at a local hotel. She was a native of Michigan, and had resided here about four years.

PREPARE THE WAY.

Dr. Burnham, president of the California Medical Society, today notified Drs. H. O. Bates, F. L. Rogers and W. H. Jones of their appointment as Committee on Arrangements for the meeting of the State Medical Society, to be held here in May.

Mrs. Catherine Titcombe died at her home on East Eighth street last night. She was a native of New Brunswick, and was 69 years of age. She had been a resident of Long Beach thirteen years.

THE COURT SAYS SO.

Acting on Peremptory Order San Pedro Trustees Put Forward Election Two Months.

SAN PEDRO, Jan. 26.—Pursuant to a peremptory writ of mandate issued from the District Court of Appeals on the 22d inst., the Trustees this afternoon changed the date for holding an election, to exclude that portion of the city north of Fifth street from May 17, as originally set, to Wednesday, March 10.

The election will be held in response to a petition containing 580 signatures filed with the Trustees on November 17, 1908. If it carries it is the intention of the proponents of the segregation movement to annex the excluded territory to Los Angeles through the medium of the "shoestring" strip. Fifth street, the dividing line, is almost in the heart of the present business section of San Pedro. The fight promises to be warm and spectacular. Many voters who favor the consolidation of San Pedro and Los Angeles are opposed to the present movement for division, while others favor any steps whatever, no matter how radical, to affect consolidation. The Trustees are vigorously opposed to the present movement for exclusion. This was clearly evidenced this afternoon when, following the adoption of an ordinance calling the election for exclusion on March 10, they authorized City Clerk Mason to forward a resolution, previously passed, to Senator Savage and Assemblyman Leeds, stating their position. The resolution reads: "We request you to use all efforts to secure legislation, enabling San Pedro to consolidate with Los Angeles, provided that such consolidation is requested by a majority of the voters by petition, and that such consolidation is carried by a two-thirds vote of the cities concerned, and that the city annexed become a borough of the greater city." This, in effect, indorses the bill introduced at Sacramento by Savage. Mayor Walton and Trustees Foot, Duffy, Peck and Tilton voted in favor of the resolution. There was no negative vote.

OFFER LAND TO U. S.

The Trustees adopted a resolution offering to tender to the government for an indefinite period 130 acres of tide lands opposite the government reservation in the outer harbor to be used as a United States naval and torpedo station. Mayor Walton and City Clerk Mason were authorized to sign the resolution and forward it to the Secretary of the Navy.

Home Missionary Society of Pomona Methodist Church Enjoys Luncheon and Papers.

POMONA, Jan. 26.—The regular quarterly luncheon and all-day meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of Trinity Methodist Church was held today. Luncheon was served and then papers were read by Mrs. A. W. Lamport on "Pioneer Work and Workers," and by Mrs. A. B. Avis on "Training Schools."

A dancing party was given at Foresters' Hall last evening in honor of Misses Helen and Gertrude Fair, who will leave tomorrow for their home in Hardy, Neb. Those present included Misses Foster, Smoot, Russell, Poston, Mabel Foster, George, Egerly, and Messrs. Loucks, Ellsworth, Mahoney, Fleming, Loud, McKim, Dills, Nesbit, Belcher, Bartlett and Roller.

SEASON'S RAINFALL.

The total rainfall for the season now amounts to 13.13 inches.

Several lots have been sold of late in the Walker-Dole tract and three new houses are being built there. The city has graded San Antonio avenue on the east side of the tract south from Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Edward S. Gerling and daughter, Edith, will remove to Los Angeles tomorrow. They sold their property here to the First Christian Church.

The Fourth Ward Child Study Circle will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Fifth-street kindergarten and will be addressed by Prof. P. W. Kauffman, supervising principal of the public schools.

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is not a particle of opium or other narcotic in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and never has been since it was first offered to the public. It is as safe a medicine for a child as for an adult. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds and croup, and can always be depended upon.—[Adv.

PASTOR DAY NAMED.

possesses the executive ability, and at the same time the training gained in travel and on the platform that will enable him to reach people through his eloquence and logic, and will bring to bear on the college a great influence for its unbuilding."

William Horace Day, is 41 years of ago, though he looks younger. His higher education began with a year's study in Germany, following his graduation from high school, while traveling with his father and mother, at the age of 16.

He returned home and entered Amherst College, from which institution he graduated in 1889. He followed this with a course in the Chicago Theological School, and Yale Divinity School. Upon his graduation from Yale, he became assistant pastor of the New England Congregational Church of Chicago, where he remained two years. He relinquished this work and went to England, where he spent the years 1894 and 1895 in Oxford University, and the following year in Germany, as a student in the University of Berlin.

At the close of the year 1896 he returned to his native land, accepted the pastorate of the Congregational Church at Aurora, Ill., serving efficiently for four years.

CHANGES WITH FATHER.

At the close of the year 1900 he came to Los Angeles, as assistant to his father, Dr. Warren F. Day, then for twelve years pastor of the First Congregational Church. After three years in this position, was witnessed the unique spectacle of father and son exchanging places. Dr. Day, Sr., voluntarily surrendered and asked that his son be given the head place, as he was doing the lion's share of the work, while he was given the title of "Pastor Emeritus." For five years this association has continued, and has attracted the attention of the country. The utmost harmony has prevailed and the church has prospered marvelously, and to break it now will require the rupture of close ties and the snapping of heart-strings. Dr. Warren F. Day is yet a powerful and entertaining preacher, with abundant vigor, and he keeps in closest touch with affairs affecting the interests of the church in general, as an active participant in the Church Federation.

William Horace Day has traveled widely during the eight years he has lived in Los Angeles, and has been honored with the highest places in the gift of his church, representing it ably at the great national gatherings. He received his degree of D.D. from Amherst College about three years ago.

AZUSA.

AZUSA, Jan. 26.—In the First Presbyterian Church stirring addresses were made this afternoon by Rev. Dr. Halsey, one of the New York secretaries of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and Rev. Horace Underwood, D.D., the first American missionary to Korea. Dr. Underwood told of the eagerness with which the Koreans have grasped the truths of Christianity.

Two rock-crushing plants are insufficient to meet the demands of the trade, and another is to be built half way between the town and the San Gabriel River.

GLENDALE.

GLENDALE, Jan. 26.—A. K. Crawford, who, on January 10, was stricken with apoplexy as he was leaving church, shows a slight improvement in his condition and hopes are now entertained for his recovery.

Delinquent taxes now amount to little more than $200.

Several teams are finishing the grade work on Howard street, which is to be curbed and oiled.

The W.C.T.U. will give an "experience social" tomorrow night in the new home of Mrs. Claude O. Pulliam, at Kenwood avenue and Second street.

JOINS SPIRITS HE TALKED TO.

QUEER VENTURA CHARACTER DIES AT SALINA CRUZ.

Lived in Shack Amid Tumbleweeds and Used to Say He Carried on Intercourse With Ghosts—Leaves a Large Amount of Property—Recently Bought Banana Plantation.

VENTURA, Jan. 26.—William Lee ... of this city was killed at Salina Cruz a few days ago by being run over by a switch engine in the yards of the Tehuantepec railway. He was a well-known character, 75 years of age. He carried on the business of tombstone cutting and inhabited a little shack at his stone yard, where he lived alone. He was most erratic and claimed to have intercourse with spirits. He was well-to-do, owning a large amount of property in this city, in Oxnard and at Inglewood. Recently he bought stock in a banana plantation near Salina Cruz and met his death after a trip of inspection to this latest purchase. ORANGE COUNTY SUPERVISORS ALSO WANT COIN.

Recommend to Assemblyman Additional Deputies in Offices of Clerk, District Attorney, Treasurer, Auditor and Assessor—Boys Are Believed Responsible for Explosion.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 26.—The Board of Supervisors today recommended to Assemblyman Richard Melrose that $1200 a year be allowed the Clerk, Tax Collector and District Attorney for deputies, $900 for the Treasurer and Auditor, and the Assessor two extra field deputies at $100 per month for four months each year. The Supervisors ask that they be allowed $800 a year for work as road commissioners.

It was not recommended that the Surveyor be taken off a fee basis and placed on a salary of $1800, as he requested. The District Attorney and Treasurer had not applied to the Assemblyman for additional help. The Assessor asked for a $1200 office deputy and nine field men at $125. The Tax Collector asked for a $1200 man and six clerks for four months at $60. The Auditor asked for a $1200 deputy, and the Clerk for a deputy at $115.

The Supervisors appropriated $400 to the Automobile Club of Southern California for posting county roads with automobile signs. A new school district at Newport Heights was ordered established.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Shortly before midnight last night, a few hours after forty pounds of dynamite was stolen from the Pixley Hardware Company's warehouse at Orange, a terrific explosion shook the buildings in the vicinity of the Central Primary building on Church street. Night watchmen were unable to locate the exact place where the explosion occurred until this morning, when a hole in the fence and a shattered window told where the dynamite had been used.

The explosive was placed on the fence twenty-five feet back of the school building. Burned marks show where the fuse lay. Several years ago boys had the city terrorized by the use of dynamite and anonymous letters, one or two small buildings being blown up.

Today Constable Jackson and City Marshal Jernigan of Orange found a part of the lost dynamite hidden under sage boxes near the building from which it was taken. Forty sticks are still unaccounted for. Six or seven boys have been located, who helped themselves to dynamite, but none of them admit a knowledge of last night's explosion.

SANTA ANA NOTES.

"Tex" Stacey, a professional horse trader, was badly beaten on a horse trade today. He paid $80 for an eighteen-year-old animal, and was leading him home when the horse jerked back on the rope, staggered and fell over on the street dead.

In an answer filed today the Huntington Beach Tent City Company, which is being sued by the Methodist Assembly to terminate he lease of the tent city at Huntington Beach, on the claim that the company rented the assembly hall for high school purposes, declared that it had not violated the the lease, that the renting of the assembly hall was done with the knowledge of the Methodists and their consent, and that at no time was there taught therein any principles to which the Methodists might object.

OILY BREA CANYON.

Region Which Experts Picked to Produce "Only Holes" Gives Encouraging Returns.

FULLERTON, Jan. 26.—When the first oil well was drilled in the Fullerton field, a few miles northeast of here, no effort had been made to experiment for oil in the Brea Cañon district five miles north. Today the companies operating there are producing every month over 170,000 barrels of good grade oil and development is being rushed day and night on many new wells.

The Fullerton Oil Company's new well near the Orange Oil Company, is producing daily nearly 1000 barrels of oil. This company is also fishing for tools in two new wells in that district.

Number 24 on the Brea Cañon Oil Company's property is down 1900 feet with plenty of oil in the hole, which will be made much deeper with expectations of bringing in a gusher.

The Orange Oil Company's new well, No. 2, is down about 2000 feet with plenty of oil. Some men predicted that this lease would produce nothing but dry holes, but it will really mean the opening up of new territory in that district and the putting down of numerous new wells.

The Syndicate Oil Company, which leased 160 acres from the Union Oil Company, has its first well down 750 feet with the best of indications for a good strike. This lease will also add new territory. The well is about 200 feet southwest of the Brea Cañon Oil Company's property and 150 feet southeast of the Graham & Loftus lease.

The Menges well, No. 4, is down 2050 feet and has struck the first rich upper oil sands.

LOVE IN A COTTAGE.

Miss Alice Annin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Annin, and Walter Wrigley, an oil-well driller on the Puente lease, were married at the home of the bride Sunday at noon. Rev. A. B. Embree officiated in the presence of fifty invited guests, including uncles and aunts of the bride from Illinois. Miss Sadie Schumacher, a niece of the bride, played the wedding march. Miss Annin wore a champagne silk wedding gown. Mr. and Mrs. Wrigley will reside at the oil wells, where the groom has furnished a new cottage.

William Starbuck has purchased the Edwin Stone ten-acre walnut grove southwest of town, for $8500.

QUEER VENTURA CHARACTER DIES AT SALINA CRUZ.

Lived in Shack Amid Tombstones and Used to Say He Carried on Intercourse With Ghosts—Leaves a Large Amount of Property—Recently Bought Banana Plantation.

VENTURA, Jan. 26.—William Livesey of this city was killed at Salina Cruz a few days ago by being run over by a switch engine in the yards of the Tehuantepec railway. He was a well-known character, 78 years of age. He carried on the business of tombstone cutting and inhabited a little shack at his stone yard, where he lived alone. He was most erratic and claimed to have intercourse with spirits. He was well-to-do, owning a large amount of property in this city, in Oxnard and at Inglewood. Recently he bought stock in a banana plantation near Salina Cruz and met his death after a trip of inspection to this latest purchase. He left here about the middle of December and this is the first news his friends here had of him. He was a native of England. It is understood he leaves a widow and son living in Chicago.

HOT AFTER HIM.

The county authorities are hot after a man known as Edward Sprouce, who has been doing a big business by taking orders for liquor to be delivered in the Simi and Moorpark sections, in violation of the county liquor ordinance.

Carter H. Harrison, ex-Mayor of Chicago, A. Chapelle of Los Angeles and Fred E. Eldred of Chicago, visited this section Saturday in an automobile to investigate the oil wells of the Ojai Petroleum Company, in which corporation they are interested. The company is now down fifty feet in its fifth well.

BUYS ON POLI.

H. H. Neel, formerly of this county, now a resident of Los Angeles, has purchased a portion of the Blackstock property here on Poli street and will build a fine residence to be occupied by himself and family.

The syndicate of local capitalists which recently purchased 240 acres of the Dixie Thompson ranch east of this city, will in May plant 20,000 young lemon trees on the tract, making of it one of the largest lemon orchards in the world.

The Bank of Oxnard has elected James Donlon president, T. A. Rice vice-president, and George E. Hume as cashier.

WEDS GIRL HE HAD NOT SEEN.

ITALIAN'S PARENTS WOO AND WIN BEAUTY FOR HIM.

San Diego Fisherman Pleased With Bride's Appearance and She's Charmed With Situation—Tale of Men Drowned Unconfirmed—The Albany's Gunners Make Record.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 26.—Wedded to a young girl of his native country whom he had never seen was the fate of Julius Zolezzi, leader of the Italian fishing colony here. Yet the marriage, celebrated at the Roman Catholic Church, yesterday, was a most happy one, as the groom is pleased with the appearance of his bride, who arrived from Italy a few days ago.

The wedding was the result of matchmaking by the parents of the groom. When John Zolezzi and his wife went to their native shores for a visit, last year, they were charmed by the good looks and pious nature of a girl of 16. They came home and informed their son that they had selected a wife for him. He was dutiful and accepted their choice. Correspondence followed and the wedding day was chosen. The thrifty prospective groom forwarded money for the girl's passage and there was great rejoicing in the Zolezzi household when the young Italian beauty arrived here safe and sound. She made the trip alone and is charmed with her new surroundings. After the ceremony the bride and groom went to Los Angeles to spend their honeymoon.

MYSTERY UNSOLVED.

The alleged capsizing of a boat containing two men during the severe storm of last Saturday outside the bar of the harbor is exciting the denizens of the water front. The report that the men were drowned was first spread by the soldiers at Fort Rosecrans. Search was made by Capt. Wilbur with a launch, but no trace of a skiff or men could be found. It is now said that William H. Cook, who owned a sloop, Saturday went outside the harbor and has failed to return. As Cook had recently come here from the North little can be learned regarding the authenticity of the report that it was his boat that capsized.

GUNNERS GOOD SHOTS.

Gunners of the cruiser Albany yesterday engaged in target practice with a Colt automatic rapid-fire gun, which was mounted in the bow of one of the ship's cutters. They riddled a triangular-shaped target at a distance of 300 yards. Fifteen hundred rounds were fired, and it is given out that a large percentage of the shots hit the mark.

POLICEMAN DIES.

Policeman Edward Longacre died this morning of pneumonia after a brief illness. He was one of the oldest men on the force, and leaves a family.

WILL BUILD FIRE-BREAKS.

While here yesterday, F. C. Wales, engineer of District No. 5, United States Forest Service, announced that a system of fire-breaks, roads and trails will be built in the Cleveland reserve. Plans for the system have already been prepared. The government is to pay a large part of the cost, but individuals owning land through which the roads or trails are to pass are expected to contribute.

HONOR TO LINCOLN.

Five minutes of absolute silence, in which all people will do honor to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, is a suggestion as to the most fitting observance of the martyr President's birthday. Mayor Forward will probably issue a proclamation to that effect.

The Taber habeas corpus case has been postponed again until 10 o'clock tomorrow to give Sheriff Smith's attorneys time to prepare a demurrer to the traverse of Taber's counsel.

"Why shoult ut be he is fired?" asked Jake timidly.

"Dos lonk hairs; dey dunt like it he shoult be Mayor; he ain't got one of does invitation; he ain't invited by dos Willard so it dunt be he shoult be Mayor," answered Izzy severely.

"When you shoult git dos chobs off de city, should it be you vork good, you dunt get fired, huh?" asked Jake with deepening anxiety.

"Vork good is nuthink about it," said Izzy severely. "You dunt know about dos politics. You vork good; you dunt vork good; it dunt make no difference. You git dos chobs and dos Willard he get a meeting and maybe you dunt git no invitation, then you dunt stay holding with your chobs."

"If a feller iss Mayor, he gif up all dos cigars and dos beers and maybe he is ut the Mayor and maybe he dunt get no invitation," cried Jake in dismay.

Izzy majestically indicated that his brother was right.

Jake thought it over with growing sadness. At last he turned and went into the kosher shop. Back over his shoulder came the disgusted remark, "I dunt want no chobs."

Imperial Valley Towns Prepare Elaborately to Welcome Bishop Conaty at End of Week.

EL CENTRO, Jan. 26.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the forthcoming first visit to Imperial Valley of Bishop Conaty, who accompanied by a large party of priests, will arrive here Saturday evening. A public reception will be tendered them at 8 p.m. at the Holt Operahouse, under the auspices of the Ten Thousand Club, and Bishop Conaty will give an address.

The party go to Brawley Sunday forenoon, where the Church of the Sacred Heart will be dedicated. Returning by way of Imperial, where a short stop will be made, the bishop will bless St. Mary's Church here in the afternoon. On Monday he will visit Calexico and bless St. Joseph's Chapel and will then go to Holtville.

A banquet will be tendered the visitors Monday evening, by Rev. H. Eummelen and his Imperial Valley friends from the various valley towns, at Hotel Oregon. Bishop Conaty will speak. It is expected 150 guests will be present.

ANAHEIM.

ANAHEIM, Jan. 26.—A thief broke into one of the rooms of the Commercial Hotel, Sunday night, and stole $55. No arrest has been made but it is believed a Mexican got away with the money.

FEEBLE OLD LADY
Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The warm and sunny weather of yesterday morning brought gardeners out in large numbers and the market was more than well supplied in many commodities. Lettuce was superabundant and many dealers were unable to get rid of their surplus by offering it at ridiculously low figures. The potato handlers were given a decided jolt yesterday morning when telegrams from the North assured them that no stock will be shipped here for less than 2.00 a hundred, freight on board Stockton. This would bring the potatoes up to 2.15 laid down in Los Angeles and would mean an advance of from 25 to 50 cents over prices now prevailing. The only potato quoted selling at a fraction under 2.00 is the Idaho Burbank, which brings 1.75 per hundred. Oakland and Longpods are both selling up to 2.50 today. Four weeks ago, the same potatoes were selling at about 1.25 and it was not expected that the market would go much higher during the season. The destruction of large quantities of potatoes in the North has brought about the sudden change. The arrivals yesterday morning were hardly a carload.

Receipts of local eggs were reported on the increase. Express arrivals were reported at 132 cases. The arrival of a car of eastern eggs, all fresh stock, is one of the topics of the street. It held the market at its present level, just at a time when it was expected to go higher. The fact that prices in Los Angeles are lower than those in San Francisco, prevents a large quantity of eggs from up Coast from being shipped here.

Butter was firm and unchanged in value. There were a number of good eastern extra offerings at 32 cents a pound. Arrivals were reported at 16,000 pounds. The demand on the street was good.

All onions were marked up. Prices are now running from 2.25 to 2.50 per hundred. The credited price is the higher one, but there are a number of dealers who handle the product in large quantities who are selling at the lower price. Nevada brown onions are the only variety bringing a flat 2.50.

Flour prices, which have been on the verge of another advance, are again back to normal feeling. The rains have been interfering with immediate delivery, but all of the local mills are well supplied and do not rely on present arrivals. Wheat has been going up in Oregon and the Chicago markets, until the present rains in the southern wheat countries which assures early planting. Barley and corn holdings, which have been heavy on the opportunity for still higher figures there have been prevailing, are beginning to loosen and, as a result, the market is not as firm as at this time last week.

Four weeks ago, the same potatoes were selling at about 1.25 and it was not expected that the market would go much higher during the season. The destruction of large quantities of potatoes in the North has brought about the sudden change. The arrivals yesterday morning were hardly a carload.

Receipts of local eggs were reported on the increase. Express arrivals were reported at 132 cases. The arrival of a car of eastern eggs, all fresh stock, is one of the topics of the street. It held the market at its present level, just at a time when it was expected to go higher. The fact that prices in Los Angeles are lower than those in San Francisco, prevents a large quantity of eggs from up Coast from being shipped here.

Butter was firm and unchanged in value. There were a number of good eastern extra offerings at 32 cents a pound. Arrivals were reported at 16,000 pounds. The demand on the street was good.

All onions were marked up. Prices are now running from 2.25 to 2.50 per hundred. The credited price is the higher one, but there are a number of dealers who handle the product in large quantities who are selling at the lower price. Nevada brown onions are the only variety bringing a flat 2.50.

Flour prices, which have been on the verge of another advance, are again back to normal feeling. The rains have been interfering with immediate delivery, but all of the local mills are well supplied and do not rely on present arrivals. Wheat has been going up in Oregon and the Chicago markets, until the present rains in the southern wheat countries which assures early planting. Barley and corn holdings, which have been heavy on the opportunity for still higher figures there have been prevailing, are beginning to loosen and, as a result, the market is not as firm as at this time last week.

GENERAL EASTERN.

BEARS' DAY IN WHEAT MARKET.

CLOSE TRIFLE OVER LOWEST POINT OF DAY.

Moderate Firmness During First Few Minutes of Session Followed by Off Day—Cash Corn Closes Firm and Good General Trade in Oats. Provisions Weaken.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—With the exception of moderate firmness during the first few minutes of the session, the wheat market was bearishly inclined all day. The close was only a trifle over the lowest point, with May at 1.06½, and July 94¾.

The price of cash corn at the sample table was up ½@¾. The market closed firm, with prices ¼@¾ higher, with May at 63¾@63⅝, and July at 62⅝.

There was a good general trade in oats. Final quotations were unchanged to a shade higher, compared with the previous close, May closing at 51⅜, and July at 46⅝.

Provisions were weakened by liberal realizing sales, final quotations showing net declines of 2½@5, to 45.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 112 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Cotton opened steady 3 to 5 points advance, with trading quite heavy. Just after the opening, there was some local selling but the bull crowd gave the market support and after taking all for sale around 9.50 for May, they bid the market up very quickly. Liverpool sent better cables than was due on our close of yesterday. The estimated receipts were quite heavy, but not any more than last year. The bull crowd here seems confident of higher prices and as long as they continue to support the market, prices will no doubt remain very steady. On any sharp upturn no doubt a lot of this cotton will be for sale, and we would advise sales on sharp rallies.

Hill, at Chicago, says: "As might have been expected the enthusiastic seller of cotton of yesterday found himself rather helpless when he tried to get his cotton back, and from the opening figures this morning to the closing half hour, the market showed point by point upward until 13 points were added to the closing figures of yesterday. The only item of moment for the day was the modification of the census figures to read 12,659,000 bales instead of 12,667,000 bales, a correction of 8000 bales having been discovered. News from central, southern and western Texas in regard to the preparation of the soil for the new crop is also, very bullish, as little or no rain has fallen for the last two or three months, and a decided deficiency in moisture leaves the ground too hard to plow, and with less fecundity than usual. Any mishap to the new crop, the preparation for which is now going on, would act as a powerful stimulus to a situation already ripe with technical statistical strength, especially here. We continue to advise the purchase of cotton on all soft spots and believe present prices are so cheap that cotton is an investment."

"It is a market that will be bought only by bulls, when some one wants to sell, if yesterday's market was any criterion. There seems to be plenty of buying power, however, if the right people sell. The weakest thing about the market for some time has been the lack of bears of the sort who were willing to go short in a big way. Some of the floor crowd seemed to think that a prominent broker with a Boston concern was willing to come to the front as a bear leader. A prominent southern mill man said on the floor yesterday, 'I could get orders, all I want, but I am not going to tie up my machinery at these prices because they are going higher.' The Port receipts were heavy, but there have been heavy commitments made for January movement and there should be a naturally heavy movement this week."

The Journal of Commerce, says: "The market has lacked aggressiveness on the bear side, while it has made a 60-point advance, and it has too many trailers on the long side. Yesterday it gave itself a big shake and it was a shake. The fact that the end of the month movement made Port receipts rather large, as compared with last week, was used as a bear sentiment. Commission houses were anxious to clean up their books and the big bulls seemed willing to see their followers leave the market. But as a matter of fact it took some aggressive short selling by strong interests to hold the market down yesterday and this action created short interest which promises to become a much watched feature of the market. There is a feeling that a slow market may continue for a time."

COTTON OPINIONS.

J. S. Bache & Co., say: "We still feel that cotton will go considerably higher before the planting season and believe in buying on any good recession."

Carpenter, Baggott & Co., say: "The accumulation of an unprotected speculative long interest may cause a set back in the market from time to time and there may be some further depression in prices now, but higher values seem to us assured for the near future."

Dick Bros., say: "We continue to believe that the market will work lower for some time but eventually sell very much higher. Some spot people report that Fall River mills are by no means urgent buyers of new cotton. Mills appear to have considerable supplies on hand, and while they are replenishing it as the trade demands, they show no disposition to accumulate further stock."

FIRES BURNING.

WILL OPPOSE RECALL SET.

Business Men Start Strong Organization.

Gates or Lindley Will not Join Recallites.

Deacon Edwards Says Kern Will Make Good.

If the petition for the recall of Mayor Harper is ever filed, which seems unlikely because of the widespread hostility to the recall movement, it will not contain the name of Lee C. Gates, non-partisan candidate against the Mayor in the last election, nor that of Dr. Walter Lindley, the Republican candidate, both are opposed to the recall movement and will not join in the effort to employ the alien feature of the charter simply because there is a difference of opinion as to whom the Mayor should have appointed to office.

And, while the promoters of the petition are employing scores to circulate signature blanks, business men of Spring, Broadway and Main streets are starting a "Business Men's Organization" which is to meet tomorrow to form preliminary organization and begin active work in defending the Mayor and the city from the slanders of the recall agitators.

These were developments in the recall situation yesterday.

Lee C. Gates was looked to by the recall set as a possible candidate against the Mayor, but he declined to be a candidate or to have anything to do with the recall movement. Mr. Gates affirmed this last night: "I am out of it," said Mr. Gates to The Times. Mr. Gates's friends say he does not believe the recall movement proper and thinks the will of the people was fully expressed at the last election.

Dr. Lindley does not believe the recall a safe or useful feature of our form of government. He is unreservedly against the movement.

The recall set has been hard put to fix upon a candidate because there are internal jealousies and there is a division as to candidates. James A. Anderson and A. J. Wallace have been spoken of mostly, but yesterday the recallers looked into the suggestion that "Judge" C. F. McNutt be taken up because of his talk to the City Club last Saturday. There seems to be little doubt that Wallace would take the nemination if the recallers could agree on him.

The Business Men's Organization begun with prominent business men who believe the recall movement is a positive detriment to the city and an unfair device to visit vengeance on the Mayor because he disagreed with a coterie of self-seekers. Bringing the nucleus to a working basis they found that their sentiment was shared by most of the business men of the city and that it would only require organization to bring a strong influence behind the Mayor and the good name of the city.

Accordingly a number of them got together yesterday and selected for it the name of "Business Men's Organization." This is the scope and purpose as embodied in the heading for the membership lists which will be put in circulation after the meeting tomorrow as follows:

"We, the undersigned, believing that the present movement under way to recall the Mayor of the city of Los Angeles is not for the best interest of the city and believing that the recall if put into effect will be of great injury to the city, therefore, protest against such recall and pledge ourselves to use our influence against it. We, therefore, by the signing of this document agree to become members of the Business Men's Organization which shall use its efforts and influence against the above recall and against any candidate that may at this time be a candidate for Mayor of Los Angeles against A. C. Harper, the present Mayor."

"This organization is to finance itself and there will be no difficulty in doing this. Further announcement of the organization and its first meeting will be made today. Many well-known men have assured their hearty cooperation and assistance and they represent all parties and affiliations.

EDWARDS COMMENDS KERN.

That Edward Kern, whose appointment to the Board of Public Works as successor of D. K. Edwards, raised all this rumpus, will make a good official, is the belief of Mr. Edwards himself, who served the city with marked efficiency and fidelity and is an excellent judge of men. He has frequently and positively stated this and did so at the meeting at Symphony Hall when the recall set counted a majority for its scheme.

"Mr. Kern took office well prepared by reason of his service in the Council," said Mr. Edwards last night, "and in my contact with him since he succeeded me I have been favorably impressed with his capability. I have found him to be a man of much ability and I believe in him. I think believing in a man is always a help to him and it is my judgment that Mr. Kern brings to the office qualities that will permit him to be a useful city official."

A STRAW.

A poll was taken of sixty-five physicians in Los Angeles yesterday and only five favored the recall.

RECALL PETITIONS.

The recall petitions of the Municipal League were put in circulation yesterday from the recall headquarters in the Equitable building. During the day forty men were sent out, about half the number being hired. The pay ranges from $2 to $3.50 daily, according to the "merit" of the canvasser. The headquarters admits that it is going to be slow work getting the required 10,000 names, but declares there will be no interruption until the required number is obtained. Many who were approached yesterday sent the canvassers out of their business places because they do not believe the occasion requires the recall.

Canvassers were working overtime, because it was rumored that the grand jury, which is expected to deal fairly by Mayor Harper when it makes its report, had adjourned until Friday and the recall set wants to get all the signatures possible before the report is made.

PLENTY OF CANDIDATES.

Assistant District Attorney, Ex-Judge, Justices and Lawyers Looking Toward Superior Bench.

It will not be necessary to resort to the draft to secure three new judges in case the pending McCartney bill passes the Legislature.

The following-named are among the candidates for appointment by the Governor: C. C. McComas, who has been prosecutor in this county for eighteen years, and is now assistant district attorney; Dana R. Weller, who was a leading candidate before the last county convention; Justice H. J. Pierce, Justice J. W. Summerfield, Police Judges Rose and Frederickson, W. H. Jamison, who was appointed by the Governor to take Judge Smith's place, and who was defeated in the county convention; R. A. Ling, an attorney; Attorney Judson M. Davis, who is a friend of Senator McCartney; C. C. Bowen, H. H. Klamroth, a Pasadena police judge; Leon Moss, who directed the last campaign; E. I. McCormick, at present deputy United States district attorney; George R. Davis, formerly a Supreme Court judge of Arizona; Edwin Hahn of Pasadena.

C. C. McComas,

VEGETARIANS ARE IN LUCK.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN BEEF'S PRICE IN EFFECT.

Yet Los Angeles Pays Less for It Than Any Other City of Size in the United States—Never Be Cheap Again, Nor Will Mutton, Say the Experts.

With the general advance in the price of beef of ½ cent per pound, which went into effect yesterday, Los Angeles housewives are paying more for it than ever before in the history of the city.

And this is not the end. According to well-informed packers, another ½-cent advance is due within a month.

With beef at 8 cents wholesale, which was the case up to yesterday, Los Angeles was paying less than any city of its size in the United States, and even at the increased price this is still true.

The advance is not confined to beef. Mutton has jumped 3 cents a pound during the last month, and so down the entire list of meats.

Packers say that this is not the result of any local condition, but is caused by the general shortage of meat throughout the United States, due to the tremendous demand that has grown up in Europe for the American product. The only hope lies in irrigating the vast semi-arid areas of the Southwest, to produce feed for cattle.

John F. Nelson, chief meat inspector of the city, said yesterday that if it were not for the Imperial Valley cattle, Los Angeles would be in the clutches of a meat famine.

"Up to four years ago," he added, "the eastern packers secured their cattle in the Middle West and Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Texas and California were left for the western cities to draw from. With the demand for beef abroad, the buyers for the big packers began to invade this territory, and instead of the beef coming to Los Angeles, it went east. Los Angeles relied upon Phoenix for the beef it needed outside of what was raised in California. Now that source of supply is lost.

"Los Angeles people eat 1,000,000 pounds of meat each week, and it takes a great herd of cattle to supply this demand. In my opinion, meat will never be any lower except for a very short time, which may be brought about strictly by local conditions. The only reduction in beef that will ever come will be when all of the present Federal irrigation projects are completed, and about as many more constructed throughout the West and the arid lands turned into either pasture or crop lands.

"I believe that mutton will never be lower in price than it is today, for the reason that almost all sheep ranges are passing away and the government cannot afford to permit the grazing of sheep in the forest reserves, as they destroy the young trees and shoots.

"I understand from good authority that the Federal government has taken up the matter of interesting Russia in the development of cattle ranges in portions of its great undeveloped country. This is being done for the protection of the United States consumer of meat. If the demand from abroad could be curtailed, the price in the United States would drop to a normal figure.

"The people of this city," continued the inspector, "have the benefit of the most thorough and painstaking system of meat inspection in the United States. Every animal killed for food in or adjacent to Los Angeles must be inspected, either at the time of slaughter or immediately afterward. The only meat not inspected locally is that shipped here under the seal of the Federal government, and this is a very small quantity. Over 10,000 slaughterhouses, refrigerating cars, poultry markets, butcher shops, etc., were inspected last year, and more than sixty-two tons of meat were condemned and destroyed."
